SENATE CLEARS LOUDERBACK ON ALL 5 CHARGES

Votes Shifted on Various Counts; Judge Soon to Resume Bench.

(Associated Press.)

Nine days of trial before the Senate brought complete vindication yesterday to Federal Judge Harold Louderback on five charges by the House of Representatives that he had irregularly handled receivership cases in his court.

On only one of the five charges—the last—was the vote of the majority of the Senate cast for conviction. On this charge, 45 voted guilty. A two-thirds majority was required to convict him.

Six Republicans, 38 Democrats and Henrik Shipstead, Minnesota Farmer-Labor member, voted on that ballot to sustain the House charge, while 22 Republicans and 12 Democrats voted for acquittal.

All the charges involved the appointment of receivers and attorneys for them and the fees allowed by the judge.

Vote on First Charge.

The first charge accused Louderback of "tyranny, oppression, favoritism, and conspiracy" in appointing H. B. Hunter as receiver for the Russell-Colvin Brokerage Co., of San Francisco, and J. D. Short as his attorney after removing Addison G. Strong as receiver. The vote on this count was 42 not guilty and 34 guilty.

Next came a vote on whether he was guilty of improper conduct and "unlawful conduct as a judge, filled with partiality and favoritism" in the appointment of and granting of fees to Marshall Woodworth as attorney for Samuel Shortridge, jr., as receiver for the Lumbermen's Reciprocal Association. The ballot showed 47 not guilty and 28 guilty.

In the third count, the jurist was accused of "misbehavior in office, resulting in expense, disadvantage, annoyance and hinderance to litigants" in appointing G. H. Gilbert as receiver for the Pageol Motor Co. "knowing said Gilbert was incompetent, unqualified and inexperienced." The vote was 63 not guilty and 11 guilty.

Thompson Named To Howell's Seat

Lincoln, Nebr., May 24 (A.P.).—W. H. Thompson, the "little giant" of Nebraska Democratic politics, today prepared to take a United States Senate seat he sought but failed to win more than a quarter century ago.

Dubbed the "little giant" for his oratory in a three-cornered congressional race in 1890, the Grand Island attorney, who is about 5 feet 4 inches tall, has been a close friend of the Bryans, both the late Commoner and Gov. Charles W. Bryan.

The governor today appointed Mr. Thompson, 70 years old, to finish the late Senator R. B. Howell's term.

Los Angeles Daily News Manager Shot to Death

Los Angeles, May 24 (U.P.).—E. G. Patterson, business manager of the Los Angeles Illustrated Daily News, was shot dead and Frank McGuire, stockroom manager, was wounded severely today by a janitor, Edwin Davis.

Davis, apparently mentally deranged, escaped through the streets after the shooting but was captured within a few minutes. Patterson was killed instantly by a bullet through the heart.

Bear Facts

Prank Proves Cub Unconstitutional and Code Dallying Is Vain.

Aberdeen, Wash., May 24 (A.P.).—Commodore Scrappy is only a cub bear, but he rated 1,200 words in code and today was right back where he started.

The Naval Reserve here wanted to present the bear to the frigate Constitution. Permission to accept was asked of the White House. The White House referred the matter to the Navy Department, which queried Commander Louis J. Gulliver as to his views.

These were duly outlined in another code message.

Then came a wire from the White House saying that it has matters of considerable importance pending and would prefer not to be bothered about cub bears.

So today Commodore Scrappy was presented to the frigate anyway and Commander Gulliver logged him as a full-fledged sailor. Just as the bear bolted for Old Ironsides' mizzen royal yard, however, the skipper gave him back to the Naval Reserve.

The cub squalled, but a pound of sugar from the galley of the gunboat Newport cut short his demonstration.

G. O. P. SEEKS VOTE ON SALES TAX PLAN

House Leaders Decide to Fight for It to Finance Recovery Measure.

(Associated Press.)

Republican leaders last night decided to force the manufacturers' sales tax to a vote in the House tomorrow on the administration's public works-industrial control bill.

At conferences with Representative Snell, of New York, the Republican leader, the steering committee selected Representative Bacharach (Republican), New Jersey, to make a motion to send the measure back to the Ways and Means Committee with instructions that a sales levy be inserted to finance the $3,900,000,000 bond issue.

This is the only way under the rule by which the measure will be considered that a vote may be had on the sales tax, previously rejected by the Ways and Means Committee.

Meanwhile, it was said that before President Roosevelt asked for the legislation, he had planned to suggest the levy of a small sales tax to raise $220,000,000 to cover interest and amortization requirements of the bond issue.

Upon the advice of Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, and Chairman Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee, opponents of the sales tax, who said it could not pass the House, the President left it to the Ways and Means Committee to decide the form of tax-

Colombian War Plane Crashes; 3 Fliers Killed

Bogota, Colombia, May 24 (A.P.).—A military plane flying in the Ecuadorian hinterland crashed into a giant jungle tree today, and its three occupants were killed.

The dead: Lieut. Herbert Ogil and Capt. Henny Kenn, both Germans, and their mechanic.

Water Scarce at Fire; Skim Milk Saves Home

Fort Collins, Colo., May 24 (A.P.).—Water was scarce on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Campeau, so they poured skimmed milk on flames which threatened their home. The fluid extinguished the blaze and each of the Campeau bosses received an extra forkful of hay at feed time.

Boycott of Chinese Marked by Rioting

Juarez, Mexico, May 24 (A.P.).—Riots accompanied a Chinese boycott which went into effect throughout the State of Chihuahua today. American officials said the boycott may cause an exodus of Chinese to the United States. They fear that Chinese will be driven across the border at Juarez as they were several months ago in Sonora.

America spent about $250,000 sending the Chinese to China when the Mexican government refused to allow them to return to Sonora.

Pickets placed in front of a Chinese store by the National Defense League beat Jose Santascoy, a Mexican, when he insisted on entering the store.

SIROVICH ASKS FAIRNESS FOR U. S. WORKERS

House Bill Would Block Injustices; Proposes Liaison Head.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Moving to bolster morale in the Federal service by impartial settlement of differences between employes and their chiefs, particularly grievances arising out of the imminent reorganization program, Representative William I. Sirovich (Democrat), New York, yesterday introduced a resolution authorizing immediate appointment of a Federal liaison officer.

At the same time, the New York representative, who is ranking Democratic member of the House Civil Service Committee, announced he will go to President Roosevelt if necessary to seek support for the measure. He will confer today with Chairman Lamar Jeffers, of the House Civil Service Committee, with a view to an early hearing.

"Hundreds of thousands of Federal workers are subject to every whim of their superior officers, without hope of redress when injustice is done them," Representative Sirovich said.

Morale Is At Low Ebb.

"Many undoubtedly will lose their jobs under reorganization plans. Unless something is done to protect the interest of the more efficient, the ablest employes will be among those who are released. They are now inarticulate and should have a spokesman."

Representative Sirovich said he has received complaints over a period of years of unjust treatment in individual cases. He feels a liaison officer, operating independently of the executive departments, and with power to investigate and adjust difficulties of employes or even of departments, would be of untold value, especially at the present time, when morale is at a low ebb.

The liaison officer could bring matters to the attention of individual members of Congress or the entire membership of House and Senate, should the situation warrant.

Immediate Action Sought.

Terrorism Truce In Cuba Proposed

Havana, May 24 (A.P.).—Believing United States Ambassador Summer Welles soon will move to end political turmoil in Cuba, representatives of the various factions of President Machado's opposition met tonight to discuss refraining temporarily from acts of violence.

A "truce on terrorism" was proposed, it was reported by the Nationalistas and Marianistas—members of the Nationalist union and adherents of Miguel Mariano Gomes, respectively. The "action groups," including the A. B. C. secret society, were described as favorable.

Welles called on Secretary of State Orestes Ferrara today and was with him more than an hour. Ten minutes after Welles arrived at Ferrara's residence the palace telephoned censors stationed in all newspapers and ordered that nothing concerning the interview be published.

Two Sons of Hemingway Safe After Auto Plunge

Havana, May 24 (A.P.).—Mrs. O. Grant Mason, jr., of Havana and New York, her 3-year-old son, Tony, and John and Patrick Hemingway, sons of Ernest Hemingway, the author, escaped injury at El Cano today as their automobile plunged over a 40-foot embankment, rolling over three times before it came to a stop upside down.

Forced to the edge of the highway by a passing bus, Mrs. Mason drove on the shoulder of the road, which had been softened by rain, and the car plunged off. Before her marriage Mrs. Mason was Miss Jane Kendall, prominent in Washington and New York society.

3 DEAD AS GALE HITS PHILADELPHIA AREA

Several More Hurt as Wind Rips Through City, Demoralizing Traffic.

Philadelphia, May 24 (A.P.).—Riding a 70-mile gale out of the northwest, the worst electrical storm in years hit the Philadelphia area late today, caused three deaths, seriously injured several other persons and demoralized the entire city.

Lightning hit so many places there were not enough firemen to answer all the calls.

Traffic over the city was brought to a standstill, and the city's electrical system for six minutes failed to function completely.

Day was turned into night and hailstones crashed in thousands of windows in all sections.

The lightning hit Shibe Park, home playing field of the Athletics, and set fire to a stand. The fire was quickly extinguished.

Those killed were Mrs. Caroline V. Gross, 54, who was struck by lightning in her home; Mrs. Estelle Kerney, 25, of Camden, who doctors said was frightened to death, and an unidentified man who was crushed in the collapse of a music pavilion in Fairmount Park.

Lightning struck the tower of the north side of the city hall courtyard, knocking off a huge piece of masonry.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the year. The thermometer reached 91 at 3 p. m., but was sent downward by the light afternoon rain so that it was at 81 degrees at 4 p. m.

The Weather Bureau forecaster said last night's rain would bring temporary cessation of the high temperatures. The previous high was 90 degrees, recorded last Saturday.

WALLER IS OFFICIAL IN 'HAMILTON' BANK

Proposed Consolidation of 6 Houses Seen as Boost to Employment.

The campaign for selling $1,250,000 worth of new stock to create "Hamilton National Bank of Washington" and make available 50 per cent of deposits of six banks now committed to the plan, nearly $10,000,000, is progressing finely, Edwin C. Graham, selected president of the prospective institution, said yesterday, following a meeting of the subscription committee.

Mr. Graham did not make public the total of subscriptions to date, explaining that all stockholders and depositors of banks concerned had not received their subscription blanks and prospecti until Tuesday and that definite figures are not yet available.

The campaign will mean work, he emphasized, and the institutions concerned must realize their individual responsibilities. He urged the cooperation of depositors and stockholders to the fullest possible extent.

The organization committee of the proposed new bank has begun work on its operating set-up. Mr. Graham

Gandhi Too Weak To Move in Bed

Poona, India, May 24 (A.P.).—Devidas Gandhi, son of the mahatma, in a cable to his brother in South Africa, said today that their father was unable to sit up by himself or even to turn in bed.

The vitality of Gandhi, who began a fast in protest against the status of India's "untouchables" on May 8, was said by his son to be slowly ebbing away.

It is believed here, however, that since less than five days of the fast period remain, the mahatma will survive the ordeal.

Cadet Is Found Wandering On West Point Reservation

John S. Conner Suffering From Exposure, But Is Otherwise Well After 3 Sleepless and Foodless Days; Suicide Threat Is Revealed.

West Point, N. Y., May 24 (U.P.).—Cadet John S. Conner, missing from the United States Military Academy since reveille Monday, was found wandering on the academy reservation late today, suffering slightly from exposure but otherwise in good health.

The 23-year-old cadet, who was due to receive his diploma next month, was taken to the cadet hospital. No effort was made immediately to learn why he had gone absent without leave.

Sergt. Jesse Roberts, veteran of the service detachment, found Conner wandering in a remote section of the reservation near the Hudson River. The youth had spent three days in the open with no food, little water and no sleep. He was deeply tanned, having been without a hat.

Sergt. Roberts said that when he saw the youth he approached him and asked if he were searching for the missing cadet. When Conner did not answer Roberts recognized him and persuaded him to walk back to the academy.

During their walk, the sergeant said, Conner told him he had eaten nothing but a piece of cake since Sunday night. He found the cake, he said, near a children's playground on the reservation.

The cadet wore flannel trousers, a black sweater and tennis shoes. The clothing was in bad condition. He said that he had been in the woods north of the reservation since Sunday night and that he had hidden from searching parties which were sent into that district.

Conner's parents, in Medford, Oreg., were notified that he had been found and was in good health.

The youth left a note when he disappeared, and State police said it contained a suicide threat. It was admitted at the academy that Conner said, in his note, that he had been studying too hard recently.

Roosevelt Will Seek Truce in Asiatic War

Conversations With Viscount Ishii May Pave Way to Cessation of Hostilities, at Least During Geneva Disarmament Parleys.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

Out of the conversations here between the Japanese delegation of Viscount Ishii and President Roosevelt may come a substantial measure of agreement for a Sino-Japanese truce at least for the period of the Geneva Disarmament Conference, it was authoritatively learned here last night. Efforts in that direction will be made here.

Plans were being made at a late hour last night to bring the President and the former Japanese Ambassador together for a talk some time this afternoon. This morning the numerous Japanese experts and the American technicians will meet at the Department of State for a discussion of the broad outlines of the economic and commercial phases of the London meeting. The talk between the President and the Japanese chief delegate will deal with more political subjects.

It was pointed out last night that the President is probably in the best situation to bring about a temporary lull in the Manchurian adventure of Japan. The Chinese delegation, headed by Finance Minister T. V. Soong, has just left for London after outlining to the President the conditions upon which a putative truce could be arranged. Naturally, no formal promises were either asked or made. The entire talks revolved in a spirit of informality that had nothing of the official character to them.

At yesterday's luncheon in honor of the Japanese delegation, President Roosevelt made one of the most agreeable addresses in his recent White House functions. He recalled the role played by a little Japanese schoolboy who had been rescued by his own great-grandfather, Capt. Warren Delano, pioneer in the famed Indian commerce of the last century. After the rescue, the President's ancestor brought the little Japanese boy to be educated in his own home. Years later the boy returned to Japan, and when Commodore Perry made entry into Japanese ports this same youthful Japanese acted as his interpreter.

The address touched the Japanese delegation deeply. Viscount Ishii in replying to the President's toast made a graceful reference to the traditional friendship of the two peoples.

The substantial obstacle to the success of the Geneva conference will be the factual state of war existing in the Far East between China and Japan. Already the tension in Latin

M'REYNOLDS NAMED DELEGATE IN LONDON

Senator Johnson Declines Post at Economic Conference in June.

(Associated Press.)

President Roosevelt yesterday named Representative Sam D. McReynolds, of Tennessee, to the London Economic Conference delegation and received from Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California, a declination to serve on that body.

Johnson's declination to serve on the American delegation to the London parley did not come altogether as a surprise. As he left the White House after making his views known to the President, the Californian said he appreciated the honor, but that it was "an absolute impossibility" for him to go.

Reports have been current that Mr. Roosevelt was finding some difficulty in filling out his delegation because of the decision to limit the daily allowances of Representatives to $6, far less than it would cost them to live in London.

During the day there was a swirl of international activities in the

Two Luray Boys Drown at Picnic

Luray, Va., May 24 (A.P.).—Two 14-year-old schoolboys, on a picnic with their seventh grade class, were drowned in a lake at Bracketts, 18 miles west of here, today.

The boys, Francis Trainham, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Trainham, of Meltons, and Billy Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lynch, of Louisa, preceded the rest of the party to the lake and were the first to go into the water. They are believed to have suffered attacks of cramps.

Lynch's body was recovered almost immediately, but amateur divers had been unable to locate that of Trainham several hours later, though they were continuing their efforts.

Hospital Inmate Nips Means Story

With the arguments over motions for a new trial for Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker scheduled to be heard before Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue in the District Supreme Court Friday, United States Attorney Leo A. Rover yesterday revealed that a patient in the criminal insane ward at St. Elizabeths Hospital had given information to him tending to show just how Means obtained some portions of the lurid story he related from the witness stand.

The patient, Albert H. Fenton, was with Means in the Atlanta Penitentiary, and also was, by chance, placed close to Means when the latter was first incarcerated in the District Jail.

He said that the "Irving Fenton" named by Means in his wandering account of the ransom hoax plot by which he and Whitaker expected to obtain $35,000 from Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean was in fact "Albert H. Fenton." Fenton intimated that Means founded a portion of his story on him because they were friendly while in jail. He denied, and the record corroborated him, that he had ever been connected with Means in any scheme to secure the return of the Lindbergh baby.

Mrs. Norton Recovering From Ptomaine Poison

Recovering from a severe attack of ptomaine poison, Representative Mary T. Norton (Democrat), New Jersey, chairman of the House District Committee, yesterday was convalescing at the home of her sister in Pelham Manor, N. Y.

Mrs. Norton suffered the attack following a luncheon at which she was guest of honor. It was said at her office in the House Office Building yesterday that she is now out of danger.

Friends Were Allowed to Buy Allegheny at Low Price.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

William H. Woodin, Secretary of the Treasury, was among those identified before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee yesterday as favored investment clients of J. P. Morgan & Co. early in 1929, when the Alleghany Corporation, giant holding company for the Van Sweringen railroad empire, was floated under Morgan sponsorship.

Along with a score or more of others who were then, or have since become powerful in the affairs of the Nation, Mr. Woodin was invited to buy the new Alleghany common stock at $20 per share, the price at which the Morgan firm had purchased it. These private offerings were made early in February, 1929, approximately at the time the stock was being bid in on the public markets at $35 to $37 per share.

Roberts and McAdoo.

After identifying the list of ground-floor buyers in the Alleghany stock flotation, George Whitney, one of the Morgan partners, was examined in detail concerning the whole series or transactions which culminated in launching the great Van Sweringen venture as one of the most ambitious undertakings in American railroad history.

In this examination it was brought out that on the public markets this common stock now is fluctuating between $1 and $2 per share. Its 1929 peak was about $50 a share.

Owen J. Roberts, who 18 months later was appointed a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, subscribed to 100 shares at the beginning price. There was no development of the history of this transaction. The documents showed the purchase to have been made through Drexel & Co., the Philadelphia branch of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Roberts' home is in Philadelphia.

Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, of California, former Secretary of the Treasury, 1924 Democratic presidential aspirant, and now a member of the Senate committee conducting the Morgan investigation, was listed for 500 shares of the new issue.

NAVY DEPARTMENT SCRAPS PRATT PLAN

Rotating Reserve System Fails to Save Enough to Be Held Practical.

(Associated Press.)

The rotating reserve plan by which Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, hoped to save a large sum through keeping one-third of the fleet in reserve has been abandoned by the Navy Department because a study shows that savings would be only $5,500,000.

Secretary Swanson said yesterday that only the destroyers and submarines now on a rotating reserve plan would be laid up at any time. The plan announced in an order issued May 15 and effective July 1 would have kept one-third of the battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers in port six months at a time. Under the new plan the fleet arrangement will be unchanged.

The Navy Secretary said that all reports of reorganizations or estimates of details of naval economies would be completed before Congress adjourns, but that the Navy Economy Board had not yet completed its work.

He said that any information as to details would come from the White House, adding that he thought all reorganization plans for the Government should be covered in one proclamation.

The Secretary said that the list of officers who may be retired or assigned to some other duties would be ready shortly.

"I think change is not reform," he said. "The old forms are better unless we can do two things—increase efficiency and decrease costs. Every change will be subject to these two rules. I believe old methods are better than new ones unless you can do these two things. If you decrease costs and increase efficiency, consolidation ought to be made."

The Secretary said that any new ships that might be provided for the public works program would take care of a number of officers. He added that he felt, however, that if officers are inefficient and discontented they should not be kept in the Navy, especially if it is evident from their past record that they will never be promoted.

St. Louis, May 24 (A.P.).—Two brothers found themselves in unexpected control of a $100,000 business today. They celebrated by going to work as usual, as they have done for more than 25 years.

The brothers, Louis F. Horn, vice president and treasurer of the Union Cooperage Co., and William E. Horn, secretary of the company, acquired control through the will of Mrs. Julius F. Vogt, widow of the founder, leaving them 500 shares of stock, estimated to be worth $63,500.

Mrs. Vogt, who died Thursday at the age of 85, had acted as president since the death of her husband 11 years ago. "We were completely 'knocked out' when that will was opened," said Louis Horn, who is secretary of the Associated Cooperage Industries of America. "It is unusual for an employer to show such appreciation."

G. O. P. SEEKS VOTE ON SALES TAX PLAN

ation. He stipulated, however, that if a revenue program was not decided upon by the committee soon, he would suggest one of his own.

The committee on Monday, however, decided to increase income and gasoline taxes and make domestic corporate dividends subject to the new high income levies.

Bacharach said that opposition to the sales levy was not as great in the House now as it was a year ago, when it was defeated by a coalition of insurgent Democrats and Republican liberals.

The House will meet at 11 o'clock today to begin debate on the measure, and Byrns plans to force a vote tomorrow.

Afterward a drastic revision of the income tax laws to prevent evasions of payments is contemplated by the Ways and Means Committee.

Plans for Law Changes.

Announcement of plans to have the committee consider emergency income tax legislation affecting the capital gains and losses provisions was made by Chairman Doughton after disclosures before the Senate Banking Committee that no income tax payments had been made in the last two years by J. P. Morgan and his partners in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co.

In announcing his plan to "plug up holes" in the income tax, Doughton said he favored "going into the matter as soon as the House passes the public works-industrial control bill."

"I want to study the testimony of Mr. Morgan before the Senate Banking Committee before taking definite steps," said Doughton.

"We want to make a complete overhaul of our Federal taxation next January, but I think we ought to stop up a few important holes now, before this session adjourns," he said. "Individually, I feel that we ought to find out how it is that men of great wealth and doing big business can get out of contributing to the upkeep of the Government."

Predicts "More Scandals."

On the House floor, Representative Patman (Democrat), Texas, who often has assailed the house of Morgan, said "further scandals will be uncovered in this money trust investigation."

"Do you think," Patman asked, "Morgan would have made the kind of income tax returns he did if he had known they would be made public? You don't have to publish them; just make them open to public inspection."

At the White House it was disclosed that the administration favors the extension for another year of the import taxes on petroleum, copper, lumber and coal, as provided in the revenue section of the industrial bill.

President Roosevelt believes this is necessary to assure revenue from this source until June 30, 1935. He views the new income and gasoline levies as temporary and is understood to intend setting them aside upon repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

House Member Criticizes U. S. Feeding Bonus Men

Kvale Also Charges "Return Home" Tickets to Seattle and Alaska Were Bought for Veterans Living Near Washington.

(Associated Press.)

The Roosevelt administration was assailed in the House yesterday for using public money for the feeding of the Bonus army and buying transportation home for the former service men.

Stating that he was curious about how the administration obtained the money for the bonus army to hold a convention here, Representative Kvale (Farmer-Labor), Minnesota, asked the Democrats by what authority the administration had to expend public money to feed the men.

Kvale said the administration had bought railroad tickets for departing marchers to Seattle and Alaska, when they came from nearby towns.

"What right did the administration have to pay $300 a day for a hall for the bonus marchers' convention here?"

Representative Fish (Republican), New York, asked, "By what authority did it expend Federal money for that purpose? Congress has given no such authority."

"The administration had taken care of those veterans on its doorsteps, but its Veterans' Administration is cutting off disabled veterans from compensation," Kvale said. "It is letting the destitute veterans, who can't get here, go hungry."

Representative Taber (Republican), New York, said "the Federal Government has no more right to spend money for a convention of bonus marchers here than it has for the D. A. R., or any other organization that comes here to demand legislation of Congress."

Representative Snell, of New York, the Republican leader, demanded: "By what right has a department head to spend money for one purpose when it was appropriated for another. I understand that Army appropriations were used to feed the bonus marchers. I am going to find out."

40 MAYORS TO SEEK CONGRESSIONAL AID

Conference Irked by Cool Reception by President of City Relief Plan.

(Associated Press.)

More than 40 mayors of large cities voted late last night to present to congressional leaders a description, couched in bristling terms, of the plight of American municipalities.

Discouraged and angry at what they called a cool reception by President Roosevelt of their proposal for relief of financially distressed cities, the delegates to the conference of mayors instructed their executive committee to prepare a strongly worded resolution for presentation to administration and congressional chieftains today.

Earlier in the day the mayors adopted a resolution indorsing a pending bill to expand the bankruptcy act to insolvent cities, and recommending legislation authorizing the Federal Reserve Bank or the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans to municipalities upon tax anticipation warrants.

Specifically, the mayors seek to borrow from the National Treasury at a low interest rate up to 75 per cent on tax anticipation warrants for 1933 and up to 50 per cent on tax delinquencies up to 1932, the loans to be repaid in two years.

Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston, president of the conference, and other executives expressed belief that unless such assistance was forthcoming the cities could no longer function.

A second resolution offered by Mayor Ray Miller, of Cleveland, adopted by a one-vote margin, favored Federal loans to States and cities, for financing projects under President Roosevelt's public works program.

"Otherwise," Miller said, "the cities of Ohio will be unable to participate in President Roosevelt's public works program to relieve unemployment and restore prosperity."

Hawaiian Senate Raps Newspaper

Honolulu, May 24 (A.P.).—The Hawaiian Senate adopted a concurrent resolution today censoring the Honolulu Star-Telegram for its editorial yesterday headed "Roosevelt, the Wrecker." The resolution then was sent to the House.

Criticizing President Roosevelt for asking Congress to suspend the organic act of the Territory to permit him to name a nonresident of Hawaii as governor, the newspaper, published by Wallace R. Farrington, Republican former governor, said, in part:

"One of two things may be accepted. Either President Roosevelt has been grievously misled by the unseemly factional row in the Hawaii branch of the Democratic party, or the favorite picture of President Roosevelt as the leader of liberal, progressive Americanism is a political trick and hollow sham. Let us hope the latter is not true."

Recall of Guards From Strike Near

Manchester, N. H., May 24 (A.P.).—Gov. John G. Winant today agreed to withdraw National Guardsmen on duty in the textile strike area here tomorrow night if order has been restored entirely at that time.

The guardsmen were dispatched at the request of Mayor Damase Caron. Outbreaks of violence in a strike of 7,800 employes of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. textile mills led to Mayor Caron's request. There also are 3,000 shoe workers on strike here.

Quiet prevailed today in the streets of the mill section in contrast with last night when crowds of jeering and angry strikers fought police and National Guardsmen.

Forest Army Recruiting May End in 14 Days

The entire reforestation army of 274,000 men is expected to be enrolled in the next fourteen days, it was announced yesterday at the headquarters of the Civilian Conservation Corps. There are now 110,000 men enrolled, of whom $24,000 are actually in work camps.

The Labor Department, which is selecting the men, is now sending them to Army conditioning camps at the rate of 10,000 daily. The Army is sending them to forest work camps at the daily rate of 5,000.

Shoes Worth $190 Stolen.

Shoes and shoe materials valued at $190 were reported stolen from the store of Sam Gritz, 1337 Seventh street northwest, by burglars Tuesday night. They removed the bars from a rear window.

Clothing Taken From Auto.

A suitcase containing clothing and personal effects valued at $40 was stolen from the car of John Zimmerman, of Fredericksburg, Va., yesterday while the machine was parked in Pennsylvania avenue between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets northwest.

CLYDE MILLS AGAIN UNION PRINTER HEAD

Many Officers Are Reelected at Annual Election of Columbia Local.

Clyde M. Mills, of the Evening Star, was reelected president of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, at annual elections held last night in the Union headquarters, 423 G street northwest.

Other officers reelected included Frank D. Seiffert, of Stockett-Flake, vice president; Fred S. Walker, of the Trades Unionist, secretary-treasurer; Arthur Armstrong, Secretary's; Harry A. Carter, Washington Times, and Henry C. McLean, Government Printing Office, auditors.

Todd C. Sharp, of the Government Printing Office, was elected trustee. New members of the executive committee include Charles J. Busalus, George A. Carney, William Field, Stanley R. Gilbert, Harry Irvine and John W. Newcomer.

Newspaper Committee.

The office of alternate delegate to the International Typographical Union, representing other than a daily newspaper, was won by Harrie W. Fleischman, of the National Capital Press. Thomas E. Lawton was unopposed as sergeant-at-arms, as was Ernest J. Elwood for doorkeeper.

Members of the executive committee from newspapers were elected as follows: William A. Edmunds, the Washington Herald; John T. Bradley, the Daily News; Francis S. Benzler, The Washington Post, and Bernard J. Lynch, the Evening Star.

John A. Pike, secretary's, was elected to the executive committee as machinist—linotype, while George F. Smith, the Washington Times, was elected to the same committee as machinist—monotype.

Delegates to I. T. U.

Delegates to the International Typographical Union from the Government Printing Office included Uriel C. Hays and Philip P. McClellan. William L. Larkin, of the Star, was elected delegate from a daily newspaper, and Barney Friedland, of Judd & Detweiler, was elected delegate from the commercial field.

Alternates from the Government Printing Office included Carl W. Miller and Walter E. Warriner. Alternate from a daily newspaper is George O. Snyder, of the News.

Auditors Checking Books in Virginia

Richmond, Va., May 24 (A.P.).—As State auditors began checking the books of H. Stewart Jones, former clerk of the State Supreme Court of Appeals, today, Commonwealth's Attorney Dave Satterfield asked State Comptroller E. R. Combs if he had sufficient facts pertaining to an alleged shortage to warrant prosecution.

The comptroller replied that he would furnish the Commonwealth's attorney with such facts as are in his office and that the full situation would be shown by the audit being made by the State auditor under direction by Gov. Pollard.

A preliminary examination by the comptroller's office showed Mr. Jones was indebted to the State approximately $36,000 on printing.

Court Rules Bonds Not Payable in Gold

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—Supreme Court Justice Phenix Ingraham today ruled that the temporary withdrawal of the United States from the gold standard has voided the use of gold to pay off bonds which provide for gold payments.

The ruling was made on application of the Irving Trust Co. to decide the point as it is about to receive payment from the city of $2,850,000 for gold bonds of the Libby Hotel, which was razed to widen Chrystie street.

"By the President's proclamation," Justice Ingraham said, "all gold coin and gold certificates have been withdrawn from circulation. Upon the surrender of gold coin or gold certificates, the holder has received other currency of equal coin value. At the present time there is but one lawful medium of exchange and this has the same coin value as gold of equal amount.

"I accordingly instruct the trustees to accept current funds and upon payment of the amount due to satisfy the mortgage."

69 Tons of Dust Falls On Dodge City in Storm

Dodge City, Kans., May 24 (A.P.).—The weight of the layer of dust dropped on Dodge City in the Western Kansas windstorm Monday night has been estimated at 69 tons.

W. C. Rohrbaugh, mill chemist, computed it on a basis of the dust deposit left on the floor of the laboratory in which he works.

NEW BONUS MARCH GOAL OF REDS HERE

Meanwhile, 25,000 Billets Being Opened in Forest Camps for Veterans.

World War veterans are on the march again—into the more than 25,000 billets in reforestation camps provided by the administration for veterans—and as they tramp toward the woods plans are being smoked up by two separate committees basing in Washington to solidify former soldiers' political power and probably work up another bonus march this year.

Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, yesterday formally announced the creation of the veteran branch of the civilian conservation corps with 25,000 openings exclusive of the 2,200 men already enrolled at Fort Hunt near here.

Further recruiting in Washington halted yesterday. However, offices of the Veterans Administration in more than two score cities, embracing all sections of the Nation, were notified to begin enrollment of World War veterans in the new forest corps.

The 2,200 at Fort Hunt are to be distributed evenly among Fort Humphreys, Va., Hampton, Va., and Fort Meade, Md. After reconditioning periods at these camps, the veterans will then be distributed among forest areas.

The leaders of the "right wing" of the 1933 bonus army are mostly refraining from joining their comrades in the forests, but are centering their efforts here in Washington toward building up out of the veterans that go into the woods a strong organization.

The committee is headed by Mike Thomas, dynamic leader of the veteran right flank, whose generalship broke up the alleged Communist guidance behind the encampment at Fort Hunt, causing two of the Veterans National Liaison committee to be deposed because of their Communistic affiliations. The Thomas adherents also brought about the nearly 90 per cent swing into the reforestation project despite the exhortations of the liaison committee.

The liaison committee is maintaining its headquarters here at 1410 H street, northwest and is planning to stage another march in July for the anniversary on the twenty-eighth day of that month of the bonus riots last year. Emmanuel Levine and Harold Hickerson, Communist members of the committee, are again said to be active with the left wing group, as is John T. Pace, a prominent left wing leader of 1932.

The American Red Cross yesterday announced that it would take care of transporting home all veterans, their wives and children who were not cared for by the Veterans' Administration transportation move. Last year after the bonus army eviction the national relief organization took similar steps.

Bonus Unit Chief Warns Against Fund Solicitors

Mike Thomas, colorful leader of the right wing of the 1933 bonus army, last night issued a warning to Washingtonians against persons soliciting funds "for the support of the 1933 bonus movement and for the group of veterans for which I have been associated."

"The public is requested to refuse to give funds to any persons for this purpose, as we are not soliciting funds from the public. We are grateful for the hospitality extended to us by our Government through the kindness of President Roosevelt and we wish to cooperate with all loyal citizens who are sincerely interested in solving the veterans' problems. This notice is presented as a protection to the Government."

Among others associated with Thomas in the movement having genesis in the bonus army just past is Maj. Bert Wood, World War ace and soldier of fortune.

McREYNOLDS NAMED DELEGATE IN LONDON

Capital. Official clarification was given on several important matters.

At the State Department, officials said the United States would not sign the "security" section of the British arms reduction plan under discussion at the Geneva conference, but instead would make its position clear in a unilateral declaration.

This will follow the lines of the historic statement on behalf of the United States Monday at Geneva, of willingness to consult other nations if peace is threatened and, if this country agrees as to the aggressor, to refrain from any action which would circumvent collective effort against the offender.

On war debts, the administration is playing a waiting game. The President said at his press conference yesterday that nothing is being done on the subject. Meanwhile, $144,000,000 in payments fall due June 15, three days after the London conference opens.

The tariff resolution which the administration has been pondering for weeks is not yet in final shape. The big question in connection with it is understood to be how much of a "big stick" it should contain in the form of power to raise rates as well as to lower them, depending upon how much of a disposition to cooperate is shown by other nations at London.

The President said he did not think it was necessary for the tariff resolution to be passed before the delegation leaves for London, although he would like to have it enacted before the session ends, provided he definitely decides to send it up at all. Submission of the resolution was described as probable but not absolutely certain.

The President also said definitely that no progress is being made on an agreement on currency stabilization. In the meantime, it was said elsewhere, the subject is being discussed in the various exchanges of views between American officials and those of other nations.

Five countries were represented in these exchanges at the State Department yesterday—Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Hungary, Persia and Egypt. Even the smallest countries are not being neglected in the painstaking preparations by Secretary Hull for quick action on currency stabilization and reduction of trade barriers at London.

Secretary Hull said at his press conference that he felt sentiment in support of the major purposes of the conference is steadily increasing, and that people of the various countries are turning from statesmen who preach economic isolation.

JUDGE HAROLD LOUDERBACK.

LOUDERBACK CLEAR ON ALL 5 CHARGES

a receivership for the Prudential Holding Co. was charged in the fourth count. On this, 47 senators voted not guilty and 30 voted guilty.

The fifth count was a general summarization of the preceding four, involved other receiverships, and charged the jurist with conduct "prejudicial to the dignity of the judiciary" and with causing "fear and distrust of the courts." This vote was 45 guilty and 34 not guilty.

Eighty votes was the highest number cast on any of the five charges, several senators having excused themselves from voting on one or the other of the charges.

Johnson Remains Aloof.

Senator Johnson (Republican), California, long a colleague of former Senator Shortridge, who had obtained Louderback's appointment, did not take part in any of the impeachment proceedings.

Senator McAdoo, Democratic successor to Shortridge, voted for conviction on the first, second, fourth and fifth counts and for acquittal on the third. Other senators likewise switched around.

The senators voted after debating the charges behind closed doors for nearly two hours on the conclusion of arguments by the prosecution and defense counsel.

Without Further Debate.

Returning to open session, they heard the charges read one by one, voting on each as read without further debate, and expressing themselves for "guilty" or "not guilty" instead of the customary "aye" and "no" vote.

After each ballot, Vice President Garner announced the Senate had failed to find "the respondent, Harold Louderback," guilty by the necessary two-thirds, and that he was acquitted on that article of impeachment.

When the last one had been decided, the Vice President announced that the Senate had tried "Harold Louderback on the five several charges of impeachment, and two-thirds of the senators present not having found him guilty," he was "ordered and adjudged" acquitted. Conviction on any one count would have removed him from office.

Several Congratulate Him.

While several senators walked over to congratulate Louderback, who smiled to them, the Senate's session as a court of impeachment was adjourned sine die.

Louderback and his counsel walked from the floor of the chamber into a lobby.

"I feel that it is vindication," he said, smilingly.

"Why should I resign?" was his answer to a question as to whether he would.

"The suggestion that I resign is silly."

He indicated he would return to the bench after a few days' rest.

Gangsters' Bullets Wound 2 Women

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—Two women were caught in a hail of machine-gun fire from a gangsters' automobile in upper Broadway tonight and wounded.

The women were walking along the street when gangsters in one car opened fire on the occupants of another machine.

After releasing their blast of bullets the machine gunners turned around and started back uptown. They had gone only three blocks when they crashed into a third automobile.

One of the wounded women was identified as Irene Savage, 24. She was taken to Roosevelt Hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the left shoulder.

Potted Plants Presented To Blind in Capital

Through the cooperation of the Columbia Polytechnic Institute for the Blind, 25 baskets each containing 12 potted plants, were yesterday delivered to blind persons connected with the institute. These were part of 140 baskets which were presented to the blind of Washington by Dr. W. A. Taylor, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Distribution of these plants by Dr. Taylor is an annual event. He obtained from the Library of Congress a list of persons who are registered for Braille books and to each of these goes a basket of large plants, each in its own separate flower pot. Also, each year the Columbia Polytechnic Institute for the Blind cooperates by distributing the particular quota of plants assigned to the blind connected with that institution.

ROPER ANNOUNCES $15,000,000 SAVING

Merger of Bureaus Outside Commerce Department Into It Is Plan.

Consolidation of a number of bureaus outside the Department of Commerce into a single agency under the direction of the department will save from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year, Secretary of Commerce Roper said yesterday as it was revealed that the reorganization plan was almost ready to be sent to Congress.

The saving through consolidation of outside bureaus will be in addition to a similar sum to be saved by economies within the department. The scheme of reorganization within his department is now ready to go to Congress, the Secretary said.

The general governmental reorganization is divided into two sections—changes that must be submitted to Congress and changes that may be made independently. Director of the Budget Lewis Douglas is now sifting the reorganization material to embody the Congressional matter in a separate Executive order. This work is expected to be completed by the end of this week, and it is likely that the changes will be sent to the Capital by the first of next week.

Needed Period in Doubt.

No estimate has been made of the total savings under the scheme, it was said yesterday at the White House. It is known that the President is anxious to submit his plan to Congress at least a week before adjournment, in order that it may be studied before the end of the session. There is a possibility that Congress may be asked to approve it at once, if this is necessary. A study is being made of the law to learn whether operation of the plan must be delayed for 60 legislative or 60 calendar days. If the former, definite approval by Congress will be necessary to put it into effect before the next session.

It was also revealed yesterday that the Social Science Research Council had offered its services to the Government in reviewing the work of the various statistical bureaus with a view to reorganization.

The council, using its own funds, has offered to set up a central advisory statistical committee to give the Government the benefit of its advice and suggestions in connection with any consolidation or reorganization of the statistical work of the Government.

Roper Accepts Offer.

Secretary Roper said that he had accepted this offer on behalf of the Commerce Department, and had sent it to the Bureau of the Budget for the benefit of other departments which might want to take advantage of it. The Commerce Department will not reduce its statistical service except for reasons of economy suggested by the Budget Bureau, it was said.

A meeting between business men and the Secretary of Commerce has been set for the first week in June, when the establishment of the President's Council on Business will be discussed. This council, which was proposed by Secretary Roper, will provide a liaison between the administration and business, it is hoped.

R. F. C. Will Free Harriman Funds

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Woodin yesterday announced that 50 per cent of the net credit balances in the Harriman National Bank & Trust Co. of New York would be made available immediately through a loan granted by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The amount involved is about $7,000,000.

At the same time he said that he had requested the Comptroller of the Currency to either bring legal action against the New York Clearing House Association or arrange for arbitration, to enforce the claim of the bank against the association.

The claim, which involves about $7,000,000, was described by the Treasury Department as developing from an agreement volunteered by the clearing house association which agreed to assume liability for losses, provided the Treasury Department would take no immediate action when a bank examination indicated the institution was in distress, some months ago.

throughout his congressional career, will seek enactment of his resolution if possible during the special session.

"It has frequently been brought to the attention of Congress that employes in the Government service have been unjustly dealt with by their superior officers," his resolution read.

"There is no tribunal to which employes can take their grievances for hearing and adjustment, in consequence of which discontent is engendered and the morale of the service lowered and employes unable to give their best service to the Government."

Access to All Data.

The President would be empowered to appoint the liaison officer, with the consent of the Senate. He would be chosen from among Government employes who have been more than 20 years in the service, and would draw $8,000 a year. The officer would be given access to all personnel data and could require the departments to furnish him information.

Mr. Sirovich believes the official would serve as a buffer between Federal personnel and complaints that otherwise would harass the President.

He further believes some means of redress should be provided in individual cases.

"In some bureaus, employes can work their heads off and never get any recognition for it," he said.

REPEAL HELD VITAL TO KEEP TAX DOWN

Farley Says Income Levies Will Rise Unless Dry Law Is Abolished.

(Associated Press.)

The Roosevelt Administration yesterday gave a shoulder push to the movement for repeal, with Postmaster General Farley declaring that unless the eighteenth amendment is written off the books every income tax payer will have to hand the Government $6 to $10 out of every $100 he earns this year.

A short while before Farley spoke, Jouett Shouse, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, issued a statement on New York's prohibition referendum, declaring that "not even the most ardent advocate of repeal" could have expected such an "overwhelming vote."

Tabulators in the Empire State were busy, meanwhile, in counting up a total of 2,000,000 votes for repeal and 250,000 against, with some of the metropolitan districts showing not a single dry vote.

Would End New Taxes.

In the matter of increased taxes, word came directly from the White House early in the day that President Roosevelt intends automatically to end the far-reaching new levies now under consideration in the House as soon as the eighteenth amendment is repealed.

Farley's words yesterday came during a discussion of a disclosure made Tuesday that the full weight of the administration would be thrown behind the movement to ratify the prohibition repeal amendment through the writing of letters to Democratic workers throughout the Nation, urging such a step.

The Postmaster General, who is chairman of the Democratic National committee and chief dispenser of patronage, pointed out today that under the pending public works-industrial control bill income taxes would be boosted from 4 to 6 per cent on incomes up to $4,000 and from 8 to 10 per cent on all above $4,000.

Many Are Affected.

He estimated that the increases would affect from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 taxpayers this year.

Farley said that his plan announced Tuesday of sending letters to every Democratic worker in the country, urging them to work for repeal, would be followed as the time came in each State to elect delegates to the State conventions.

Farley's letters are expected to explain the vote in States which have already cast ballots in favor of ending the eighteenth amendment and possibly to point out that repeal would permit the levying of taxes on production of distilled liquors which would obviate any increases in income tax rates over these in effect for the 1932 calendar year.

The new taxes proposed in the industrial control bill are estimated to raise something more than $300,000,000, while it has been calculated that return of legal liquor would bring in more than $300,000,000 of revenue.

Lemaster Bank Robbery Balked

Lemaster, Pa., May 24 (A.P.).—A lone bandit today made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up the Peoples National Bank of Lemaster. A man, who gave his name as Aden Detter, 45, of Washington, and who was identified as the bandit, was arrested after a brief fight.

Entering the bank, he asked Miss Sarah McDowell, the assistant cashier, where he could find the cashier. When she told him the cashier was at home for lunch, he displayed a pistol and vaulted over the counter.

Apparently fearing Miss McDowell would scream, he attempted to place a gag in her mouth and she made an outcry. This attracted the attention of a passer-by, J. B. Sollenberger.

The bandit fled at Sollenberger's appearance, speeding away in an automobile bearing a District of Columbia license. He was captured after a chase of 6 miles. Miss McDowell identified Detter as the bandit.

He said he lived at 235 O street northwest, Washington.

Crawford Appeal Decision Expected

John Galleher, Commonwealth's attorney of Loudoun County, Va., conferred here yesterday with Representative Howard W. Smith (Democrat), Virginia, following the Loudoun prosecutor's return from Boston, where an appeal is pending from the decision of Federal Judge James A. Lowell releasing the alleged slayer of two Warrenton, Va., women.

Mr. Galleher told the Virginia representative that the United States circuit court of appeals in Boston probably will hand down a decision in a week or ten days, on the question of extraditing George Crawford, colored, to stand trial for murder in Virginia.

Representative Smith recently impeached Judge Lowell from the floor of the House, after Lowell granted Crawford a habeas corpus writ. The House authorized an investigation of Lowell, which is being held up by the Judiciary Committee pending outcome of the Massachusetts appeal.

Trick Driver Saved From Death by Pin

Glen Falls, N. Y., May 24 (U.P.).—A hairpin probably saved the life of Harry O. Caswell, 23, of Dover, N. H., "endurance driver," today when he found himself handcuffed to the wheel of a burning automobile in a barn filled with hay.

Caswell drove the car into a barn to protect advertisements painted on it when he ran into a rainstorm on a 100-hour driving test.

Suddenly flames burst from the engine and ignited the hay. Working frantically with the hairpin, Caswell picked the lock and escaped with severe body burns.

SECOND GUILTY PLEA IN BOETTCHER CASE

Pearce to Be Sentenced Next Saturday for His Part in Kidnaping.

Denver, Colo., May 24 (A.P.).—A plea of guilty to a charge of kidnaping Charles Boettcher 3d, wealthy young Denver broker, and holding him for $60,000 ransom was entered in Federal court today by Carl W. Pearce, 35, former Greeley (Colo.) insurance salesman.

Federal District Judge J. F. Symes said he would sentence Pearce Saturday morning.

Pearce was the second of four persons arrested in connection with the abduction of the young broker, February 17, from his home garage. He was held nearly seventeen days in an isolated ranch house near Chamberlain, S. Dak. Arthur Youngberg, strapping young Winnipeg (Canada) railroader, pleaded guilty to a similar charge several weeks ago.

Both face possible life terms, the maximum sentence for kidnaping under Federal statutes.

Boettcher was released after his multimillionaire father, Claude K. Boettcher, paid the kidnapers $60,000. Verne Sankey and Gordon Alcorn, charged by Federal operatives with being the actual kidnapers, have not been apprehended.

Charges of kidnaping against Mrs. Verne Sankey, wife of the sought man, probably will be dropped here, Federal authorities said, and she will be turned over to St. Paul, Minn., police to face a similar charge in connection with the kidnaping of Haskell Bohn, member of a prominent St. Paul family.

The fourth person arrested, Mrs. Ruth Kohler, a sister of Mrs. Sankey, will be brought into court Saturday. Charges against her probably will be dismissed, authorities said.

Miss Betty Schwartz Starts To Chicago as Post's Queen

Contest Winner Swings Aboard Liberty Limited Bound for Century of Progress Exposition, Hopeful of Taking First Award.

With a last farewell to relatives and friends who had filled her arms with flowers, Miss Betty Schwartz, winner of The Post's queen contest, turned toward glorious days as a member of the Court of Honor at Chicago's Century of Progress Exposition.

Swinging on the step of the Liberty Limited, crack Pennsylvania Railway train, the demure girl, who lives at 609 H street northeast, was completely thrilled at her opportunity to attend the exposition and compete for the $5,000 prize which goes with choice as "queen."

She couldn't say much except that she was excited and happy and ready to start the journey to the Midwest metropolis. And she hopes, of course, to be chosen queen.

The other entrant in the final contest of The Washington Post at Chicago, Miss Christine Hughes, of North Holston, Va., also left her home for Chicago. She did not come through Washington, but went via Bluefield, W. Va.

Miss Schwartz, chic in a blue traveling suit, sport shoes and a white hat, was taken to the station by a group of friends who pressed flowers and wishes for a good time and good luck upon her. At 4:05 p. m. her train moved out of the Union Station.

On the train she joined two winners of a similar contest conducted by a Richmond, Va., newspaper. They were Miss Elizabeth Morris and Miss Ann Elizabeth Landon.

When all the winners, sent to Chicago from all sections of the country, and in a few instances from foreign countries, reach there today and tomorrow, they will find a busy program arranged for them by the Chicago Tribune, with which paper The Post cooperated in staging the contest.

From the 51 will be selected the queen. The next two girls, selected by the judges as the most representative of charming girlhood, will get prizes of $3,000 and $2,000.

Of greatest interest to the girls will be the judging for the cash awards. The queen and her court of honor will be furnished with clothes for the occasion, and it has been arranged so that no girl will have an advantage over another because of finer clothes.

President Rufus Dawes of the exposition will place the crown upon the head of the girl chosen as queen. The girls will be divided into small groups, each having an automobile and a motorcycle escort to accompany them on the various trips they will take in the Windy City.

All the photos which were sent to The Post entering girls in the contest are being sent back from Chicago. They will be promptly mailed back to their owners on their receipt by The Post.

NEW U. S. DOCTRINE DESCRIBED BY DAVIS

Geneva Is Told of Readiness to Confer When Briand Pact Is Violated.

Geneva, May 24 (A.P.).—The anti-war machinery which the United States is helping to construct took definite form in the disarmament conference today when Norman H. Davis announced the Washington Government was prepared to confer with other powers whenever the Briand-Kellogg pact is violated.

If it is possible to identify the aggressor, Davis, the American Ambassador-at-Large, said, the United States Government undertakes to refrain from any action likely to defeat the concerted efforts of other nations to deal with the offending state.

The United States, moreover, he announced, will not give protection to any American citizen who may engage in activities tending to defeat the international peace efforts.

The United States is ready to incorporate this doctrine in a unilateral declaration, Davis told the conference.

Many delegates to the conference commenting informally described the Roosevelt doctrine as vastly more important as a declaration of American policy than the Monroe doctrine because the new policy applies to the entire world and is deemed here to be a powerful incentive to all nations to reduce armaments and strengthen the means of preventing war.

How far the heavily armed countries will reduce their armaments will depend to a considerable extent upon the fate of the pact of mutual assistance which will be presented to the conference, probably tomorrow.

Herriot Insists France Should Back U. S. Plan

Paris (Thursday), May 25 (A.P.).—Former Premier Edouard Herriot insisted, in an article in a newspaper today, that France must follow the way to disarmament with security which has been opened by Norman H. Davis, American disarmament delegate.

For France not to respond to President Roosevelt's advances would "be a historical blunder," M. Herriot asserted. He declared this would furnish a powerful weapon to the numerous defenders of the "traditional policy of isolation" of the United States.

RAIL UNIONS TO WAR AGAINST WAGE CUTS

Labor Leaders Threaten Tie-Up of Transportation if Roads Force Issue.

Chicago, May 24 (A.P.).—Plans of the Nation's railroads to serve notice of a further reduction in union wages were revealed today, and met a bristling response from spokesmen for organized railway workers.

"We will tie up this entire country before we will accept one penny cut in wages," declared A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives Association at a meeting of union leaders in Washington, D. C.

Whitney was skeptical, however, the roads would serve notice on or after June 1, as provided by the contract between employers and employes, of a decrease in pay.

"I hadn't heard of it," Whitney said of the reported plan. "It's interesting if true.

Down to Bedrock.

"The railroads are just kidding themselves, however. They are not going to cut wages and we're not going to permit any more deflationary moves because we are down to bed rock now."

An official of a large Western road with headquarters in Chicago said he believed the carriers would "insist to the last ditch" on a cut in union pay.

He said the slight improvements in railroad business would not allow the roads to make up deficits of recent years, unless greatly magnified. Nonunion employes, he said, had taken cuts far in excess of the 10 per cent deduction accepted by organized workers early in 1932.

The 1932 deduction was agreed upon after weeks of conferences in Chicago between the carriers and the unions. An agreement was signed for ons year. At another long conference last December the employes and employers agreed to continue until October 1 of this year.

Further Cuts Seen.

The December agreement provided, also, that either side in the wage dispute might serve notice of a change. That is, the unions could demand restoration of the 10 per cent deduction or the roads could demand a further cut.

That is the move arranged by the roads. Some time before June 15, it was learned, all of the more than 20 unions involved will receive letters from the roads notifying them that an additional deduction of 10 or perhaps 15 per cent will go into effect October 1.

The conference committee of railroad managers, named to handle such action, declined to comment. In the event the roads demanded a decrease, a series of conferences would be held with the ultimate decision to be made by a mediation board if the conferences failed to bring an agreement.

Swedish King Decorates Stange for Work Here

Carl H. Stange, of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, has been decorted as a Knight of the Order of Vasa, on behalf of the King of Sweden, it was learned yesterday.

He received the honor at the Swedish Legation from the hands of the Swedish Minister, Wollmar Bostrom. The honor was conferred because of meritorious services in behalf of Swedish people in this country. Mr. Stange, who lives at 318 Tenth street northeast, was responsible for the movement resulting in the erection of the statue of John Erickson in Potomac Park.

Fisherman Hooks Devil Fish; Returns It to Sea

Gold Beach, Oreg., May 24 (A.P.).—Don Cartwright, of Dayton, fishing from his father's boat on the Rogue River Reef, blinked twice at his catch then hastily surrendered it to the sea. He had hooked an octopus, variously estimated by members of the boat party as between 4 and 25 feet in diameter.

CHINESE BOLSTERING ARMY NEAR PEIPING

More Fighting Seen Despite Truce Reports From Both Sides.

Peiping, China, May 24 (A.P.).—Despite reports of a Sino-Japanese truce, American missionaries reported today that Chinese reinforcements were arriving at Tungchow, 13 miles east of here, and further fighting appeared imminent there.

There were clashes there again last night after Chinese had repelled a Manchukuoan force Monday.

One section of the Chinese press today maintained that war operations were continuing, while another proclaimed peace on all fronts.

Peiping itself presented a peaceful aspect and the exodus of Chinese from this city slowed down appreciably. There was apparent relief from assurances that Peiping itself would not be a battleground.

The populace was becoming accustomed to flights of Japanese planes over the city and paid little attention to them.

Tokyo, May 24 (A.P.).—The foreign office announced today that a truce in the Sino-Japanese hostilities will be formally signed tomorrow at Miyun, 35 miles northeast of Peiping.

It sets a new northern limit for activities of Chinese soldiers, even deeper in North China territory than formerly demanded by the Japanese, the foreign office announcement said.

The Japanese war office previously announced that Peiping would not be occupied and operations in that region were practically finished.

The new line extends from Yenking to within 15 miles of Peiping and 30 miles of Tientsin. Before their last drive into North China, the Japanese demanded that a neutral zone be established north of the Lwan River, about 90 miles northeast of Tientsin, and in a 10-mile strip below the wall to the westward of the Lwan River. This would be more than 50 miles north of Peiping.

Pershing to Attend Baltic Club Dinner

Gen. John J. Pershing and members of the Baltic Society will gather at the Carlton Hotel Saturday as guests of Capt. Ray T. Middleton, of New York City, to celebrate the sailing of the Baltic for France in 1917.

The Baltic Society is one of the most exclusive organizations in the world, in that its membership is limited to the commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces and the group of 189 officers, clerks and soldiers that accompanied him to France. From this small beginning the A. E. F. grew in one and a half years to a strength of 2,000,000 men.

Among those who have signified their intention of attending this year's gathering are Gen. Pershing, Maj. Gen. Walter A. Bethel, Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, Maj. Gen. Merritte W. Ireland, Maj. Gen. Samuel D. Rockenbach, Col. Raymond W. Briggs, Col. Parker Hitt, Col. Samuel T. Hubbard, Col. Hugh B. Moore, Col. Gustave Porges, Col. Hugh H. Young, Col. David S. Stanley, Maj. George S. Patten, jr., Maj. John J. Jennings, Capt. George E. Adamson, Capt. Dixie B. Guynn, Capt. Grover W. Roth, Lieut. George S. Linthicum, Lieut. John H. Pattrick and Warrant Officer Charles B. Shaw.

James Christianson Harlequins' President

James Christianson, Mishawaka, Ind., has been elected president of the Harlequins, dramatic association at the Catholic University, for the academic year of 1933-34. He succeeds William R. Hanrahan, jr., Bristol, Conn., who will be graduated on June 15.

Installation of Mr. Christianson took place at the annual banquet of the Harlequins held in the University Club. The Rev. Speer Strahan, a member of the Catholic University English department, and Prof. Adolf Wasilifsky, director of the organization, were speakers. The other officers elected to Harlequin positions include: John McDonald, Grand Junction, Colo., vice president, and Joseph Cicala, West Haven, Conn., secretary-treasurer.

Bill to Aid Insurance Companies Passes House

(Associated Press.)

The House yesterday amended and passed the Senate bill to help life insurance companies by authorizing the Reconstruction Corporation to buy up $50,000,000 worth of their preferred stock.

The bill now must go back to the Senate. It forbids the purchase of stock from, or loans to, insurance companies who have employes or officers making more than $17,500 a year.

U. S. WILL ATTEMPT TRUCE IN FAR EAST

America has relaxed considerably, and it is hoped before long that the Chaco dispute will have been brought back to a state of conciliation. Remains the war in Manchuria and the Japanese advance into the interior of China. The President is known to be extremely anxious to prevent a further aggravation of the relations between Japan and the United States. This attitude, it is believed, will go so far as to ignore the Stimson doctrine as a weapon to be leveled at Japanese heads, but, naturally, unless a change in the Japanese program of invasion, domination and assimilation is made, there will be no warrant for believing in the efficacy of disarmament agreements, and the normal program of American naval construction will have to be resumed.

At the same time an informal-sounding process will be initiated by the American Ambassador at Large in Geneva, Norman H. Davis, to bring the Chinese into line if the talks here at Washington result in a basis for a preliminary truce.

An agreement of this kind would prove of the most helpful nature, especially so far as this Government is concerned in the negotiations at Geneva. Great Britain would have a similar interest in the arms holiday on account of the important British commercial interests that would thereby be affected.

Glen Dale Firemen's Fete in July.

The Volunteer Fire Department of Glen Dale, Md., will hold its fifth annual carnival on the grounds adjoining the firehouse from July 15 to July 22, inclusive, it was announced yesterday by James E. Daisey, secretary of the carnival committee.

BANK OFFICIAL

WILMER J. WALLER.

WALLER IS OFFICIAL OF 'HAMILTON' BANK

said that there need be no immediate anxiety on the part of personnel of the banks affected by the merger, as in the closing of business of the merging institutions and the opening of the new one there probably would be need for present employes and possibly for additional help. The business of the new institution also might increase to a volume whereby numerous present employes might be permanently retained.

As soon as the necessary stock is secured, the proposed institution will apply to the court for a charter which is granted when the Treasury Department ascertains the necessary amount of money is available.

Selection of Wilmer J. Waller, vice president and cashier, Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., as vice president and cashier of the proposed "Hamilton National Bank of Washington" also was announced by Mr. Graham. Born in Sabetha, Kans., Mr. Waller came to Alexandria, Va., in his early days and was educated in the schools of that city.

Entered as Runner.

He entered the banking business as a runner for the former American National Bank in 1906 and rose to the position of cashier of that institution in 1920. At the time of its consolidation with the Federal National Bank in 1922, he became a vice president of the merged bank, later known as the Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., on its absorption in 1930 of the Merchants Bank & Trust Co.

Mr. Waller was elected vice president and cashier of the latter company last January. Mr. Waller is a past president of the District of Columbia Bankers Association and a past president of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking. He is a member of the Association of Reserve City Bankers, the Chevy Chase Club and the council of administration of the District of Columbia Bankers Association. Mr. Waller, who lives at Rosemont, near Alexandria, will celebrate his forty-fourth birthday today.

George P. Hoover, a vice president and conservator of Northeast Savings Bank, reported yesterday that $25,000 of that institution's quota of $100,000 worth of stock for the proposed bank had been subscribed to date. Mr. Hoover is appointing a committee of 30 men and 8 women, who will promote the stock-selling campaign for this bank. They will contact its stockholders and depositors.

Good Response Reported.

Eppa L. Norris, vice president and conservator, Woodridge-Langdon Savings & Commercial Bank, announced a very good response yesterday, the opening day of its effort to obtain its quota of stock, between $30,000 and $35,000.

On Tuesday Washington Savings Bank reported 20 per cent of its quota of $50,000 subscribed.

The six banks now committed to the plan are Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., District National Bank, Potomac Savings Bank, Washington Savings Bank, Northeast Savings Bank and Woodridge-Langdon Savings & Commercial Bank.

Bank Reorganization Campaign Stimulated

"A share of stock in every Negro home!" was adopted last night as the slogan in a recently inaugurated campaign to reorganize the Industrial Savings Bank as a national institution, at a meeting in the Twelfth Street Y. M. C. A.

Speakers included J. W. Lewis, chairman of the campaign committee; W. A. C. Brown, conservator of the bank; the Rev. W. H. Jernagin, Mrs. Josephine Butts, Elder Michaux, the Rev. William B. West and the Rev. W. H. Thomas.

MOONEY ACQUITTED BY ORDER OF JUDGE

standing indictment to which Mooney had looked as a weapon in his fight for vindication.

Mooney, who had announced he would immediately ask Gov. James Rolph, jr., to pardon him, was whisked out of the court room and back to San Quentin Prison, where he is serving a life sentence on a conviction of like charge.

"I am very happy," said Mooney, as handcuffs were applied to his wrists, "in spite of the fact that I could not verbally deny my guilt."

Personally taking charge of his own defense in the dramatic moment when the unwilling prosecution had moved for the directed verdict of acquital, and it was beginning to become apparent that the case would end without the presentation of evidence, Mooney pleaded earnestly but in vain with Superior Judge Louis H. Ward for a full-fledged trial.

After intimating he had no alternative but to direct an acquittal under the circumstances, Judge Ward withheld the instructions to the jury while Mooney pleaded on and while William Murray, assistant district attorney, argued that the State had no case and could not prosecute. It was 12:36 p. m. (P.S.T.) when Judge Ward turned to the jury and recommended the instructed verdict.

The jury retired to deliberate but it was only a formality. Two minutes later it returned to court, reported the verdict as prepared, and was discharged.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE AT OPERA RECITAL

Zalipsky Studio Presents "Die Csardas Furstin" First Time Here.

Presenting for the first time in Washington the part of Kalman's opera, "Die Csardas Furstin," together with other operatic selections, the Zalipsy Opera Studio offered its spring recital at Pierce Hall last evening before a capacity audience.

It was a sort of "back-side to" program, opening with the finale of Gluck's "Orpheus and Euridice" and closing with the opening act of the Kalman opus. Between these was placed a duet from Verdi's "Il Trovatore," sung by Giuseppe Bruno, well-known Washington tenor and guest artist of the evening, and Vittoria de Andreis.

The excellence of the duet between Eleanor and the Count de Luna need not be commented on, for Mr. Bruno and his work are too well known. Miss de Andreis was a capable match for Mr. Bruno in this number.

It has been a long time since Euridice has died in Washington, and, accordingly, it was indeed a pleasure to see this excerpt from Gluck's immortal opera. The principal parts were sung by Sola Holmen and Marjorie Isaacs. In this selection the ballet work, created and staged by Theodore Bekefi, was particularly effective.

The piece de resistance, however, was the first act of "Die Csardas Furstin," with Miss Isaacs, Eugene Swygert, John Kiernan and Nathan Bachrach having the major singing roles.

The Hungarian dances, performed by Lila Zalipsky, Ludmilla Plavsky, Frances Rands and Maurine Mulliner, made more authentic the scene. Starting out more in the manner of operetta than as grand opera, this work proved to be only a tantalizer. If the entire piece progresses as charmingly and with the lilt of the opening act, Mme. Marie Zalipsky would be well advised to consider its complete presentation at some future date.

Mme. Zalipsky accompanied the various selections at the piano, with capable assistance from Richard Tuttle Bell at the organ and Milton Schwartz, violinist.

The others taking part in the choral and ballet work included:

Donald Helm, Franz Groemping, Melville Slaughter, Paul Kiernan, Maurice Deleporte, Claire Rudyk, Liza Wolter, Helen C. Kiernan-Vass, Maria Peverini, Ann Stica, Domenic Balardo, Marie Paull, Elizabeth Wolter, Norma Ruppert, Kitty Reese, Ronnie Cunningham, Shirley Effenbach, Lucille Peck, Phyllis Schwartz, Gloria Masgoret, Mary Renkel, Bernice Susser, Natalie Spangler.

Varieties entered by exhibitors should be correctly named and labeled.

Meeting Is Today On D. C. Road Aid

Corporation Counsel William W. Bride, Auditor Daniel J. Donovan, Director of Highways H. C. Whitehurst and a representative of the Board of Trade will confer today on a plan for persuading Congress to include the District in the highway improvement section of the administration's public works bill.

Mr. Bride earlier in the week submitted an amendment to the House Ways and Means Committee and to the Senate Finance Committee, but the House passed the measure without the amendment. Chairman Harrison, of the Senate committee, promised to give the proposal consideration.

Under the section of the public works bill $400,000,000 would be disbursed among the States as an aid in national highway improvement. The District would also have to obtain an amendment of the 1921 roads act, which deals with Federal highway aid, in order to benefit under the new bill.

Rezoning Efforts Begin On Connecticut Avenue

Owners of two pieces of property on the west side of Connecticut avenue, at Chevy Chase Circle, yesterday began proceedings seeking to set aside covenants running with the deeds to the property which restrict its uses to residential purposes.

They are Mr. and Mrs. William P. Kenealy and Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Byrne, who own adjacent lots. Their contention is that changed conditions in the neighborhood have made it desirable to change the restrictions so that the property can be rezoned first commercial. Others in the vicinity have indicated that they would oppose granting of the motion to set aside the covenants.

Preview of Chicago's Fair Discloses City of Wonders

Chicago, May 24 (A.P.).—A wonder city that only five years ago entered the blueprint stage—the setting of the world's fair—was unveiled today before the wondering eyes of a few score guests.

It was an official "preview" of the gigantic exposition that has its world's premiere Saturday. Fair officials, exhibitors and representatives of the press saw at the dress rehearsal the fair as it will be for five months.

They saw, on a plot of ground 424 acres in size an array of exhibits 82 miles in length, representing mankind's strides during the past century in the fields of industry, arts and sciences.

More than 120 buildings, of all shapes, sizes and colors, made up the exposition city. Miles of highway wound through it. Motorboats chugged across the lagoon that drives the metropolis in two main sections.

A city built to endure, constructed during a period of economic recessions from a strip of rock and sand along the shore of Lake Michigan.

The tour of the city was made on land, by water and in the air.

From the top of the Skyride Towers, the city stretched out like a mosaic, done in bright splashes of blue, green, yellow and red, the lagoon somber in contract.

The huge buses that will carry world fair visitors this summer carried the previewers on their inspection trip of the grounds, discharging them at the main exhibition halls.

In the halls the exhibits were practically all installed and ready to go through their paces at the official opening next Saturday. Most of them are dynamic and moving, covering all phases of human endeavor, and representing processes as well as products.

There are 12,000 exhibits in 80 buildings and they are valued at $6,000,000. The cost of the fair buildings and grounds is estimated at approximately $25,000,000.

Chicago Hits Back At Truck Strikers

Chicago, May 24 (A.P.).—The city struck back at its striking truck drivers today by filing charges of disobedience and conspiracy before the Civil Service Commission against 275 city chauffeurs and helpers.

Mayor E. J. B. Kelly warned the strikers that if they failed to return to work immediately they would be vigorously prosecuted and deprived of their civil service status.

The truck drivers walked out Monday, presumably in retaliation against the fight of the city against a faction of the Teamsters' Union alleged to be gangster controlled.

Tuberculosis Branch Elects Dr. Nourse Head

Dr. Upton D. Nourse, of Dawsonville, Md., was elected president of the Montgomery County branch of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association at its organization meeting last night in the courthouse at Rockville, Md. The group adopted a constitution and by-laws and made plans for carrying on its work in the county.

Other officers elected were: Miss Estelle Moore, first vice president; Mrs. J. Bond Smith, second vice president; Dr. Jacob W. Bird, third vice president; Miss Louise Engle, secretary, and Odorion W. Roby, treasurer. Mrs. J. Bond Smith was elected chairman of the Christmas seal sales committee.

Young Democrats Club Of Falls Church Forms

The Young Democratic Club of Falls Church was perfected last night at a meeting held in the town hall with the election of Charles R. Fenwick, president. Other officers are John Laing, vice president; R. C. L. Moncure, secretary, and Robert Howard, treasurer. It was voted to elect a woman as second vice president at the next meeting.

The meeting, attended by more than 50 young men, was addressed by Mrs. John Galleher, of Leesburg, member of the national Democratic committee and a national officer in the Young Democratic Club of America.

100 Years Cut Off Prison Term

Atlanta, Ga., May 24 (A.P.).—Gov. Eugene Talmadge today cut 100 years off the 110 years' prison sentence imposed on Leland Harvey, notorious Georgia convict and escape artist.

It was Harvey's own proposition. Recently, when the governor visited the State prison farm and Harvey suggested that if his sentence were 10 years, he would serve it without trying to escape.

Harvey had made nine escapes since his first conviction in 1924. He was recaptured the last time in Detroit.

He was under five sentences of 20 years each for robbery in Bibb County (Macon) and 10 years for robbery in Atlanta. The commutation will enable him to be eligible for release next April.

RECITAL FEATURES WORKS OF FINKEL

Six Dances From Capital Composer's Pen Chosen by Evelyn Davis Group.

Six new compositions by Washington's noted musician, Alden Finkel, were featured last evening at Roosevelt High School as Evelyn Davis and her dance group presented the last indoor function under the auspices of the Community Center Department. This dance recital was sponsored by the Washington Branch of the American Association of University Women and the Washington Zonta Club.

Two other works also had their premieres, "The Children and the Bear," from the pen of New York's Thomas Simmons and "Dance of the Masks," by Washington's Martha McClelland Stevens.

The works of Composer Finkel, cellist of the Loew's Fox orchestra, were entitled "Country Dance," "Threnody," "Incantation," and three "Exaggerations," (Fear, Laughter, and Curiosity).

As the solo danseuse, Miss Davis offered praiseworthy interpretations of Boutelle's "Pan," Finkel's Exaggeration "Boredom," the premiere of "Incantation," and the cycle "Amateur, a Satire of Three Ages."

Effective choreographic work was offered by Miss Davis's dance group in the request numbers "Storm" (Wagner) and "Mid-Day" (Hadley), not to mention the highly commendable dancing of Debussy's "Valse Lente" and the new Finkel opera, "Threnody," "Country Dance," and the Exaggerations.

The members of the group include: Eleonora Bergling, Margaret Reed Kincannon, Elizabeth Jenkins, Bell Ward, Patty Hughes, Cora Lancaster, Alice Canter, Elsa Moody, Ruth Hullings, Bette Barton, Joyce Haynes, Bette Burch, Jackqueline Embrey, Betty DuPre, Harriet Hildebrand, Theodore King, Shirley Schafer, Sara Berging, Ruth Hartung.

Rain and Winds Force Three Planes to Earth

The going was rough for air travelers yesterday. Three planes of the Eastern Air Transport Line were forced to the ground because of rain and high wind. Pilot Gill Waller was forced to land at Mercer Airport, near Trenton, N. J., with 16 passengers. No casualties resulted, although the plane was blown through a fence by a sudden gust of wind.

A second ship, piloted by Joseph Killen, made an emergency landing when forced low by an electrical storm, but took off again when winds abated. A third plane landed at Atlantic City. All were bound to Washington from Newark, N. J. A relief ship brought Waller's 16 passengers here.

Meeting Slated Tonight By Esperanto Alliance

Esperanto and the need for an auxiliary international language, will be discussed by prominent speakers at a meeting of the Esperanto Alliance of Washington in Powell Junior High School tonight.

Distinguished guests will include William John Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education; Dr. Amos E. Taylor, assistant chief of the finance and investment division, Department of Commerce; L. L. McCanless, delegate from Hawaii, and L. DeGast, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Lindbergh Witnesses Cremation of Butler

Linden, N. J., May 24 (A.P.).—In the presence of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and a small group of friends, the body of Ollie Wheatley, middle-aged butler in the Hopewell home of the famous aviator, was creamated today in Rosehill Creematory. The butler died in Princeton Hospital yesterday following an operation.

It was the second time Col. Lindbergh had made a trip to the creematory here. The first occasion was about a year ago when he accompanied the remains of his infant first son, victim of a band of kidnapers, who never have been apprehended.

Senior Honor Students To Be Kiwanis Guests

The officers and honor students of the graduating classes of the Alexandria and George Mason High Schools will be the guests at luncheon today, at 12:30 o'clock, of the Alexandria Kiwanis Club in the George Mason Hotel. Members of the city school board, Henry T. Moncure, principal of the Alexandria High School, and C. M. Strader, principal of George Mason, will also be the guests of the club.

Otis M. Hullings has been designated a director of the Kiwanis Club, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Edward Stabler Leadbeater.

Colmer Picked to Make Decoration Day Address

Special to The Washington Post.

Charles Town, W. Va., May 25.—W. M. Colmer, member of Congress from the Sixth Mississippi District, will make the address here on Confederate Decoration Day Saturday.

The local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy and the American Legion will have charge of the program. A parade of the local organizations will take place before the meeting, which will be held at the courthouse at 2:30 o'clock.

Chevy Chase Man Dies After Fall in Basement

Ward G. Smead, 216 Elm street, Chevy Chase, Md., died at Emergency Hospital last night from a fracture of the skull suffered in a fall at Charlotte Hall, Md. Smead was employed in putting up scenery in the basement of the school. He fell heavily to the cement floor when the ladder on which he was working slipped and toppled over.

Insurance Change Deferred.

Hearings scheduled before the House District banking and insurance subcommittee on a new insurance code for the District, originally slated for this morning, were canceled yesterday by Representative Marian (Democrat), Ohio, chairman. Action on the measures, it was said, will be deferred until the regular session of Congress.

The Federal Diary

By GEORGE D. RILEY

TODAY is the day you've been reading about, the day of the Federal Diary first annual golf tournament, Indian Spring, with 240 Government employe golfers teeing off in medal play handicap. The number could easily have been several times larger, but there is a limitation even to the facilities at Indian Spring and to the capacity of the general and handicap committee to keep account of such a large line-up of good golfers.

Starting at 7:30 a. m. today they'll be teeing off every five minutes or so and when the cards have all been handed in there'll be some interesting reading.

Besides the handsome cup, gift of The Washington Post through the Federal Diary, there is the beautiful plaque and the gilded golfer, presented by R. Harris & Co., jewelers, selected from their large stock of exquisite trophies.

Then there are the clubs presented by Atlas Sport Shop, 927 D street northwest, where Ollie and Sidney Atlas have ready information and complete stock for golfers. Besides, the Federal Diary will add a box of golf balls to be purchased from the Atlas Brothers.

Meyer's Men's Shop, 1331 F street northwest, will provide a golf sweater among the long list of prizes. You know Meyer's Men's Shop is having a sale of just the kind of merchandise appealing to the golfer from the men's and sports wear departments.

All in all, there'll be quite a tee party at Indian Spring most of today. Will you be there, Charlie?

ANOTHER of those departmental showers, rain promptly at 4:30. . . . And a doctor says a cut from a piece of tin is the most difficult to heal. Say, Doc, have you ever had a salary cut? . . . And Mme. Secretary F. P., we learn, tells the scribes there'll be no telephone service for them longer as a Government courtesy. Well, there's been more than one person to die an early political death for lack of constructive publicity. . . . What's this going to be, a Fourth Estate regime? In case anything happens, Alfred D. Stedman gets leave from his paper to be "chief of information!" Farm Adjustment Administration. Let's hope he can concoct a short way of rolling that long name off the tongue. It won't fit in headlines and that keeps down publicity. Why not F-A-D? . . . Under the heading of "Things We Never Knew" we list the fact that Dr. Cary T. Sage, translation, Regional Information, Commerce, is voted a gardener. He's been generous with his roses and peonies. The race is now between him, Paul C. Croghan, Larry Batson and Malcolm Kerlin, assistant to ye Secretary. . . . And tomorrow being so remote from last payday, 'n' all, Mrs. Gladys Kastanek, Customs, will play hostess to an old-fashioned sewing circle at her home, 1872 Randolph street northwest. And it'll be like tightening the belt for the next slice out of the pay envelope, for the guests are invited to bring hose (darn 'em), dresses to be repaired, straps to be sewed on, and mayhaps there be some bridge or two. . . . Even the walls have ears, Mrs. Knight (*), A. & I. Department, Marine Corps. How's that, Mrs. Knight? . . . Getting closer to earth. E. E. Reynolds, Regional Information, Commerce, comes to work in (or on) a bicycle and he gets to park it in that Holy of Holies, the Ramp. . . . Please pass the can opener to Albert Gamse, Commerce. His mother leaves June 6 for Riga to spend the rest of 1933, so who'll do the cooking?

* * * *

WITH due apologies to Mr. Shakespeare a correspondent reminds us that 'tis not the loss of our job's assurance, 'tis not the doubting of the axe, but 'tis the too, too long endurance of threats that's turning us maniacs." . . . And one Government man we know has gone to picking up paper clips on the sidewalk. Says he's trying to save Uncle Sam money. Still, we can't say he's a maniac. He's trying to do for the taxpayers what the taxpayers would appreciate and what Congress doesn't and that's judicious, sensible economy where economy counts. . . And after the buying power of the several hundred thousand Government workers is cut again (and we can talk in terms of a possible 40 per cent cut, what with the 90-day furlough nightmare in sight) private industry can become braver and cut some more. . . Renovise campaigners might look into this! Patent Office employe wanted to raise his sleeping porch a while back two feet and he said he had to get a special permit from the Commissioners to be allowed to do it. . . Another Federal employe reports she finds the price of canned milk has jumped from 4 to 7 cents here. Let's see if that shows up in P. D. R.'s cost index figures. . . And if you don't think nepotism-thinking Congress has spread the gospel of how Federal employes are eating up all Uncle Sam's profits you should hear of reports from as far south as Jacksonville, Fla., and as far north as Maine. . . Dr. Gerry Morgan will journey to Newport, N. H., to make a Decoration Day address. His old home and the old home, by the way, of our friend, Willie E. Hurd, Weather Bureau, marine division. . . And we get likened to Don Quixote and the windmills and the injustices toward Government employes. . . Clint Ellenberger, third down the line from Jim Farley, sees more brightness on the postal receipts horizon. Just what we've said, all this hurrah of booting U. S. workers out of jobs and snipping the pay envelopes at a time when things are really threatening to get better. . . . And while we're getting literary, Mr. Shakespeare also had to say about rumor: "Rumor is a pipe blown by surmises, jealousies, conjectures, and of so easy and so plain a stop that the blunt monster with uncounted heads, the still-discordant wavering multitude, can play upon it." Rumors, we've had 'em since early February before Congress traded its say-so and expected to get patronage in return. Ah, patronage goes to those who can tiptoe the highest, or is that abstract? . . . Maybe Government employes would have a better look-in here if they had the ballot. . . . And one stenographer in Government routine says she has had to chew the same stick of gum all week. There goes the buying power, even down to chewing gum. . . . What local paper was it that said no important work is being done in Government departments now? It should know. It ran enough about what was going to happen to this or that bureau. Anyway, the Latin-American section, regional information, Commerce, has managed to work Saturdays and Sundays overtime for weeks. . . . Name of bureau on request—half the personnel to be made free agents and there'll be no 90-day furlough for the rest because they "would become too stale away from their desks during the 90 days." . . . Really funny how some sheets suddenly discover the last two weeks that there is that human element, the Government employe. An earlier start would have meant a spearhead for molded public opinion, instead of moulded opinion . . . Have you seen Albert Gamse (*), regional information, Commerce, performing wonders with his wheelless auto? Some one snitched the wheels and now Albert is in the market for pontoons for a houseboat.

LOUIS V. WOULFE, Animal Industry, Agriculture, and a local pedestrianere, enjoys his furlough leave in just a different way, according to wireless messages received at the Federal Diary desk. Apparently, he is trying to qualify as a rambler extraordinary, thereby literally accepting the perogatives of his name.

On Friday last, he made a foot inspection of the Mount Vernon boulevard. He reports highway in good condition, one tire blow out, and many former soldier-ladened buses commuting between Fort Hunt and Washington. He says the eight-hour tramp was "just a day's stroll."

Yesterday, as a guest of Mrs. Harriet Redford and Mrs. John D. Jones, both of Bristol, Tenn., he acted as pilot for the ladies to Fairfax, Va., at which point he demotered. Leaving Fairfax "on the half-sole limited" at 5:30 a. m., he took breakfast at Falls Church two hours later, and at 10:30 a. m. he reported "at home," having covered the 17 miles in 4½ hours. He noticed quite a number of turtles on the roadway; says it was an ideal day for this perspiring sport, but is silent as to whether he found a turtle dove. Louie, are you keeping something from us?

Mrs. Josephine Robinson (*), Administrative Division, Internal Revenue Bureau, attended the annual Burrell Class picnic at the Y. W. C. A. recreation camp in Cherrydale, Va. There were 137 members present. A comical skit entitled "Smoke" was rendered. On this annual occasion no men are permitted, no pretzels or cigarette smoking, and then Mrs. Robinson reports a "good time was had by all." What a picnic!

LARGE CAST FIGURES IN 'THE GYPSY TRAIL'

Song and Dance Revue by Pupils to Be Repeated at Wardman Park.

"The Gypsy Trail," a revue of song and dance in two acts and thirteen scenes, was presented last evening in the Wardman Park Theater by pupils of the Madolin Smithson Hodgson School of Dance and Expression.

While a vaguely recognizable thread of narrative runs through the several scenes, the program will be remembered as a series of pleasing tap and toe dances, interspersed with songs. As in recitals of this character, there was a tendency to have too great a sameness in the numbers and to stretch the line out almost interminably.

However, the compensating feature was present; the delightful and ingenuous manner of performing, the youthful actor-dancers executing their routines most acceptably.

Among those participating were: Ann Hayden, Muriel Maier, Vivian Scott, Jane Boal, Dixie Lee Zirkin, Charles Hipsley, Helen Sullivan, Gertrude Mayerhofer, Virginia Dyer, Louise Burgess, Margaret Levy, Jean Alber, Marjorie Plitt, Rita Lou Haun, Lorraine Nicholson, Shirley Horton, Lorraine Brown, Jane Howard, Jane Barry, Lawrence Alsop, Ethel Hayden, Rita Zuck, Genevieve Rogers, Zelda Wightman, Lucy Ann Purdon, Elaine Taylor, Audrey Ferguson, Eleanor Nash, Margie Gibson, Jane Horne, Peggy Thomas, Jean Addison, Elinor Wen, Louis Maynard, Kathrine George, Isetta Simon, Joy Ridgeway, Diane Taylor, Ann Hammel, Beverly Kolker, Lorraine Marshall, Nancy Carroll Kirchner, Mary Cathrine Proske, Beverly Samakov, Greta Hill, Betty Ann Boyd, Patty Lou Healy, Rita Carothers, Shirley Simensen, Mary Pollock, Audrey Perkins, Elaine Masson, Carol Ann Morton, Lorraine Brown, Jean Schultz, Roma Lee Haun, Joseph Sullival, Jack Hodgson, Doree Swink, Helen Handleman, Jane Johnstone, Dorothy Mayerhofer, Ruth Schenkle, Aileen Brown, Jean Wen, Marilyn Blanken, Betty Ann Shepherd, Thelda Kidwell, Jean Addison, Barbara Boardman, Patsy O'Hara, Mary Jane Hammett, Helen Clum.

"The Gypsy Train" will be repeated at the Wardman Park Theater tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Jewish Relief Fund Now Totals $8,000

Volunteer workers in the united Jewish campaign gathered yesterday noon at the Jewish Community Center to report progress in the $30,000 drive. Collections turned in raised the total on hand to approximately $8,000. With still another week of canvassing, drive leaders expressed confidence that the appeal would be successful.

The meeting was addressed by Harold H. Levi, general manager of the Hecht Co., who described his recent trip to Palestine. Funds raised in this campaign are to be divided between the Jewish Homeland movement and the relief of destitute European Jews.

Among the larger contributions reported yesterday were a $500 donation by the Hecht Co. and a $300 contribution by Morris Cafritz.

Police Capture Two Men As Smoke Screen Fails

Apprehended after a chase of several blocks, during which they are alleged to have released a smoke screen in an effort to evade the officers, William Shoemaker, 4924 Rock Creek Church road, and Allen Moore, Silver Spring, Md., were being held by police last night on charges of investigation.

The chase started when the men emerged from an alley in the 400 block of Neal street northwest. They were forced to the curb and arrested by Detectives William McEwen and J. E. Becket, of the vice squad, on New York avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets northwest.

Degree Rites Arranged By Royal Arch Masons

Rush S. Young, high priest of the Eureka Chapter, No. 4, Royal Arch Masons, announced yesterday that the Royal Arch degree will be conferred by the Grand Chapter officers, with the grand high priest, A. Clifford Wilkins, heading the line, at a meeting of the chapter tomorrow night.

A lecture will be presented by Excellent Companion J. Claud Keiper, grand secretary. The charge will be given by Excellent Companion John A. Colborn, grand treasurer. Lucien G. Yung also has a prominent part in the degree. Invitations have been extended to the Grand Chapters of Maryland and Virginia.

ABOUT THE SHOW SHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

DESPITE the drastic measures adopted to impress the need of rigid economy upon the personnel of the West Coast movie colony, the arbitrary shutting down of the studios and pay slashes that were no less than brutal—as what pay slash is not?—it seems that when the occasion arises some of the producers, at least, are able to muster a few idle pesos and get about the business of making pictures!

James Cagney.

For instance, Jack L. Warner, vice president in charge of production for Warner Brothers and First National, is reputed to have abandoned a contemplated visit to New York during the period of studio inactivity in order to start immediate production on a grand scale at the Burbank studios.

"Footlight Parade," an all-star musical film, coming hot on the heels of "42nd Street" and "Gold Diggers of 1933," will be the first to go into work, a call already having been issued for chorus girls to report on one of Mr. Busby Berkeley's largest stages.

Some time ago Jack Warner announced that Warner Brothers and First National were prepared to turn out as many as 100 feature pictures—and that is a good many—this season, should the demand warrant it.

With an acute shortage of output among the major producers apparently looming ahead, 14 writers are now busy at the Burbank plant preparing 10 stories for immediate production. Stars and supporting casts for most of them are said already to have been selected.

The following ten yarns are now in course of preparation as regards adaptation and continuity, to go into active production before the cameras and mikes within a month—maybe sooner.

"The Kingfish," a strong story of a backwoodsman from the South, who upsets the apple cart, first in his own State and then in the U. S. Senate—a subject of obvious origin and implication. Edward G. Robinson, now on the Earle screen in "The Little Giant," will be the star, surrounded by a cast no less pretentious than the one supporting him in his highly amusing current vehicle, based on the comical possibilities of a "big shot" racketeer gone socially gay.

"Convention City," a hilarious comedy that will bring to the screen the behind-the-scenes story of a big commercial convention in Atlantic City. It will probably be a vehicle for Warren William.

"Bureau of Missing Persons," a topical story based upon the adventures of a tough detective, who is too tough for the robbery detail and is assigned to the Bureau of Missing Persons. This film will star Spencer Tracy or James Cagney.

"Red Meat," the inside story of a millionaire meat packer and what happened after a famous opera singer refused to marry him.

"America Kneels," to be produced with at least six stars in the cast. This is a story of wide scope, covering three generations of an American family from shirt-sleeves to Wall street and back to shirt-sleeves.

"Wild Boys of the Road," a story based upon newspaper headlines by Danny Ahearn, who wrote "Picture Snatcher." Frankie Darro will play a featured role.

"Finger Man," the low-down on a racket who works vaudeville, then pictures and then gangsters.

"Female," starring Barbara Stanwyck as the big business woman, who uses her male employes as picnic partners.

"Easy to Love," will star Bette Davis as a society girl whose life is spoiled by a married man, and who takes her fun where she finds it.

"Footlight Parade," the story of a musical comedy producer, with practically every star on the Warner and First National roster in the cast. Music by Walter Donaldson.

Stress is being laid on the fact that "The Seventh Commandment," opening at the Rialto on Saturday, handles a delicate subject without gloves. Postered by the International Sociological Society, which has leased the theater for the engagement, it brings frankly into the light many things that the fathers and mothers of tomorrow most definitely and emphatically should learn today. Because of the subject of which it treats and the forthright manner in which it exposes certain sociological evils, "The Seventh Commandment" will be presented before exclusively adult audiences only.

The complete list of entries and post positions for the new week of cinema is set forth as follows in the morning line: Palace, Janet Gaynor and Henry Garat in "Adorable;" Rialto, Victoria Vinton and Stewart James in "The Seventh Commandment;" Earle, Carole Lombard and Fredric March in "The Eagle and the Hawk," and Welcome Lewis headlining the vaudeville; Loew's Fox, Laurel and Hardy in "The Devil's Brother," and Herb Williams headlining the vaudeville; RKO-Keith's, Fay Wray and Gene Raymond in "Ann Carver's Profession," and Gene Denis, psychic, a second week on the stage; Metropolitan, Jack LaRue and Miriam Hopkins in "The Story of Temple Drake;" Columbia, Ralph Morgan and Sally Blane in "Trick for Trick."

As the title has, of course, informed you, "The Devil's Brother," in which Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, supported by Dennis King, will disport themselves on the screen at Loew's Fox, come tomorrow, is nothing less than the cinema's adaptation of that hardy old light opera, "Fra Diavolo."

If the rain will hold off and the heat wave wave on, the setting will be perfect for the projected opening for the season of the handsomely appointed Crystal Pool, the summertime amusement piece de resistance of Glen Echo Park, on Saturday of this week. With an enlarged sea sand beach and other improved facilities, the Crystal Pool will supply an immediate need and refresh a huge number of expectant bathers.

The pool's season inaugural will place Glen Echo Park in 100 per cent active operation for the full length of the heated term.

It is being bruited about that Gene Dennis, the brilliant young psychic who will continue to baffle the laity by the uncanny accuracy of her divination of events through a second week, beginning Friday, at RKO-Keith's, is planning to toss a party soon for the ladies and gentlemen (sic) of the press, her associates in the theater and many friends she has made since her recent arrival in Washington.

This is one time when all of us whose minds are a total blank will have all the best of it. She can't read a vacuum and we won't even be tempted to greet her with any mental, "Hi, Gene," I shouldn't wonder!

MORGAN STILL COOL AS INQUIRY PROCEEDS

Admits, However, He's "Not Accustomed to This Kind of Examination."

(Associated Press.)

J. P. Morgan's calm assurance was maintained undisturbed yesterday before the Senate's investigating committee. He did not do as much actual testifying as on the opening day, but if the elderly financier found the long hours in the witness chair disagreeable, he concealed it most successfully.

"I'm not accustomed to this kind of examination," he said almost apologetically at one point when there was a tangle over just what the question and answer was.

When he wasn't testifying himself or laughing at some senator's remark, the banker listened closely and smiled frequently.

Occasionally, in the oppressive heat, he wiped his hands and face with a white pocket handkerchief.

As on the first day, he wore a blue business suit with a faint pin stripe. His gleaming pearl stickpin adorned a silk tie of small black and white checks.

For nearly an hour his tall, slim and youthful partner—George Whitney—stood beside him, giving information which Morgan himself was unable to supply. Finally Whitney asked if he might sit down, and without waiting a reply took a chair at Morgan's side.

Whitney was not Morgan's only prompter. John W. Davis, his counsel and one-time Democratic Presidential nominee, frequently engaged in whispered conversations with the head of the House of Morgan.

Senator Cousens (Republican), Michigan, who has hurled some of the most vigorous questions of any committee member, again sat opposite Morgan.

Dr. F. McJ. Allen Funeral Is Today

Funeral services will be held privately at 10 a. m. today at Gawler's Chapel, 1754 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, for Dr. Floyd McJunkin Allen, member of the Police and Fire Surgeons' Board, who died Monday at Emergency Hospital.

Dr. Allen was ill for only a week from la grippe, and succumbed when pneumonia and blood poisoning set in. Surviving him are his widow and two children.

Acting as honorary pallbearers will be Dr. Alexander B. Moore, Dr. J. F. Mitchell, Dr. Prentiss Willson, Dr. Daniel Moffett, Dr. Barkley Coulter, Dr. Massie Page, Lieut. P. D. Dingwell, Frederick Hitz, Dr. Frederick Y. Williamson, Arthur Phelan, Dr. Montgomery Blair, Dr. Thomas Sawyer, Thomas Hopkins, Henry Ravenel, M. M. Marston, Dr. Frederick Fishback, Dr. Leslie H. French, Paul Metz and Norman Damon.

Isaac Greenbaum Dies at Home Here

Isaac Greenbaum, 58, 2700 Connecticut avenue, died at his residence yesterday after an illness of about five weeks.

Born in Charles County, Md., Mr. Greenbaum was a resident of Washington for about 40 years. For the last nineteen years he has been connected with the Washington Paper Co., Inc. He is survived by his wife, a son, Carl, of New York, and a daughter, Dorothy, of London, England.

Funeral services will be held from the residence at 10 a. m. tomorrow, with Rabbi Sol Metz in charge. Interment will be in the Washington Hebrew Congregation Cemetery.

Mrs. Lawrence Tyson Buried in Knoxville

Word was received in Washington yesterday of the death of Mrs. Lawrence Davis Tyson, widow of former Senator Tyson, of Tennessee. Funeral services were held Tuesday at her home in Knoxville, Tenn., where she died.

She lived in this city from 1924 to 1929, when her husband, who was a retired general, served in the Senate. Surviving her is a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth N. Gilpin, of Boyce, Va. Her only son died in the World War. Mrs. Tyson is also survived by two grandsons and two sisters.

RITES FOR WILLIAM MILLER

Six Children Survive Irish Native Who Lived Here 87 Years.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p. m. today at St. Paul's Church, Rock Creek Parish, for William Miller, who had been a resident of this city 87 years. Burial will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Miller was born at Londonderry, Ireland, in 1845, and was brought to Washington by his parents when he was little more than a year old. He was one of the oldest members of St. Paul's Church. He was married twice and outlived both of his wives.

Surviving him are three sons, George, William and John, and three daughters, the Misses Charlotte and Lillian, and Mrs. Donald Richardson, of Baltimore.

FRED GEISSLER DIES.

Was Seaboard Air Line Railway Co. General Passenger Agent.

Fred Geissler, 50, general passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Co., died suddenly late yesterday at his home in Atlanta, Ga., it was learned here last night. He had been connected with the company for more than 30 years, being in charge of traffic most of the time. He was well known in Washington and generally in transportation circles throughout the United States.

Funeral arrangements had not been made last night, but services probably will be held tomorrow from his home in Atlanta.

Mrs. W. F. Houtt Dies in Paris.

Mrs. Wilbur E. Houtt, well known in this city, died in Paris, France, Tuesday. She had been living in that country for several years. Related to her in this city are Mrs. Otto Engelhard, Mrs. A. H. Graham, Miss Luita Huffy and Miss Edith Huffy.

Ottenberg Speaks Tomorrow.

Louis Ottenberg will deliver the third of his series of talks on "High Lights in Jewish History" at the services at the Washington Hebrew Congregation, 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

WOODIN FAVORED INVESTOR

lican national committeeman for New York, 1,000 shares; Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, 500 shares; R. B. Mellon, brother of Andrew W. Mellon, then Secretary of the Treasury, 2,000 shares; Joseph R. Nutt, of Cleveland, treasurer of the Republican national committee and vice president of the Allegheny Corporation, 3,000 shares; Owen D. Young, 5,000 shares; Gen. John J. Pershing, 500 shares; Silas Strawn, 1,000 shares; Frank L. Polk, Secretary of State under President Wilson, 300 shares; Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, 1,000 shares.

Mr. Whitney is a brother of the Morgan partner.

Morgan's 175,000 Shares.

J. P. Morgan & Co. at the same time took 175,000 shares for its own stock account, and 500,000 shares went to the Guaranty Trust Co., to be sold later at public subscription. The public sales began at about $24 per share. The market price moved up to the neighborhood of $50 a share before the 1929 crash.

Mr. Whitney was unable to describe the formula by which friends and clients of the Morgan firm were selected for invitations into the Allegheny venture.

In this connection it developed that W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., and at that time Republican national committeeman from Pennsylvania, also was on the list of preferred clients, through the Philadelphia office. He took 500 shares. Former Senator George Wharton Pepper, also on this list, got 200 shares.

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, attempted to show from a 1929 income tax return of Mr. Whitney that the witness had sold his personal holdings of Allegheny stock that year at a profit of approximately $225,000. But no attempt was made to establish the profits or losses of other favored subscribers.

"We Are Thinking of You."

A letter offering the stock to Mr. Woodin was placed in the records. Dictated by William Ewing, another Morgan partner, the communication said that no immediate public offering then was contemplated by the sponsoring banking house. The right to subscribe was extended, this letter explained, "to our close friends."

"We want to let you know that we are thinking of you," the letter said at another point.

Mr. Woodin then was chairman of the board of the American Car & Foundry Co., but at the moment of the Morgan offer was en route to Panama on a vacation. The subscription to 1,000 shares was made in Mr. Woodin's name from his New York office and the stock registered by J. P. Morgan & Co. in another name, in accordance with customary banking practice. Mr. Woodin's "nominee" was not disclosed in the record.

The hearing also developed that the American Car & Foundry Co. then was one of the corporations which carried average annual balances of $1,000,000 or more with J. P. Morgan & Co.

"For many years Mr. Woodin has been a personal friend of the partners of J. P. Morgan," Mr. Whitney said in explaining the business relationship which existed prior to the stock offering.

Amounts Not Disclosed.

The original Allegheny agreement between O. P. and M. J. Van Swearingen and the house of Morgan, dated January 28, 1929, was made a part of the committee record. J. P. Morgan was on the witness stand when the matter of the Allegheny issue was reached. He said he was not familiar with the negotiations but that Mr. Whitney would be able to give the committee details.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Morgan had identified a list of his firm's loans to officers of chartered commercial banks since 1929, a list which disclosed, among some sixty loans, an advance to Norman H. Davis, the United States Ambassador at Large in Europe in connection with the world disarmament and economic conferences.

The committee document did not disclose the amount of these loans to bankers. It was explained by Mr. Whitney, however, that some of them represented advances made to cushion the stock market collapse in October, 1929.

Among others on this loan list were Charles G. Dawes, Charles E. Mitchell, Mortimer N. Buckner, Seward Prosser, Myron C. Taylor and Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

E. Brooke Lee Borrower.

E. Brooke Lee, Democratic leader in Montgomery County, Md., also was on this list. His loan had been repaid in June, 1932, three weeks before the Democratic national convention opened at Chicago. The Lee loan had been negotiated through Drexel & Co., the Philadelphia branch of the Morgan partnership.

The Dawes loan was paid off in April, 1932, but the advance to Norman H. Davis still is open. Interviewed yesterday at Geneva, where he is directing President Roosevelt's disarmament negotiations, Mr. Davis explained the loan always had been adequately secured.

"About two years ago I borrowed approximately $50,000 from the Morgan company against full collateral." Mr. Davis told the Associated Press. "I have been paying it off, and the reason why it has not been fully paid is that I have had heavy private expenditures in connection with my work for the Government."

Davis Loan Explained.

Later Mr. Davis' New York office stated that only $18,000 of the loan remained unpaid.

"Mr. Davis has for many years kept a checking account with J. P. Morgan & Co., together with certain other New York banks, and has borrowed money from these banks, including J. P. Morgan & Co., from time to time, always secured by ample collateral," it said. "The loan to which reference is made today was originally negotiated in 1930 for $45,000, and subsequent payments have reduced it to $18,000. Interest has been paid at the current rates and the loan has at all times been secured by ample collateral. No favor was made in granting this loan, as any bank would have been willing to make the loan against the collateral. The loan was arranged with J. P. Morgan & Co. because it was there he kept his checking account."

This loan list also disclosed an advance to John W. Davis in 1930, which has since been repaid.

The loan to Charles E. Mitchell, former president of the National City Bank, who is now on trial for irregularities in his income tax returns, was originally in the amount of $10,000,000. It has since been reduced to about $6,000,000. At present this balance is under-collateralized, but the Morgan company has set up an ample special cash reserve fund against such under-collateralized loans.

As with the list of preferred clients for stock offerings, Mr. Morgan said he had no personal knowledge of the details of these banker loan transactions. Mr. Whitney took the stand to answer Mr. Pecora's interrogations concerning them. He described the advance to Ambassador Davis as "a very small loan."

Capitol Hill reverberated last night to the day's rapid-fire developments before the Morgan investigating committee.

In response to newspaper inquiries, Senator William E. Borah skirted—but did not approach directly—the suggestion that Mr. Woodin's associations with the Allegheny transactions called for his resignation from the Cabinet.

"I think the American people, in these times when such tremendous powers are being exercised by the Secretary of the Treasury, are entitled to a Secretary of the Treasury who, like Caesar's wife, should be above suspicion. At present confidence is almost as important as ability."

"I think that statement speaks for itself," he said when asked pointedly if Secretary Woodin should resign.

Move to Tighten Law.

On the House side, Chairman Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee said that attempts must be made to "tighten up" on the provisions of the capital gains taxes. He said an informal committee exploration of such legislation might be undertaken next week.

Such revision of the income tax laws was recommended to Congress by President Hoover in 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1932, but the matter was never seriously considered in the House.

Chairman Doughton indicated clearly in his discussion of the problem yesterday that there was little likelihood of a serious approach to the problem in the remaining days of the special session.

Reverting to the income tax payments of the Morgan partners in yesterday's examination, Mr. Pecora developed that total payments for the calendar year 1929 were, roughly, $11,000,000. The next year the total dropped to $48,000—under the operation of the capital losses provisions; and in 1931 and 1932 no taxable incomes were earned after security depreciation had been taken into account.

Mr. Morgan acknowledged, however, that in both 1931 and 1932 he had paid personal income taxes in England on that portion of his income earned there. He could not recall how much he had paid under the English laws, but offered to make the figures available later, if requested.

In response to questions at his regular Wednesday press conference yesterday morning, President Roosevelt indicated that he regards the Morgan investigation as purely a legislative matter. Whether the afternoon developments, which brought the names of Secretary Woodin and Ambassador Davis into the record, served to sharpen the President's interest in the investigation was not disclosed last night.

40 Banks Big Depositors.

Another statement placed in the record showed that the Morgan firm, together with its Philadelphia branch, carried demand balances in some 40 large banks in New York, Philadelphia and Boston aggregating more than $30,000,000. Some of the larger balances were:

Bankers Trust, New York, $2,240,565.

Chase National, $1,411,799.

Central Hanover, $1,594,116.

Chemical, $1,113,180.

Corn Exchange, $938,719.

First National (New York), $2,431,732.

Guaranty Trust, $2,609,591.

Irving Trust, $1,399,495.

National City, $1,265,921.

New York Trust, $1,251,734.

Manufacturers Trust, $355,878.

First National, Boston, $109,993.

National Shawmut, Boston, $243,508.

Second National, Boston, $150,437.

New England Trust, Boston, $14,840.

Asked why he opposed State regulation of the larger private banks, as emphasized in his testimony Tuesday, Mr. Morgan told the committee: "I object, because our relations with our clients are much more confidential than the relations between a commercial bank and its customers can be."

Not Hampered by Board.

Pressed for an elaboration of this answer, the witness said confidential relations were possible because decisions need not be submitted to a board of directors.

"It is because we have no board of directors, no shareholders; we can work swiftly, do what we want to do. Lots of people don't want directors to know their private affairs."

Asked if the firm ever had presented a statement of condition to its depositors, Mr. Morgan said no, because no one ever had asked for a balance sheet. But any depositor might have had one any time for the asking.

"My father made that statement on the stand during the Pujo investigation," he added.

When a new partner is taken into the firm he need not necessarily put in new cash. He is assigned a portion of the profits as they accumulate. If there are losses, each partner is allocated his share and he works them off on his own account. By this method members of the firm sometimes become indebted to the partnership.

The firm never has been required to submit a statement of its market position to the New York Stock Exchange, because it does not operate on margin accounts.

Although he had been a member of the stock exchange since 1894, Mr. Morgan said in answer to another question, he had never negotiated a floor transaction personally. His membership had been used, however, for the firm's transactions.

At another point, Mr. Whitney testified that buy and sell orders of the Morgan firm were executed through 32 stock exchange organizations, according to the type of business in hand.

Sketching briefly the attempt to cushion the stock market crash in 1929, Mr. Whitney told the committee that the Morgan partners regarded this as an "entirely constructive work."

Senator Glass asked if the Mitchell loan of $10,000,000 had been made with the idea that it might lead to eventual acquisition of the National City Bank.

"No, no, absolutely not," the witness insisted emphatically. "We did it solely to assist in a difficult situation."

In response to a question from Senator Gore, Mr. Whitney said that practically all Morgan operations in the stock market during October, 1929, were on the buying side.

Plunging into details of the Allegheny transactions, Mr. Pecora established that 1,250,000 shares, out of a total issue of 3,500,000 shares, had been taken over by the Morgan firm. Of the 1,250,000 Morgan shares, 500,000 went to the Guaranty Trust Co. for sale to the public and 175,000 went into the Morgan partnership account. The balance went to the preferred clients at $20 a share.

Mr. Whitney explained that in most cases these favored clients were sold by direct conversational negotiation, but that in the case of Mr. Woodin, the transaction had been consummated by mail. The letter making the offer to Mr. Woodin, under date of February 1, 1929, follows:

Offer to "Close Friends."

"My Dear Mr. Woodin: You may have seen in the papers that we recently made a public offering of $35,000,000 Alleghany Corporation 15-year collateral trust convertible 5 per cent bonds, which went off very well.

"In this connection, the Guaranty compnay offered today $25,000,000 of Alleghany Corporation cumulative 5½ per cent preferred stock. There was also a strong demand for this stock.

"The Guaranty company also sold, privately, some of the common stock at $24 a share.

"We have kept for our investment some of the common stock at a cost of $20 a share, and, although we are making no offering of this stock, as it is not the class of security we wish to offer publicly, we are asking some of our close friends if they would like some of this stock at the same price it is costing us, namely, $20 a share.

"I believe that the stock is selling in the market around $35 to $37 a share, which means very little except that people wish to speculate.

"We are reserving for you 1,000 shares at $20 a share if you would like to have it.

"There are no strings attached to this stock, so you can sell it whenever you wish.

"For further information regarding this corporation I am enclosing circular covering the bond issue.

"We just want you to know that we are thinking of you in this connection and tonight you might like to have a little of the stock at the same price we are paying for it.

"I am sending this to your office as I understand that you are now on your way through the Panama Canal but this can wait until you return.

"Hoping you are having a pleasant trip and with best regards,

"Sincerely yours."

Second Letter to Woodin.

The photostatic copy of the letter bore no signature, but initials on the copy were identified by Pecora as those of William Ewing, a Morgan partner.

No copy of a reply from Woodin was placed in the record but a second letter addressed to Woodin by Morgan & Co. on February 25, read:

"Dear Sir—We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your check to our order for $20,033.33 in payment for 1,000 shares of Alleghany Corporation common stock (no par value) at $20 per share plus interest from February 15 to date.

"We have deposited in your account the above stock in temporary form, registered in our nominee's name."

Because of the throngs seeking to gain admittance, the committee decided last night to move the hearings today from the regular Banking and Currency quarters to the majority caucus room in the Senate Office Building. This is the largest auditorium in the Congressional plant.

Mr. Pecora said he intends to develop all details of the Allegheny operation "as a complete picture, covering three or four years."

J. P. Morgan is scheduled to resume the witness stand at 10 o'clock this morning.

Even Senators Refused If Unknown to Morgan

(Associated Press.)

J. P. Morgan said yesterday his firm would not accept deposits, even from senators, unless it knew the depositors.

Chairman Fletcher (Democrat), Florida, of the Banking Committee, asked the head of the banking firm if his concern would not accept $10,000 from some one they didn't know, "say myself."

"No," laughed Morgan.. "Not unless we knew you."

"Then I couldn't borrow $10,000, could I?" the Florida senator asked.

"No, Senator," Morgan replied, as the entire chamber joined in the laughter, "not unless you were introduced."

Britain Bars Deductions Based on Capital Losses

(Associated Press.)

Under an interpretation of the British income tax laws by the Commercial Intelligence Division of the Commerce Department, losses of capital, generally, can not be deducted from income tax returns in Great Britain.

The explanation was made yesterday that capital losses, which are taxable, are defined as the loss of money invested as capital.

Losses arising from dealing in securities would be defined as trading losses and deductable from income tax returns, the bureau explained.

It was added that capital gains are not subject to taxation but that trading profits are taxable.

The point arose after J. P. Morgan had testified yesterday that he had paid income taxes in Great Britain for the last two years but had not paid in this country.

Pershing to Speak At Colors Service

Gen. John J. Pershing will march in the procession for the sixth annual massing of the colors service Sunday afternoon in the Cathedral amphitheater on Mount Saint Alban and will deliver a brief greeting to the members of the Military Order of the World War and other patriotic and veteran organizations represented in the congregation. His acceptance was announced by the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, who is to deliver the address on this occasion "in memory of all those who have laid down their lives for their country."

The lesson from the Holy Scripture will be read by Gen. John Ross Delafield, of New York, commander in chief of the Military Order of the World War under whose auspices the service is being held. Canon G. Freeland Peter, chancellor of the Cathedral, will act as master of ceremonies. Chaplain General Arlington A. McCallum and Capt. Howard E. Snyder will also take part in the service.

MITCHELL'S DEALING IN ANACONDA BARED

Prosecutor Turns to Second Charge Against Former Bank Head.

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—United States District Attorney George Z. Medalie turned in Federal court today to the second charge against Charles E. Mitchell—that he pretended to sell in 1930 to W. D. Thornton 8,500 shares of Anaconda stock in order to show a loss on his income tax return.

Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, is on trial for alleged fraudulent failure to pay income tax in 1929 and 1930.

After Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Co., was on the stand as a surprise witness, Daniel T. Bergin, office manager of Hornblower & Weeks, testified about the transaction between Mitchell and Thornton, a friend and business associate of the late John D. Ryan, president of the Anaconda Copper Co.

By records and testimony the jury was told that Thornton, borrowing money from the firm of J. P. Morgan, bought from Mitchell on December 26, 1930, 8,500 shares of Anaconda for $229,500.

For the time being the Morgans, who already held the stock against a loan made to Mitchell in 1929, retained the 8,500 shares, together with 2,500 more as collateral for the loan to Thornton.

"Do you know whose stock that actually was?" asked Max D. Steuer in cross-examination of Bergin about the additional stock. Judge Henry W. Goddard, however, sustained an objection.

On May 4, 1931, the records showed Mitchell, through the Hornblower & Weeks brokerage firm, bought the stock back for $200,000, which he borrowed from the Guaranty Trust Co. Three days later the 8,500 shares, plus the additional 2,500 shares, were delivered to the trust company to be held as collateral for Mitchell's loan there.

"Do these records indicate," Medalie inquired, "the 2,500 shares were transferred to Mr. Mitchell without charging to Mrs. Mitchell?"

"Yes," replied the witness.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Memorial Broadcast

Mrs. Marie Dyer, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of the District of Columbia, has announced that the Memorial Day program of the American Legion Auxiliary will be broadcast from Station WMAL on May 30 at 2:15 p. m. Einer Hoidale, the only Democratic representative in Congress from Minnesota, will deliver the principal address.

Henry C. Nester, Washington's popular barytone, will sing several numbers including "There Is No Death," by O'Hara, and "Flanders' Requiem" (America's answer), by LaForge. Mr. Nester will be accompanied at the piano by Elizabeth Gardner Coombs.

Bekefi's Final Recital To Be Held Tomorrow

The Bekefi Institute of Washington will present its final dance recital tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. in the studio at 2040 S street northwest.

Theodore Bekefi, director, has arranged for this last "visiting day" a varied program, including a presentation of the first ballade of Chopin, ballet scenes from Gluck's "Orpheus," an acrobatic number by Lila Zalipsky and Maurice Delaporte, and numerous other offerings ranging from formal ballet to intricate tap dances.

RARE BEASTS SAVED FROM OCEAN DEATH

Officials Here Revoke Order That Meant "Walking the Plank."

New York, May 24 (U.P.).—Possibility that five rare animals, brought to the United States from Africa, would be made to "walk the plank" at sea because of Federal restrictions resulted today in protests being sent to official Washington. In consequence the creatures were saved.

The animals—a cape buffalo, a gazelle, an antelope and two bush bucks—were aboard the freighter Black Falcon, tied up at Weehawken. They were brought to this country by Capt. Richard Crofton, professional big game hunter, of British East Africa, who was commissioned by Mrs. Laura Corrigan, of Cleveland, to obtain the animals as a gift to the Brookside Park in Cleveland. Mrs. Corrigan is the widow of James Corrigan, steel magnate.

Dr. James Fleming, chief of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry in New York, announced that the five animals could not be permitted in the country because of the danger of disease. Officials of the ship line said the only thing they could do would be to put the animals overboard after passing the 12-mile limit.

Officials of the Guaranty Trust Co., representing Mrs. Corrigan, telephoned protests to Washington and a short time later permission was granted to remove the animals to the Bureau of Industry's farm at Athenia for fifteen days' quarantine.

Train Kills Man, 60, Near Chesterbrook, Va.

Peter Blackwell, 60, colored, was run over and killed instantly late yesterday by a Washington and Old Dominion Railway car near Chesterbrook, Va. Blinded by the rain storm, E. S. Hoffman, motorman on the car, said he did not see the man who was walking along the tracks.

Coroner C. A. Ransom issued a certificate of accidental death.

ANTIPERSECUTION MEETING SET JUNE 5

National Conference Against Germany's Race Moves to Open Here.

Delegates representing professions, business and religious institutions will gather in this city June 5 for an American National Conference against racial persecution in Germany.

A number of letters have been received by the committee arranging the sessions, in approval and indorsing the aims and purposes of the conference. The delegates will represent all sections of the country.

Among those who have stated their willingness to cooperate in the session are:

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland; Gov. and Mrs. Clifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania; Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of the Methodist Episcopal Church of New York; Senator Robert J. Buckley, of Ohio; Senator Felix Hebert, of Rhode Island; Senator Wallace H. White, jr., of Maine; James C. Wallace, exalted ruler of the B. P. O. E.; Prof. Edward Gleason Spaulding, Princeton University; Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Riverside Church, New York City; Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve, Barnard College, Columbia University; Samuel P. THE MORGAN INQUIRY.

Investigations by Congress almost invariably bring forth letters which the authors wish they had never written. A copy of one of these embarrassing documents was produced yesterday in the Senate inquiry into the affairs of J. P. Morgan & Co. A young and enthusiastic member of the firm sent out a letter to "close friends," offering them the opportunity to pick up Allegheny Corporation stock at $20 a share, the price paid for it by the Morgan concern. The stock was selling on the market for $35, but the Morgan partner dismissed this little fact as an evidence of "speculation."

Many prominent men received this flattering evidence of esteem, and they seem to have subscribed to the number of shares allotted to them. The allotments were small in most cases, as the melon had to be cut in a multitude of slices.

Somewhat larger slices were given to members of the Morgan firm, and one of the partners seems to have sold out at a profit of $229,000. Apparently he disagreed with his partner, who had advised the bank's "close friends" that "we are thinking of you," because he did not tell these friends he was selling out.

The present market value of the stock is about $2 a share. Unless the recipients of the Morgan Company's favors adopted the policy of the Morgan partner and sold out while the selling was good, they may now be hoping that Morgan & Co. will drop them from its list of favored friends.

But the money loss suffered by individuals on this list may be small in comparison with other losses. The disclosures had hardly been written down before Senator Borah virtually demanded the resignation of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Woodin, whose name was included in the Morgan list of "close friends." The persons named in this list can not be held even remotely responsible for the disastrous letter written by the enthusiastic Morgan partner, but it is quite possible that there may be a public outcry against such Morgan beneficiaries as may be officeholders. Partisanship will find fuel in these revelations, but impartial citizens will not attach discredit to any man merely because his name is included in what now appears to have been a "sucker list."

One of the disclosures which arouses intense public feeling is the admission that Mr. Morgan and his partners paid no income tax in 1931 and 1932. The firm had heavy losses, but the testimony also indicates that technical losses were timed to enable the partners to avoid taxation. Mr. Morgan admits that he paid an income tax in England while failing to pay one in the United States. He was complying with the letter of the law in each case, but the public is likely to seize upon this example of income tax failure to demand that Congress shall not persist in increasing the income taxes while permitting enormously rich individuals to escape by establishing lawful losses. Coincident with the revelations concerning the Morgan firm are the facts elicited in the trial of Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City bank, who is charged with income tax frauds. This situation gives little comfort to the supporters of the plan to finance the colossal public works program by increasing income taxes. The public wants to know why the ordinary citizen is compelled to pay heavier taxes while millionaires are not compelled to pay. Unless Congress now takes steps to force large fortunes to pay taxes it may be expected that the people will revolt against the present system and elect a Congress that will revise the law.

CAUTIOUS INFLATION.

On a very modest scale the administration has launched its inflation policy. For the present the purchase of Government bonds by the Federal Reserve banks will be limited to $25,000,000. That sum by itself is insignificant, even when compared with the open market operations of last year when $100,000,000 worth of Government bonds was purchased each week for a considerable period. But the initiation of the inflation policy is more important than the extent of the first purchases. If it becomes necessary to carry out the administration policy, $3,000,000,000 can be forced into the banks to finance business expansion.

This modest beginning is no doubt intended to reveal the President's policy. He intends to use the inflation powers granted him by Congress "when, as and if" it becomes necessary to raise the price level and to stimulate business activity. A small order for Government bonds gives notice to the country that the President means business, yet it indicates that the Federal Reserve authorities will be slow to inflate credit by artificial means. It is hoped that a steady improvement of business will carry the country forward without extensive resort to inflation.

Credit expansion of this sort brought a considerable improvement last fall, but it was wiped out by a fresh wave of depression due to political uncertainty. The administration now believes that greater confidence has been restored, and that the money forced out into the banks by the purchase of Government bonds will flow into the channels of trade and industry. A number of factors support this belief. Foremost is the industrial recovery bill now before Congress. It is expected to free industry from stifling competition, to increase purchasing power among the people and to strengthen confidence in the future.

Another factor is the Glass banking bill, which has just been passed by the House. If this measure becomes law, bankers will no longer be apprehensive of bank runs. The Glass bill would insure depositors against loss. One reason why credit pumped into the financial system heretofore has merely remained in the banks is because those institutions have been afraid of unusual demands from depositors and have therefore insisted upon maintaining an excessively liquid position. In spite of the fact that bankers consider the insurance or guarantee of deposits unsound, it will relieve them of the panic fear which has hung heavily over financial centers for two years, and they may be more disposed to make loans for business purposes.

There is still considerable uncertainty due to the fluctuation of the dollar and the world economic conference. But for the moment these factors are pushed into the background. A spirit of optimism seems to have taken possession of the country, and people are becoming more confident that better times are ahead. Indications are that the credit expansion policy will push prices up for a time. In fact, there is considerable danger that it may start a speculation orgy that would lead to another crash. The manner in which this policy is controlled by the Federal Reserve Board may determine, in large measure, the economic well-being of the United States in the next year.

DEFINING THE AGGRESSOR.

President Roosevelt's formula for identifying the aggressor in an international conflict commands attention throughout the world. This is a subject on which statesmen and nations have disagreed for many years. No one has been able to bring forth a satisfactory means of determining in all cases which party to an international conflict is the aggressor. It is not to be supposed that the simple solution offered by Norman H. Davis in behalf of President Roosevelt will command enthusiastic support.

Japanese statesmen express the most vigorous dissent to the President's definition. This is not surprising, of course, because Mr. Roosevelt's definition would immediately place the stamp of the aggressor upon Japan for her invasion of China. Any reasonable definition of aggression would be repugnant to Japan at present. The opposition of the Tokyo government may be discounted in considering the actual merits of the President's suggestion.

In his message to world rulers President Roosevelt suggested an "undertaking by the nations that, subject to existing treaty rights, armed forces should not be sent across national frontiers." Following up this thought Mr. Davis offered this contribution at the disarmament conference in Geneva:

> In the long run we may come to the conclusion that the simplest and most accurate definition of an aggressor is one whose armed forces are found on alien soil in violation of treaties.

The situations which could not be covered by this definition are almost innumerable. Paraguay and Bolivia are now fighting over a boundary dispute. It is impossible to determine whether either has sent its troops into its neighbor's territory. Boundary disputes frequently cause hostilities. Obviously this prominent source of international conflict would not be covered by the Roosevelt formula for identifying aggressors.

Many acts of aggression are committed without any movement of troops whatsoever. Japan, for example, might jeopardize the existence of Great Britain by sinking British merchant vessels upon the high seas. It is difficult to imagine a more deliberate and clear-cut act of aggression from the British point of view. Yet Japan would not be condemned under the formula outlined by Ambassador Davis. Devastating wars could be fought on the seas without a single soldier of any nation landing on foreign soil.

A nation might bring about intolerable conditions without actually sending its troops abroad. A raid by bombing planes might slaughter thousands in a neighboring country, without landing any troops. Many acts of aggression may be perpetrated aside from invasion of a neighbor's territory. The Davis formula covers only one rather small angle of a very complicated problem.

Efforts to set up machinery for the preservation of peace have repeatedly failed because of the difficulty of finding any satisfactory method of defining the aggressor. Few cases of aggression are as clear and obvious as the invasion of China by Japan, and yet the League of Nations seems to be unable to act in that matter.

The Geneva conference is again face to face with the task of working out a definition of aggression. Its security commission recommends that any nation should be considered an aggressor if it is first to declare war, to invade the territory of another state, to make an attack by land, naval or air forces, to effect a naval blockade, or to support within its territory armed bands which have invaded another state or to refuse to deprive such bands of protection. This definition is much more inclusive than the simple Roosevelt-Davis formula, but it does not cover all situations that may arise. Even if the conference should agree upon a definition, the aggressor might cheerfully pursue his aggression, as Japan is doing, unless some nations are willing to risk their money and their manhood to fight battles in which they may have no direct concern.

SUGAR AND COTTON.

The interdependence of American industries is well illustrated by a study just completed under the direction of Charles S. Young, of the United States Beet Sugar Association. The industry which Mr. Young represents will sell 2,800,000,000 pounds of sugar to the American public as the result of this year's operations. Bags to put this sugar on the market will require 50,000,000 square yards of cotton cloth. Both the sugar and the cotton are produced by Americans within the borders of the United States.

Special efforts are being made within the sugar industry to increase the consumption of American cotton. Experiments show that in many cases cotton bags are more satisfactory than the large imported hemp bags formerly used. The demand for cotton cloth in the sugar industry has steadily expanded, until it now requires 308,450 acres of cotton land to supply this one industry with bags for marketing its product.

There is a tendency in some quarters to consider the domestic beet sugar industry a liability because it can not produce sugar as cheaply as it is produced in tropical climates. But this industry affords an enormous outlet for American cotton and it makes use of large areas of land that would otherwise be planted in wheat and other surplus crops, in addition to providing a considerable part of the domestic sugar supply. A blow at the domestic sugar industry would be a blow at the cotton grower and farmers in general. No American industry can be sacrificed without producing repercussions all through the industrial system.

Activity in one American factory is stimulated by activity in another American factory. The secret of the United States' rapid development is the advancement of many industries in a way that makes them contributory to one another, and the protection of those industries against disastrous foreign competition from countries operating on lower economic standards.

Some of the London papers make the quaint, old-fashioned suggestion that President Roosevelt's proposals will not amount to much unless they are approved by Congress. It's hard for foreigners to keep up with political changes in America.

New Yorkers are alarmed over the invasion of "termites" that are eating the foundations from under their homes. Washington has been infested for years, but it calls them "lobbyists."

Farmers are hoping that world cooperation will soon cure the depression so that they can get higher tariffs for wheat and beef.

J. P. Morgan & Co. lost $300,000,000 during the depression, which is a hint to pikers that they need not brag.

NAVY CURSES

From the Boston Transcript.

The Army swore terribly in Flanders, but sailors in the American Navy must not swear either afloat or ashore. Orders to that effect are reported. It will, presumably, be permissible to continue use of the expressions "Oh, yeah!" and "You're telling me!" They are not profane. They are worse, and prompt the wish that an exception might be made to the new rule, so that the enlisted man might be forgiven were he to resort to the robust maritime language now tabooed instead of using one of these locutions.

Officers will naturally be expected to set an example to their men. There is precedent for the expectation. Did not Sir Joseph Porter rebuke Capt. Corcoran, of the good ship Pinafore, when he exclaimed, "Yes, dam' me, it's too bad?"

Sir Joseph might approve the new regime in the American Navy, but it would seem strange to naval commanders of a past generation. It is difficult to picture Farragut on an August morning in Mobile Bay remarking from his place in the shrouds, "Please ignore the torpedoes and kindly go ahead." Still the old Navy could give hints to the new. It had expressions forceful but not profane. "Shiver my timbers" comes to mind. It would have the added advantage in the twentieth century of being entirely rhetorical. There are no timbers in a steel vessel.

Our modern sailors living under an edict against swear words probably will not hesitate to live up to a much-quoted injunction. If they perforce speak softly, they may still, figuratively speaking, carry a big stick for use when occasion warrants.

The Alibi.

POST HASTE.

The facility with which Ambassador Davis scraps American traditions ought to be an object lesson to Geneva on armaments.

Concentrating offensive weapons in the League's backyard would make it very handy for the first aggressor strong enough to grab them.

Anybody who thought the French would talk disarmament before they knew the terms of security was a poor judge of common or French sense.

A forest camp for Amazonian wood nymphs might be popular, but the suggestion that they could only attend the tree nurseries will be resented.

That sulking group in the congressional corner is the bunch that thought the relief billions were going to be provided with thin air flat.

Upon what basis, do you suppose, does Viscount Ishii expect Japanese assurances of cooperation for world peace and welfare to be accepted?

Cubin rebels are greatly disappointed with the inefficiency of Ambassador Sumner Welles, who has been in Havana a week and hasn't kicked President Machado out of office.

The present price boomlet is now described as "speculative anticipation" of inflation, and the diagnosers say hurry up with real inflation before we have a bear raid.

Which illustrates the great fault of all kinds of inflationary remedies; another shot is continually needed as the effect wears off.

Open market operations to buy $25,000,000 in Government bonds are hailed as a first step in inflation. Longer steps were taken last year when the Federal Reserve was buying nearly four times that much a week without making much of a ripple.

A small and exclusive club can soon be formed of the remaining public characters who have not been impeached by Representative McFadden.

An active man like Jim Farley has to keep busy, so, in addition to running postal affairs and patronage, he will take charge of the repeal campaign.

Some folks who are exercised over the excise taxes excoriate those who exorcised the sales tax without exoteric excogitation.

A BANKER'S LOT.

The self-same man who long ago
Loud grumbled at the banker's "No!"
Now whimpers through today's distress
Because too often he said: "Yes!"

In times departed oft we'd cry:
"The banker has a fishy eye!
It makes no difference how we plead,
He will not lend the cash we need."

But now to our dismay we find
The banker oft has been too kind.
Today he's everywhere abused
For loans which should have been refused.

We used to quit him with a frown
The mornings when he turned us down.
Now epithets at him we throw
For saying "yes" instead of "no."

A sorry life the banker leads.
There's little glory in his deeds.
When he says "no," the people curse;
When he says "yes," it's even worse.

The Apple Would Have Meant Little If Newton Had Been Plowing.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

REDUCING the number of working hours to 30 a week should in time give America a universal culture such as the world has never seen.

What will the people do with their new leisure?

We know what middle-aged people do when they have abundant leisure and little money to spend. We can observe them at popular resorts. They play bridge or pitch horseshoes or sit on benches and gaze for hours at nothing.

And we know what young people do when they have no duties and too much money. They find reckless play or cultivate expensive vices to escape boredom.

But what will the idle do if they are young and eager to be doing something and have little money to spend?

Whatever else they may do, they will think.

You have read that the beginning of all culture is leisure. That is true, but there is little truth in the usual definition of culture.

There is no culture where people must drudge all their days to earn bread. There must be an accumulated surplus or an easy existence to provide leisure.

But the culture born of leisure doesn't consist in knowing the names of artists, nor in the ability to discuss their works. One might know every painter, sculptor, musician and author of the past and present and yet in a true sense possess no culture at all.

Knowing the man who plays the bull fiddle in the orchestra doesn't make one a musician. And ability to quote batting averages doesn't make one a ball player.

Culture began before the dawn of history when a hairy cave man, kept indoors by inclement weather, improved his leisure by chalking pictures of a bison on the cave wall.

When we speak of the culture of the Aztecs, we are not speaking of those who knew about it but of those who achieved it—the makers of pottery and jewelry and those who devised a calendar and built archless temples.

The cultured are those who can dream beautiful and useful things and then make them. And their culture begins with the leisure to think.

Our civilization was built by dreamers. Every discovery was made by one who had time to think.

And when trained youth, ambition, security and leisure are combined, this civilization should cover more ground in ten years than a work-weary generation covers in fifty.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Japan's Campaign.

Houston Post.

Japan's anxiously awaited reply to President Roosevelt's peace proposal has been received. It reveals a realization of the dangerous position in which Japan would place herself by rejecting its two main proposals, of eliminating offensive weapons and of nonaggression, together with a desire to strike a shrewd bargain in return for accepting them.

Just let the Great Wall be recognized as the southern border of Manchukuo, her puppet state, says Tokyo, and the present drive on Peiping will be halted, the troops withdrawn from China proper and we shall promise not to cross any one's frontiers thereafter.

Very pretty, isn't it? The Manchurian conquest to be secured by abandonment of an increasingly difficult and precarious adventure to the southward. Japan could almost certainly take Peiping and Tientsin in her stride. She could probably march on down to Shanghai, even to Canton, with no serious difficulty. But every day the campaign is extended the costs mount in men and money and every step southward means further antagonism not only of China, who may not count for much at the moment, but of the powerful nations of the West.

The selection by President Roosevelt of the head of an obscure college in Ohio to direct the gigantic Tennessee Valley development and reclamation project has elicited no adverse criticism for the very good reason that the selection can not be criticized. Arthur Ernest Morgan, who will launch the operation of Muscle Shoals and perpetuate that giant hydroelectric plant, was not chosen for his place in the educational world. He was picked because of his record as a flood control expert, because of his success in harnessing torrential streams and of reclaiming desert wastes.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

HAVE YOU A LITTLE TERMITE IN YOUR HOME?

As if the country didn't have troubles enough, somebody has discovered we have a termite plague. It has nothing to do with the currency question, Muscle Shoals or bad banking. A termite is a bug.

• • • •

The termite is a housewrecking cockroach. It is a timber-chewing insect with an insatiable appetite for raw wood. It is a sort of combination house-swallowing flea, beam-eating ant and joist-chewing beetle.

• • • •

It literally eats you out of house and home, and you don't know it until you notice you are standing in a pile of sawdust.

• • • •

A floor board is its idea of an appetizer. It goes through a balustrade for an entree, swallows the cellar stairs as the main course and thinks the choicest dessert in the world is a wooden bed.

• • • •

It has been in existence for three hundred million years, or just 299 million years longer than the human race, scientists say, but it never made any real headway in America until the last Republican administration.

• • • •

It is the only national misfortune discovered too late to blame Herbert Hoover.

• • • •

The termite is never seen. It works under cover like a Washington lobbyist. Wooden buildings are its grand passion and it is never happier than when chewing away crossbeams. The tenant never knows he has termites until the baby grand suddenly drops through the floor, or grandma's crutches give way without warning.

• • • •

They chew the legs off chairs, eat doorjambs, devour golf clubs and have been known to work on a bridge table for years so it would collapse under a grand slam.

• • • •

The most dejected looking of all insects is a termite that has worked fifty or sixty years on an iron bed before discovering its error.

• • • •

In New York termites got into a courthouse and undermined the structure.

• • • •

Judging from some of the recent decisions they probably got into the judges as well.

• • • •

And they are reported in several Broadway theaters. But nobody cares. The theaters' owners are in such bad shape they welcome any tenant.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Why Guarantee Railway Workers' Wages and Penalize Federal Workers?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I protest against the entirely one-sided favoritism shown organized labor in the railroad reorganization bill as amended Friday by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to insure railroad workers their jobs and at present wages. Not that I, like every one else, would not like to see these safeguards thrown around these workers, but because no such favor was shown to the Federal employes in the reorganization of the Government departments. Not only were their salaries greatly reduced, but provision was made for wholesale dismissals and these drastic provisions apply to every department of the service.

There is no good reason why any such rank discrimination should be made in favor of workers for the railroads as against Federal employes. Congress well knows this fact. Moreover, it is self-evident that the railroad bill will be greatly handicapped and rendered useless if the present guarantee provision is accepted by both Houses. If it is to accomplish the economies and savings intended the bill should not contain any reference to these guarantees. If, on the other hand, Congress feels disposed to write this guarantee into the bill, then let it be fair by amending the similar bill covering the reorganization of the Government departments to eliminate the salary reduction and dismissal provisions. Japanese Delegates Are Entertained by President.

THE PRESIDENT entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of the Japanese delegate to his conferences, Viscount Kikujiro Ishii. The other guests were the Ambassador of Japan, Mr. Katsuji Debuchi; Mr. Eigo Fukai, Mr. Juichi Tsushima, Mr. Toshihiko Taketomi, counselor of the embassy; the Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull; the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Daniel C. Roper; Senator Key Pittman, Senator Charles L. McNary, Senator Clarence C. Dill, Representative Joseph W. Byrns, Representative Sam D. McReynolds, Representative James W. Wadsworth, jr.; the Chief of the Far Eastern Division of the State Department, Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck; Mr. Richard Southgate, Mr. Perry Belmont, Capt. Walter N. Vernou and Col. Campbell B. Hodges.

The table was decorated with pink roses, columbine and maidenhair ferns.

Last evening Viscount Ishii and some of the delegates dined with Ambassador and Mme. Debuchi, when the Financial Attache of the Embassy, Mr. Juichi Tsushima was in the company, while others of the delegation were entertained at dinner by the First Secretary of the Embassy, Mr. Kosaku Midsuzawa, at Normandy Farm in Maryland.

Today the delegation will be entertained at luncheon by the Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, and this evening Ambassador and Mme. Debuchi will entertain at a formal dinner in their honor, followed by a reception at 10 o'clock.

Tomorrow the delegates will be entertained informally at dinner by Ambassador and Mme Debuchi, while some members of the delegation will be entertained at a tea and buffet supper by the Counselor of the Embassy and Mme. Taketomi. The Overseas Writers Association will give a luncheon on Saturday for the delegation, and that evening the delegation will give a dinner before leaving Washington Sunday morning for New York.

Lady Lindsay, wife of the Ambassador of Great Britain, has gone to Long Island for a short visit and will return the first of the week.

The Ambassador of Cuba and Senora de Cintes will entertain at dinner Saturday evening in the Embassy.

The Minister of Denmark, Mr. Otto Wadsted, will entertain at a men's dinner on Saturday evening in the Legation on Belmont street.

The Minister of China, Dr. Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, left yesterday for New York, where he will be for several days.

Secretary and Mrs. Dern To Live at Highwood.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. George H. Dern have rented the house of Mrs. Henry C. Corbin, Highwood, on the outskirts of Chevy Chase, and will probably make their home there for the next four years. They will take possession of the house within the next week or so.

Senator Joseph Robinson has gone to New York for a short visit.

Mrs. Davis, wife of Senator James J. Davis, entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall.

Mrs. Frederick Van Nuys, wife of Senator Van Nuys, will entertain informally at luncheon tomorrow in honor of Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall.

Representative and Mrs. Chester Bolton will entertain at a garden party Sunday afternoon when their guests will include the members of the Ohio delegation in Congress and their wives. Mrs. Bolton has recently returned to Washington after a short visit to New York.

Representative R. E. Thomason, the president of the Texas Club, announces that the next meeting will be tomorrow evening at the Shoreham. This will be the last meeting of the season and there will be an election of officers. The election committee is composed of Mrs. Luther Johnson, Dr. B. Youngblood and Judge Eugene Black. Following the business meeting there will be a short program, after which there will be dancing and cards for those who wish to play. The program committee consists of Mrs. Theodore L. An Exhibit of Choice Peonies and Late-Blooming Varieties of Irís
Arranged through the co-operation of Earl Wooddell Sheets (Treholme Gardens)
From the actual flowers shown, order roots (to be delivered in the Fall, at proper time for planting)

We are showing the very latest introductions and rarest novelties, from our own country and from foreign countries. Scores of the standard, best known, and most successfully grown varieties are also on exhibit.
Flower growers—experienced in the culture of peonies and iris—are in attendance, to explain the merits of the different varieties, and to aid you in making selections. All blooms are plainly marked for your convenience in selecting roots. Although grouped in assortments, you may select varieties individually—as in previous years—at this year's catalogue prices, which are unusually low.
Special Iris Collections—Low Priced
Standard Iris Collection No. 2—50 Choice Colors and Varieties $6
All labeled—would regularly be $10. Included in the group are such choice varieties as Caprice, Lohengrin, Monsignor, Prosper Laugier, Quaker Lady, and Troost.
Rainbow Iris Collection No. 3—50 Choice Varieties and Colors..... $9
50 fine roots, selected from recent introductions; all labeled. Would regularly be $15. Included in the group are such choice varieties as Edouard Michel, Ma Mie, Queen Caterina, and Seminole.
Prize-Winning Iris Collection No. 4—50 Best New Varieties $12
All colors, for exhibition or garden purposes; all labeled. Such a group would regularly be $20. Included are such famous varieties as Ambassadeur Lord of June, Souvenir de Mme. Gaudichau, Susan Bliss, Taj Mahal, and Tenebrae.
Special Peony Collections—Low Priced
No. 2 Choice Peony Collection—20 Selected Varieties, Regularly $10 ..... $6

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

IF former Representative Ewin L. Davis, of Tennessee, new chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, is as drastic in correcting trade practices as he was in amending the radio act, he will be a factor to be reckoned with in the business world.

Judge Davis was the author of the now famous "Davis amendment" of the radio law, which was framed for the purpose of equalizing the radio facilities of the country. The Davis amendment declared that the people of all the zones were entitled to equality of radio broadcasting, and that in order to provide this the licensing authorities shall as nearly as possible make and maintain an equal allocation of licenses, of frequencies, of power and of time of operation to each zone, and shall make a fair and equitable allocation to each of the States in any zone according to population.

The Davis amendment was forever summed last week in the sweeping decision of the Supreme Court, written by Chief Justice Hughes.

Perhaps it may now be told that because of his knowledge of radio and the important part he had in framing the radio act and because of his knowledge of shipping gained in long service in the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee of the House, Secretary of Commerce Roper wanted Judge Davis to be Assistant Secretary of Commerce in Charge of Communications and Transportation, should the Radio and Interstate Commerce Commission be transferred to the Commerce Department.

Joan Blondell, motion picture star, and Belle Baker, vaudeville songstress, will be Rudy Vallee's guests on the Sunshine Hour over WRC tonight at 7 p. m.

The Sisters of the Skillet and a Metropolitan Opera chorus of 21 mixed voices, featuring Attilio Ruffo, barytone soloist, will be the other features.

Fish stories—real, honest fish stories—take their place on the air waves of WJSV tonight at 8:15 o'clock. The teller of these tales of the rod and the stream is to be H. P. Somerville. His first talk will probably have to do with Chesapeake Bay fishing.

COL. THAD BROWN, Federal Radio Commissioner, made quite a speech at the dedication of WRVA's new station at Richmond.

"No station in the entire United States is surrounded with finer traditions, more poignant memories and scenes of greater historical action than WRVA is," Col. Brown declared. "There stand never-to-be-forgotten monuments of a conflict which produced such extraordinary men in such a brief time.

"Although radio broadcasting was unknown in Thomas Jefferson's time, much of his writings upon his philosophy of government and society are directly applicable to radio broadcasting, particularly his persistent advocacy of education for rich and poor, and his passionate devotion to the right of free speech. In radio, science has at last discovered an instrumentality capable of fulfilling the magnificent heritage left by him."

In response to inquiries, the theme for Poetry and Music is a composition of Adolf Torovsky's and the words are Shelley's. Tonight Bagranoff, tenor, will feature Mr. Torovsky's song, "Dawn," on the broadcast at 8 o'clock over WMAL.

Hereafter Poetry and Music will be heard at this hour Thursdays instead of 9:30 as heretofore.

A debate on the subject of confiscation of wealth will be presented by students of Beloit College, Wisconsin, and of the University of Chicago this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, over WMAL. Beloit will take the affirmative and Chicago the negative on the topic, "Resolved, That the Government should limit incomes to $50,000."

FLOYD GIBBONS will be on WMAL tonight at 7:45 o'clock with another of his "Century of Progress" talks from Chicago.

"The Short Story and Other Literary Pains," by George Bement, assistant professor of English at George Washington University (WMAL, 7:31 p. m.) sounds as if a few popular writers might be knocked off their pedestals.

Col. Stoopnagle and Budd will celebrate their second anniversary on the network with special ceremonies over WJSV at 8:30 p. m. Ordinarily two years is not regarded as a lengthy period of time; nevertheless, these two comedians claim to have been heard on the air longer than any other comic act. On their anniversary program the Colonel and his partner will feature a "See-back-o-graph" review of their radio doings. They also will repeat their initial broadcast, including their impression of how they felt at the time.

It was in May, 1931, that F. Chase Taylor, a former vice president of a Buffalo, N. Y., stock brokerage concern, and Wilbur Budd Hulick, one-time night manager of a Buffalo soda fountain and candy shop, stepped before a microphone in the studios of WABC, New York, to present their first network broadcast as Col. Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle and Budd.

The celebration of National Argentine Day will be heard in this country over WMAL from the studios of Radio Splendide, in Buenos Aires, at 9:30 p. m. There will be music by a typical Argentine orchestra of twenty pieces, with Lewis Diaz and Mercedes Simone as soloists, with an accompaniment of guitars.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN with the stellar cast from New York will very likely be worth waiting up for tonight. Tune in on WRC at 10:30 p. m., for this.

Shades of Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn and Becky Thatcher will throng aboard the Show Boat tonight, when she churns into her landing in Hannibal, Mo. This old river town, rich in the memory of everyone who ever adventured with Tom and Huck, was the town where Mark Twain grew up.

That wasn't a dog you heard barking for Molasses 'n' January last Thursday night. It was radio's premier barker—Brandley Barker—yes, that's really his name. But if you make any puns about it you may find that his bite is worse than his bark.

Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the United States Mint, will participate in a symposium on "What Women Require of Civilization," over WRC at 4 p. m. The others will be Dr. Elizabeth Faulkner Baker, of Barnard College, economist; Lena Madesin Phillips, president of the National Council of Women; Ruth St. Denis, dancer, and Halo Chadwick, of Smith College. Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, consulting engineer, will preside.

MEMBERS of the New York Electrical Society inspected the 850-foot central building of Radio City in New York and investigated some of the curious scientific anomalies resulting from the structure's great size and height.

One of the experiments conducted while the party was on the roof, 850 feet above the street, included the dropping of a plummet down an elevator shaft to show that a body falling from this great height does not fall absolutely vertically downward—that is, does not follow a plumb-line downward, but because of the earth's rotations is carried about five and one-third inches to the eastward.

Also is was revealed that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in his new offices on the upper floors of the 70-story structure, will have the experience of traveling more than a mile farther each day.

The electric eyes which control the elevator doors in the RCA Building came in for careful examination. One portly lady in the party unconsciously protruded slightly across the elevator threshold, causing an eclipse of the electric eye on guard. Instantly this celctric automaton took control of the situation, reopened the elevator doors and blocked the elevator from moving until the portly lady could be gotten back within bounds.

A New Yorker At Large

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK—Turning the pages of a London newspaper the other morning, I observed a social paragraph recording that the most popular beauty at a party given for Prince George was Constance Cummings "being very demure and pretty in a white starched Schiaparelli."

Here, indeed, is a modern Cinderella story. Four years ago the auburn haired Miss Cummings left her Oregon home and came to Broadway to be a chorus girl in the first "Little Show." It was happenchance that back-stage of that same theater was a cooperative office maintained by the town's several Broadway reporters.

Between numbers, Constance was constantly invading the office. "I want to be a dramatic actress," was her eternal plea. "As what chorus girl doesn't?" was usually the retort.

She Gets a Part.

Finally, for the sake of peace, those reporters did wangle a walk-on part for her in a play. Soon she was understudy to the leading woman, and soon after was on her way to Hollywood, where she has done, as you probably know, more than rather well.

Now she is the most sought after beauty at Prince George's reception, but what I started to report is a little incident that happened the night she sailed for England.

Her boat was due to depart at midnight, but first she had planned to see Eva Le Gallienne in "Alice in Wonderland." Accompanied by Peggy Conklin, another chorus girl who has risen to become one of Broadway's leading ingenues, she went to the show carrying five large hand bags, which she checked.

Rushing for her boat after the show, this Hollywood pretty never thought of taking a taxicab or private limousine. Carrying the luggage in hand, she and Peggy, never forgetting their struggling days as chorus girls, rushed for the subway, and from the subway station, they had to carry the heavy bags another three blocks to the ship's pier.

Grounds for Divorce.

And here should be reported the tragedy of a woman novelist who recently hurtled herself across the continent to acquire a divorce in Reno. Although in her fiction she always was able to have the heroine cleverly lead the hero to water and make him drink, she found it a very different extension in real life.

"Our attorney, wise in such cases, quickly saw what the trouble was and attempted to soothe the troubled lawyer.

"I don't need to tell me the story," he said. "I know exactly. It's a case of unbearable incompatibility."

"You are right," the woman replied. "He'd hit me in the nose, and I could never hit him back."

TRACTION COMPANY EARNS $13,368 NET

April Profits $8,718 Under 1932 Period; Women Bankers Meet.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Net income of Capital Traction Co. for April was $13,368.72, the statement of that company filed yesterday with the Public Utilities Commission reveals. This was a decrease of $8,719.48 from that of the month a year ago.

For the first four months of the current year, the net income item reveals a deficit of $4,044.90, as against a surplus of $50,836.38 for the corresponding period last year, a net decrease of $54,872.58.

L. Clark Brown and Wilfred L. Goodwyn, jr., who have represented Harris, Forbes & Co. and subsequently Chase Harris Forbes Corporation in Washington and in the State of Virginia for some years, announced yesterday the formation of their own investment firm.

New Firm's Name.

The new concern is to be known as Brown, Goodwyn & Co., and will be equipped to do a general business in government, municipal and corporate securities. The company will have as its New York correspondents Mosiapple, Safford & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, which firm is composed almost entirely of former Harris, Forbes & Co. men.

Brown, Goodwyn & Co. will conduct its business in the same quarters in the American Security Building that Chase-Harris-Forbes Corporation has occupied for some time.

International Business Machines Corporation has ordered the modernization of machinery and equipment of the company's plants at Endicott, N. Y.; Dayton and Washington, D. C. In addition, orders have been given to increase inventories of raw materials and other supplies above their present levels.

Week Is Extended.

In making this announcement, Thomas J. Watson, president, reported that the company's main plant at Endicott has just been put on a 40-hour instead of a 38-hour weekly basis, and is operating two eight-hour shifts in some of its manufacturing departments. This has necessitated the employment of additional men, Mr. Watson stated.

The modernization program is in addition to the normal maintenance work of the company, he explained. "Business is improving steadily," Mr. Watson said. "These plans and expenditures are the best indication of our confidence in the continuance of the general business improvement."

The corporation has declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on the capital stock, payable July 10, to holders of record June 22.

The Bank Women's Club of Washington will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at the Parrot Tea Room, at 6 o'clock. Miss Elizabeth M. Ramey, president, Business and Professional Women's Club of Alexandria, Va., will be the guest speaker.

Freight Loadings Slightly Lower

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—Freight loadings of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway last week totaled 20,699 cars compared with 21,340 in the previous week and 19,894 a year ago.

The St. Paul's loadings last week totaled 21,683 cars as compared with 22,846 in the preceding week and 20,429 in the corresponding week of 1932.

Illinois Central loadings last week totaled 23,329 cars against 23,633 in the previous week and 23,010 in the same week last year.

Wabash Railway had total loadings of 10,894 cars compared with 10,976 in the previous week and 11,808 in the like 1932 period.

Exports of Grain Up 222,000 Units

(Associated Press.)

Grain exports last week from the United States amounted to 306,000 bushels against 84,000 the previous week and 2,774,000 the corresponding week of last year. Commerce Department figures yesterday gave the following comparisons between last week and those for the week before.

Wheat, 4,000 bushels, against 4,000; barley, 138,000, against none; corn, 158,000, against 37,000; oats, 6,000, against 43,000. No exports of rye were reported for either week.

Canadian grain exported last week from United States ports totaled 507,000 bushels, against 426,000 bushels the previous week, while exports of North American wheat flour were 44,000 barrels, against 44,000 barrels.

International Phone Writes Down Assets

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—The 1932 pamphlet report of International Telephone & Telegraph Co. shows that directors approved a $35,759,598 write-down in certain assets of the system.

Of this total $3,288,980 was charged to reserve for depreciation and $1,132,603 to equities in surplus of minority common stockholders of subsidiaries. The balance was charged against a new account, reserve for revaluation of assets, to the credit of which an appropriation of $41,338,603 was made out of earned and capital surplus.

1932 Cotton Production Put at 13,002,000 Bales

(Associated Press.)

Revised estimates of the 1932 cotton crop issued yesterday by the Department of Agriculture placed production at 13,002,000 equivalent 500-pound bales and ginnings at 13,001,508 equivalent 500-pound bales, with yield of lint 173.5 pounds per acre picked.

Production for 1931 was 17,096,000 equivalent 500-pound bales and ginnings were 17,096,594 equivalent 500-pound bales with yield of lint 201.9 pounds per acre picked.

Teachers' Society To Elect Officers

The annual combined business and social meeting of the local High School Teachers Association will be held at the American Association of University Women Clubhouse, 1634 I street northwest, Thursday, at 8 p. m. Miss Dorothea Sherman, outgoing president, will preside.

Miss Marguerite Manning, chairman of the committee on education, will deliver a report on the investigation to determine the relations between junior and senior high schools in Washington.

An important feature of the meeting will be the election of officers, ballots having been submitted by Mrs. Moylin Sams, chairman of the nominating committee. Delegates to the National Education Association convention in Chicago also will be selected.

Social Agencies Council Names Committee Heads

Standing committees for the coming year were named yesterday by the board of directors of the Council of Social Agencies at its monthly meeting. Dr. Frederic W. Perkins, president of the council, presided.

Chairmen named yesterday were Dr. Joseph W. Mountin, of the U. S. Public Health Service, chairman of the health committee; Mrs. Wilson Compton, recreation committee; Lewis Meriam, Brookings Institute, research and statistics; Miss Gertrude H. Bowling, director of the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society, Social Service Exchange; Walter Davidson, assistant manager of the Eastern area of the American Red Cross, family welfare committee. The chairman of the child welfare division has not yet been selected.

Your Child

By MRS. AGNES LYNE

Hitting His Parents.

CHILDREN in anger or apparently without reason at all sometimes try to hit their parents.

In the first instance the situation probably is the result of past mistaken attitudes and methods of discipline on the part of the parent; in the second, with an occurrence only a child analyst could understand.

But in either case the way for the parent to meet the difficulty is not with physical punishment. This can only further excite the child to combat, and crush him finally in the most humiliating sort of physical defeat—an experience which must be profoundly and lastingly harmful to the parent-child relation.

It is perhaps not easy to keep wise and cool at such a trying moment, but if the parent is firmly disapproving at the child's first attempt to hit him, this usually suffices.

Where it does not, it may be necessary to take the child into another room and tell him that he must remain alone until he is able to come back and behave himself.

The isolation must not be carried out dramatically with a great show of emotion, but done quietly in an entirely matter-of-fact way.

The Meanderer

Strolls and Shops on Connecticut Avenue; Finds Beautiful China, Glassware, Linen; Outdoor Lunch-Dinner Garden Serving Beer.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205. Extention 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

May morning on Connecticut avenue . . . summer-like warmth and sunshine on gleaming motor cars with their noiseless motion . . . on leisurely persons immaculately attired . . . where walking sticks are almost the rule among dapper masculinity . . . where fragile women exclaim "I cawn't stand this sunshine," on this day the Meanderer thought so glorious! . . . where three out of five women wear black, svelte gowns or suits with relieving touches of crisp white . . . where a debonair male wears a gray plaid suit, a blue-banded gray hat and a purple pansy boutonnier . . . where a charming blonde girl wears blue linen and her mother is far from negative in an all-gray hand-knitted suit . . . where flower carts are decorative and essential to the scene . . . where flower shops show big blue jugs of purple iris . . . where almost every shop window shows wares worth into hundreds and thousands of dollars . . . where, indeed, the Meanderer should have a fertile field for poking into things to tell readers about.

Nine types of stemware glasses in brilliant blue or black are featured in a large Connecticut avenue china and glassware house this week for 25 cents each. The shopper who sees the sunlight falling on the blue glassware will feel the need immediately for some of the glasses for a sunny spot in the dining room.

In the same big china and glass shop on this smart thoroughfare tall glasses with gay stripings for iced tea or beer are good values at 15 cents each. Beer mugs that are indeed unusual follow old designs of Georgian and colonial cuts, but their prices are as reasonable as 25 and 50 cents each. Stengl pottery beer sets of seven pieces in nice blue and green shades are $4.50. Copper beer sets may be most attractively assembled from these items: A well-designed big copper pitcher for 3; tankard type copper mugs, 50 cents each, and an unusually nice copper bowl, which has a rack for glasses, under which ice is placed, or in which pretzels may be stored.

Glistening decanters of Belgian or Swedish crystal are graceful and extremely decorative—perhaps useful, with prohibition in uncertain state. Their price is not prohibitive to those who know values in fine crystals.

Charm, indeed, has another decanter the Meanderer found in a smaller Connecticut avenue shop. It is of Spanish glass in a green shade indescribably nice—probably chartreuse is nearly the right color word. The chartreuse decanter of such interesting glass has a price tag of $3.50, but this shop is now in the midst of its annual sale, during which all wares have a discount of 20 per cent, so you see the decanter would cost less than $3. The Meanderer was unable to resist a pair of small-lidded jugs in deep blue Spanish glass, which might have a dozen uses—jam jars, flower jugs, rose jars, &c.—and with the discount the little jugs were only 80 cents each. They may be bought separately.

Stocks Surge Forward Again to New High Levels

Rails and Industrials Lead as Sales Climb to 4,720,000 Shares.

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—Markets maintained their upward direction today, activity being especially noticeable on security exchanges.

At the close the general stock average was in new high ground for the year, though final prices on the whole were somewhat under the top. Group strength was evident in steel, alcohol, tobacco and rail issues; utilities had a calmer market.

On the basis of closing composite prices, the carrier and industrial divisions, as well as the general 90-stock average, attained new 1933 highs, the fomer bettering its 1933 top, a feat which chart followers found encouraging inasmuch as industrials had previously made a similar record. Sales totaled 4,730,000 shares.

Credit Expansion Aid.

Some momentum for the rise appeared to have been provided by word that credit expansion under the new law was being undertaken by the Federal Reserve system.

Initial purchases of Government securities are to total around $35,000,000, whereas last year's open market activities of the central banks witnessed, for a time, a weekly increase of $100,000,000 in the system's portfolio. This is a small beginning on a potential expension of three billions; how fast the pace is accelerated, bankers expect, will depend on conditions, just as may the exercise of other currency powers recently given the President.

If inflation was an influence on markets, business news was again of a nature to tempt speculative appetites, for midweek trade indicators were cheerful, embracing gains in steel and electric power output, as well as favorable car loadings. Many stocks reached new highs on a rise of 1 to 3 points, the upper level of that range being exceeded by a few. Frequent ripples of profit-taking brought out good support, but most of the extreme gains were cut.

Union Pacific Feature.

Union Pacific was a feature, soaring $8.100 for a net gain of 8½. National Distillers and Libby-Owens-Ford followed several points before settling down.

United States Steel, General Electric, American Telephone, International Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Kennecott and Anaconda were up fractions at the close.

American Can, Case, Illinois Central, New York Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Du Pont, National Biscuit, Sears-Roebuck, Liggett & Myers B, Westinghouse and U. S. Steel preferred closed 1 to 2 higher, while National Steel was up nearly 4.

BONDS CLIMB AGAIN TO 1933 PEAK LEVELS

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—The bond market moved up to another new 1933 peak today and all classes of listed loans recorded gains ranging from 1 to 4 or more points.

It was the most active session in more than two weeks, sales totaling $18,918,000, par value, against $12,842,000 yesterday. The average for 60 domestic corporate issues advanced 4 point to 74.2. Continuation of the upturn was attributed partly to announcement from Washington that the Federal Reserve System would purchase $25,000,000 of Government securities in the open market.

Electric Power Production Gains as Industry Revives

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—Further gains in electric power output for the United States, as the result of the continued improvement of business and industry, were reported today by the Edison Electric Institute.

For the week ended May 20, electric power production for the country totaled 1,488,090,000 kilowatt hours compared with 1,468,035,000 in the previous week and 1,458,731,000 for the similar week in 1932. The percentage gain over last year's period was 3.3. Last week this gain was 2.2 per cent. This was the largest percentage increase since the week ended April 5, 1930. Gains have been growing the first week of this month.

Hop Prices Firm.

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—Hops, firm, unchanged.

FLOUR MARKETS.

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—FLOUR—Firm; spring patents, 4.75@5.10; soft winter straights, 4.45@4.60; hard winter straights, 4.80@5.10.

RYE FLOUR—Firm; fancy patents, 4.15@4.40.

Minneapolis, May 24 (A.P.).—FLOUR—10 higher; family patents, 5.15@5.35 a barrel in 98-lb. cotton sacks; shipments, 17,447.

BRAN—10.50@11.00.

CURB PRICES HIGHER UNDER FRESH BUYING

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—The Curb Market went into higher ground today under the impetus of fresh buying. Gains at the close ranged from fractions to several points, with nearly all groups participating.

Specialty issues scored the widest advances. Utilities responded but slightly to the favorable report showing an increase in electric production for the week ended May 20. Oil shares were moderately higher, while the mining group continued its advance.

Trading expanded to 491,000 shares, compared with 403,000 yesterday.

TRADE TRENDS.

(By the Associated Press.)

Gasoline—Jobbers and distributors in the New York district are buying in larger volume than recently, according to trade reports. The market reflects a more favorable sentiment in connection with the administration's plans for easing the production situation.

Flour—Mill agents report that new buying is comparatively light in spite of further advances in quotations. It is said that ordering out of contracts has been only fair.

Cotton cloth—Business in coarse yarns is less active than a week ago, though some buyers are showing a disposition to cover more extensively on deferred shipments.

Copper—Prices are slightly easier in the export market following a curtailment in buying. Sales are said to have been made below 7 cents for the first time in several days. The domestic market appears firm at the 7-cent level.

Rayon—The advance in prices which the trade had been looking for will not materialize for the present, it is thought, in view of the action of one of the largest producers in opening its books for August business at current prices.

GRAIN VALUES RISE ON INFLATION TALK

Federal Commodity Policies Aid Price Advance; Other Grains Up.

Chicago, May 24 (A.P.).—Rapid new upturns of grain prices today resulted from inflation talk and from indications of determined efforts at Washington to hoist farm commodity values.

Reactions took place in the late dealings, however, and part of the gains were rubbed out, many traders turning to the selling side of wheat because of assertions in some quarters that sustained speculative demand was insufficient to warrant maintenance of extreme advances.

Notice was also taken of favorable weather for the new spring wheat crop and of much improved conditions for planting of corn.

Wheat closed nervous, 1½ to 3 cents above yesterday's finish; corn, unchanged to ⅝ to ¾ higher; oats, ⅛ off to ½ up, and provisions showing 10 to 15 cents gain.

In a general rush to buy early, wheat soon rose to 4½ cents above Monday's low point, with corn up about 3½ cents over the low of the same day.

This stage, though, was the maximum attained today, although the two leading grains continued to show broad activity until the final hour. Outside of profit taking, there was little pressure to sell during the greater part of the day.

Reports Aid Buyers.

Aside from actual steps taken toward credit inflation, buyers of wheat found stimulus in reports that conferences had been called by Secretary Wallace to put in operation methods of advancing commodity prices.

Gossip was also current that Ambassador Davis had obtained a tariff truce modification which would permit the Secretary of Agriculture to engage in agreements to curtail commodity production for the current crop year. Giving further encouragement for friends of higher prices was word from Geneva of a definite plan tentatively adopted for international action to deal with the world wheat surplus.

Corn and oats borrowed strength from wheat. At the day's top, corn came within one-half cent of the season's high price record. Rye temporarily outdid the record.

Provisions were responsive to grain strength.

EARLY COTTON RISE TRIMMED TO LOSS

July Closes at 8.61 With General Market Down 1 to 3 Points.

New York, May 24 (A.P.).—An early advance of about $1 a bale in cotton was followed by substantial reactions today.

The bulge met increase offerings which included some scattered Southern selling as well as profit-taking, and after selling up to 8.64, July contracts broke to 8.61 in the late trading and closed at that figure. The final tone of the market was barely steady at net declines of 1 to 3 points.

Initial prices were 10 to 15 points higher in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and Washington news which evidently encouraged inflationary sentiment and talk of possible acreage reduction measures.

Among Early Buyers.

Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the early buyers, and while there was sufficient hedging and realising to cause some irregularity, the advance extended to 9.09 for October and 9.24 for December or about 20 to 21 points net higher.

Buying was encouraged by the strength of wheat and stocks but increased offerings were encountered at the higher prices, while the demand tapered off somewhat during the afternoon, and prices broke some 22 to 28 points from the highs in the late trading.

The disposition to take profits on long cotton was increased by the day's weather news, which was considered fairly favorable over the greater part of the belt.

Trade Among Buyers.

Trade interests were among the buyers here during the day and there were reports of a good inquiry from mills for spot cotton during the morning.

There was talk of further selling against Red Cross cotton, but such offerings were not much in evidence. New Orleans and the South were sellers here during the day.

Liverpool cables reported trade and speculative buying in that market and a fair trade in cotton goods at Manchester. Exports today 16,870 making 7,061,666 so far this season. Port receipts, 11,264. U. S. port stocks, 4,011,092.

UTILITY ISSUE TOPIC OF PEERY AND DEAL

Woman's Suffrage and Dry Law Also in Spotlight at Clarendon Session.

Clarendon, Va., May 24 (A.P.).—The State power rate investigation today was thrust into the fore of the campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in speeches of two of the candidates—Joseph T. Deal and George C. Peery.

Deal and Peery raised their battle flags in northern Virginia for the first time at a luncheon given by the organized women voters of Arlington County. W. Worth Smith, a third candidate, whose brother, Howard W. Smith, represents this district in Congress, was invited but declined. He is on a speaking tour of southwestern Virginia.

Pointing out that until recently Peery was a member of the State Corporation Commission, which regulates intrastate utilities, Deal said the utility companies welcomed paying the cost of the electricity and gas rate investigation because, he said, it meant a delay in the rate adjustment.

Question of Assessments.

The value of the property of utility companies in Norfolk, his home city, he said, was assessed "at an exceedingly low rate," and that in some cases such assessments were one-half those against property of "ordinary citizens."

Protesting against any delay in connection with an adjustment of the utility rates, Deal said there would be "no trifling in connection with these matters" if he were elected governor.

"The corporation commission," he added, "will have to function as it was intended to function and as I believe it would function if they were elected by the people."

Peery answered later that it was impossible for the commission to effect a reduction without a judicial investigation and that if such were attempted "we would be faced with an injunction in the Federal courts."

If elected governor, he said, he would ask the General Assembly to give the corporation commission authority to make rate reductions during emergencies without the necessity of a full investigation such as the one started recently under commission authority.

Today's was the candidates' first joint appearance before a women's organization and Peery took occasion to bring up Deal's votes as a State senator against ratification by the General Assembly of the woman suffrage amendment. To permit an answer Peery yielded the last five minutes of his half hour to Deal.

Constitution Change Opposed.

Apparently unembarrassed, Deal answered he was opposed to amending the Federal Constitution for any purpose and voted against every amendment proposed while a member of the General Assembly and of Congress.

"Except for the prohibition repeal amendment," he said, "I doubt whether I would vote any amendment to the Constitution."

He said that if a majority of the people of Virginia wanted women suffrage in the State, he was for it, but that it could have been handled as a State matter.

In their speeches, the candidates skipped lightly from one to another of the campaign issues.

Both referred to Deal's recent statement "it took Bishop Cannon and Gov. Byrd to defeat me for Congress." Deal said he made no apology for any statement in connection with the campaign and that he referred to Byrd's opposition to him in the primaries.

Referring to Peery as an "organization candidate" Deal said there were "rumors abroad" that Peery's successor on the corporation commission—Thomas W. Oslin—is being groomed by the "organization for the gubernatorial race in 1937." Oslin is a former Speaker of the House of Delegates.

The speakers repeated their previously announced stands on the gasoline tax, prohibition and education.

First Lady to Visit Arlington Exhibits

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the honored guest of the District Federation of Women's Clubs at an exhibit and demonstration of farm women's activities at Sunward, home of Miss Florence E. Ward, Virginia Highlands, Arlington County, today. The demonstration will continue from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Some 50 farm women will be special guests of the federation, and will bring with them exhibits of their handicraft and garden products. Food, furnished by farm women, will be prepared before an open fireplace in the garden and served during the luncheon hour.

An out-of-door forum will be held in the afternoon, when farm women will discuss some of their activities which contribute not only to the family income but to the advantage of the city consumer able to purchase fresh fruits and vegetables, flowers, baked goods and handicrafts direct from the farm family.

Hyattsville Kidnap Case Is Continued

The case of Erick Muehle, German seaman, charged with attempted extortion and threat to kidnap the 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Esther Christiansen, University Park, Md., was continued until Friday after a hearing yesterday in the Hyattsville Police Court. Muehle was transferred from the Hyattsville lockup to the Marlboro Jail.

Thomas R. Wallace, of Ballston, Va., was fined $50 and costs for illegal possession and transportation of whisky. He was arrested recently in Beltsville, Md., by Prince Georges County Policeman W. E. Clifton.

John M. Todd, Edmunston, Md., arrested on a warrant charging non-support of his wife, Lucy Todd, and her two small children, was held for the grand jury on a $500 bond. Samuel Jackson, of Silver Hill, Md., was fined $75 and costs after pleading not guilty to a charge of illegal possession of whisky.

Police Will Place Wreaths.

Members of the Alexandria police department will place wreaths on the graves of the five members of the force who lost their lives in the service in the last few years, next Tuesday. They were Walker W. Campbell, Sergt. Charles R. McClary, Sergt. Elton B. Hummer, A. Perry Pierce and W. L. Lipscombe.

Cancer Treatment Dangers Told at Doctors' Hearing

Street and Ferris Held for Grand Jury in Woman's Death After Her Physician Husband Testifies About Remedy Applied.

Dr. H. R. Street and Dr. Sherwood Ferris yesterday were held for action of the Montgomery County grand jury at a preliminary hearing on charges of manslaughter in Montgomery County Police Court at Rockville, Md. Judge Donald A. DeLashmutt continued their bond of $1,500.

The two doctors were charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Cora L. Britton in a Baltimore hospital after having been treated by them for cancer after a coroner's inquest had found them "criminally responsible" for the death.

The physicians pleaded not guilty when they were arraigned. Capt. Joseph C. Cissel, chief counsel for the defendants, did not present any defense testimony as the facts in the case were not at issue. He did not place on the stand any of the large number of persons who had come to testify for the defense that they had been cured by the doctors.

The husband of Mrs. Britton, Dr. Roland L. Britton, prominent Mays Landing (N. J.) physician, said he had tried to persuade his wife to place herself in the care of physicians and surgeons of Atlantic City and Philadelphia, but in vain.

He said that his wife had complained for more than a year of a small lump on her breast, but that X-ray pictures made by Atlantic City physicians showed no definite condition indicating cancer. Dr. Britton said that Dr. Street decided Mrs. Britton had cancer after a surface investigation, and that his wife went to the home of Dr. Ferris in Chevy Chase, Md., to take the treatments. He said that the salve applied to the breast caused a large wound and that his wife steadily became worse until she was removed to South Baltimore General Hospital, where she died May 4.

The doctor said that zinc chloride had been known to the medical profession for 50 years as a treatment for cancer, but that it had been bitterly condemned as a "terrible corrosive and a poison that destroys, eats tissue, chars them and burns them" and that it eats everything within reach, even including bones, and is hard to control. Other doctors and chemists were placed on the stand to show the dangerous nature of the remedy.

La Follette Speaks At Kensington Fete

One of America's major difficulties is the lack of a frontier, which leaves no outlet for a new field of endeavor, Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, told a large gathering at the annual community celebration of Kensington, Md. The celebration was held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, the Parent-Teacher Association, the Woman's Community Association and the Women's Club of Kensington. W. I. Cleveland, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Mass production can not be successful without mass ability to consume, the senator said. He declared that the Governmental control of industry bill, if passed, will mark the end of an epoch and the beginning of a new one which can not be retraced once it is started.

Senator La Follette was introduced by Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland, who also spoke praise of the senator's father. Dr. J. W. Bird, president of the Montgomery County Social Service League; Mayor A. L. Geiger of Kensington, and Mrs. Wilson L. Townsend, also spoke.

Dr. Broschart Head Of Medical Society

Dr. Frank J. Broschart, of Gaithersburg, Md., was elected president of the Virginia, Maryland and District of Columbia Medical Society, at the meeting yesterday in the George Mason Hotel, Alexandria, with 75 physicians in attendance. Other officers are Dr. C. C. Tumbleson, Sandy Spring, Md., vice president; Dr. James A. Gannon, Washington, recording secretary; Dr. A. Magruder MacDonald, Washington, corresponding secretary; and Dr. Robert Scott Lamb, Washington, treasurer.

Papers were read by Dr. Oscar Hunter, Washington; Dr. William B. Herbst, Washington; Dr. Lyle Mason, Washington; Dr. Samuel B. Moore, Alexandria; Dr. William Thornwall Davis, Washington; and Dr. D. Percy Hickling, Washington.

The meeting closed with a luncheon at the George Mason Hotel.

Baltimore Girl To Present Colors

Annapolis, Md., May 24 (A.P.).—Miss Virginia C. Thompson, of Baltimore, was selected by Midshipman Ernest Lee Jahncke, jr., to present the colors to him at the full-dress parade of the June Week celebrations at the United States Naval Academy.

Jahncke is the commander of the Fourth Company, which today won the annual company competition from the other seven companies in the Academy Regiment. The commander of the winning company is given the honor of selecting the color girl for the traditional graduation week ceremonies.

Miss Thompson is the sister of Midshipman Raymond W. Thompson, jr., an honor student of the graduating class and captain of the swimming team. Jahncke is the son of Ernest Lee Jahncke, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Car Breaks Girl's Leg; Arlington Holds Driver

Edith Holt, 7 years old, daughter of William Holt, of Walkers Chapel, Arlington County, Va., suffered a fractured right leg and possible internal injuries late yesterday when struck by the automobile of A. W. Parrish, 316 North Columbus street, Alexandria, Va., on Glebe road near her home. She was taken to Georgetown Hospital.

Parrish is being held by Arlington County authorities for investigation.

Miss Haskell Married To Richard M. Egan.

The Army as well as society was prominently represented among the guests assembled at the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola yesterday morning for the marriage of Miss Mary Haskell, daughter of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William N. Haskell, of 1192 Park avenue, New York, to Mr. Richard Markey Egan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Egan, Brooklyn.

The Rev. Joseph Farrell, an uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony. A breakfast and reception was held at Sherry's.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Maj. Gen. Haskell, wore a gown of ivory colored satin, made on straight lines, with long sleeves and fitted bodice, finished with a cowl neck, over the long train, which was a continuation of the skirt, fell a veil of tulle bordered with old lace which has been brought from Russia by her father many years ago. She carried lilies of the valley and orchids.

The two matrons of honor were in sleeveless frocks of turquoise blue organdie. Pleated organdie ruffles that outlined the neck and gave the suggestion of sleeves and pleated ruffles also trimmed the bottom of the wide skirts. The bridesmaids were in frocks of the same model, but of yellow organdie, and all the attendants were leghorn hats trimmed with ribbon that matched their frocks. Their flowers were large loose arm bouquets of purple lilacs.

The church was decorated with masses of white dogwood and bridal wreath roses and tall cathedral candles. Mr. Egan and his bride sailed on an 18-day cruise through the Panama Canal to California, and upon their return they will make their home in New York City.

WITNESSES CALLED IN COBLENTZ TRIAL

16 Summoned to Appear at Hearing of Former Bank President.

Special to The Washington Post.

Frederick, Md., May 24.—Sixteen witnesses were summoned today for the trial of Emery L. Coblentz, president of the closed Central Trust Co., in circuit court Monday, on the first of three charges of receiving deposits when he knew the bank to be insolvent. It is expected that some of the evidence of witnesses who testified at the trial of Coblentz in Cumberland several months ago will be read.

At the trial, removed from Howard County, Coblentz was found guilty and sentenced to 18 months in the Maryland House of Correction. An appeal was taken and the court of appeals reversed the conviction on the ground that the indictment was faulty owing to the presence in the grand jury room of an attorney for the depositors of the bank.

This defect will not apply to the Frederick County indictment, which, in addition to three charges against Coblentz, the grand jury also returned an indictment against George W. Page, former bank examiner for Maryland, charging him with failing to perform his duties as a public officer. No time has been set for the Page trial.

ALEXANDRIA OFFERS CONFEDERATE HONOR

Gen. Warfield, Sole Survivor of '61, Leads Memorial Day Procession.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

Brig. Gen. Edgar Warfield, sole survivor of the 556 men of the Confederate forces who left Alexandria May 24, 1861, led the procession from Lee Camp Hall to the Confederate Monument at Prince and Washington streets, starting point of that day in 1861, and thence to the mound in Christ Churchyard after the exercises yesterday afternoon. The annual Confederate Memorial Day services were participated in by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Alexandria High School cadets and cadettes, the Citizens Band and the Alexandria Light Infantry.

The address at the monument on "The Confederate Soldier," was delivered by the Rev. Norris A. Linneweaver, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, and music was by a quartet composed of Mrs. Harrie White, Mrs. Jooseph Hoefft, Edwin Billheimer and Neal Parrish, with Mrs. George E. Warfield at the piano. Invocation was by the Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the Del Ray Methodist Episcopal Church South, and R. Samuel Luckett, commander of Robert E. Lee Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, presided over the program.

Gen. Warfield is the only survivor of the soldiers who left this city at the outbreak of the War Between the States but two other veterans were present yesterday, Alexandria Crawford Crook, now of Washington, who, while too young to go at the start, followed the Army as a water boy, and Joel Adams, of Hampton, a member of the Eighth Virginia Infantry, C. S. A., who made his home in Alexandria at one time.

The monument at Prince and Washington streets was decorated with flowers earlier in the day and, following a custom established the first year this memorial was erected, a bunch of lilies were laid at the feet of the bronze figure on the granite shaft. Flowers were also strewn on the mound in Christ Churchyard.

2 of Oldest Known Bible Manuscripts Are Displayed

One Significant Passage Found That Is Absent in Other Records of Gospel of St. Mark; Parchments Discovered in Egypt.

Two of the oldest known Bible manuscripts, which perhaps lay buried in the Egyptian Desert for more than 1,000 years, have just been placed on exhibition for the first time by the Freer Gallery of Art of the Smithsonian Institution.

The most important of these is a parchment manuscript of the four Gospels—the so-called Washington manuscript—which has a unique place among the source materials of Christianity.

It was purchased in 1906 by the late Charles L. Freer from an Arab dealer near Cairo. Its examination has led to the conclusion that it dates from the fourth or early fifth century and was the property of a monastery located near Gizeh.

The Gospel of St. Mark contains in this manuscript one significant passage which does not appear elsewhere in Gospel manuscripts. The additional material is found in the sixteenth and last chapter.

The Disciples are talking to the risen Savior and the text is translated as follows:

"And they answered, saying: This age of unrighteousness and unbelief is under the power of Satan which does not permit things which are made impure by the evil spirits to comprehend the truth of God and His power. For this reason reveal thy righteousness now,' they said to Christ and Christ replied to them:

"The limit of the years of the power of Satan has been fulfilled, but other terrible things are near at hand; and I was delivered unto death on behalf of those who sinned in order that they may return to the truth and sin no more, to the end that they may inherit the spiritual and incorruptible glory of righteousness which is in heaven. But go ye unto all the world and preach the Gospel."

Besides the manuscript of the four Gospels, there have also been placed on exhibition a Greek manuscript of the Book of Deuteronomy and Joshua, written on parchment and dating from the fourth or fifth century.

CATHEDRAL TO MARK CHRIST'S ASCENSION

Services to Include Sending Forth of Three Church Army Troubadours.

Special services in observance of Ascension Day will be held in Washington Cathedral today, including festival evensong in the great choir at 4 p. m., when Bishop James E. Freeman will bless and send forth three Church Army Troubadours—Capt. C. L. Conder, Capt. F. W. Brownell and Cadet Arnold Charnock. These three young laymen will begin their evangelistic work in Gettysburg, Pa., and visit communities in Maryland and the mountain regions of North Carolina later in the summer.

Cyrus Dolph, president of the Church Army in Canada; Capt. B. Frank Mountford, head of the Church Army in the United States, and 50 commissioned members of the organization will be represented in the congregation. This group is holding a conference at the College of Preachers this week, with daily services, lectures and periods of private devotion.

Canon Raymond L. Wolven, chaplain to the Bishop of Washington, will deliver the sermon at the celebration of the Holy Communion in the cathedral at 10:30 a. m., and there will be an early celebration of the Holy Communion in the Bethlehem Chapel at 7:30 a. m.

The Church Army group will hold an outdoor service of witness at Franklin Park, Thirteenth and K streets, at noon, to which the public is cordially invited.

One of our employes heard this bit of over-the-fence complaining one day last week. She quickly got to the ear of the complainant, had a heart-to-heart chat, and there will be no more complaints about food spoilage in that particular neighborhood, because the lady bought herself an

KUHEL'S HOMER SPOILS BRIDGES' NO-HIT GAME

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

LOST, strayed or stolen: One batting punch. Finder please return the same to the Washington Ball Club and ease the mind of the distraught C. C. Griffith.

The Nats skidded into third place yesterday and a blindfolded man with astigmatism would have no difficulty in finding the reason. It's simple. The Nats have merely scattered one full-sized day's work at bat among their last four games. Thus far this week they have the unimposing total of 15 hits to their credit.

Walter Miller held them to two hits Sunday, they made nine hits off three Detroit pitchers on Monday, lapsed into a three-hit coma on Tuesday against Fred Marberry and all but expired hitless against Tom Bridges yesterday when the slim young Detroiter set them back on their heels with one lonesome bingle.

Led League Last Sunday.

The Nats have not only been helpless at bat against good pitching of late, but they've been pitiful. Which comes as a shock, inasmuch as this is the same club that was revealed in last Sunday's averages as the No. 1 group in team batting.

Out West, the Nats showed fine hitting form, which rescued them from the uniformly poor pitching that was served up by the Nats' staff. But the boys aren't hitting at home with the same vigor. Kuhel and Schulte are the only regulars hitting above .300. Manush, Goslin and Cronin, who are supposed to be the warp and woof of the Nats' punch, have a combined average of approximately .270. Not so good.

Earlier in the season the Nats encountered little trouble from such as Grove, Gomez and Walberg, and out West they pounded Bridges from the box in three innings. But at home they've been seized with the hitting cramps.

RUNS, HITS AND ERRORS.

Bridges deserved a one-hit game, at least, the way he worked for it . . . he was throwing 'em in there at the finish with just as much smoke as at the start. . . his expression didn't change even when Kuhel bounced that homer over the right field wall. . . but Dave Harris still has a 1.000 batting average against him. . . Dave socked him for a double in the pinch at Detroit and walked yesterday. . . there was no doubt about the qualities of Kuhel's homer. . . it was ticketed "home run" from the moment it left the bat and was still in ascent when it cleared the fence. . . after Rice's liner to Rogell in the first inning, the Nats didn't hit another ball solidly against Bridges with the exception of Kuhel's clout. . . they were popping up and hitting the ball into the ground. . . Monte Weaver has one consolation. . . he went the route. . . a rarity for Washington pitchers in these parlous times. . . Sammy West, who has been sojourning here with a badly battered face since being struck by a thrown ball at Boston, hopes to get back in the Browns' line-up before the series ends. . . Mrs. West fainted when she gazed upon Sammy's black-and-blue countenance. . . Mrs. Roy Spencer was struck in the face by a foul ball in the stands at Pittsburgh several years ago, fainting from the blow. . . she fainted again when she saw herself in a mirror.

Allison vs. Cattaruzza and Vines-Zappa Matches Today.

Lott and Van Ryn to Team Tomorrow in Doubles.

By DAVE HERMAN.

AMERICA today will pin its hopes for a flying start in the intersone Davis Cup tennis matches with Argentina at Chevy Chase on Ellsworth Vines, brilliant young Pasadena (Calif.) player, and his versatile singles companion, Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex.

Vines, American and Wimbledon champion, and conqueror of Henri Cochet, noted French star, and Allison, No. 2 ranking player, were selected by the United States Davis Cup committee to carry the burden in the singles battle which will begin this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock and be resumed again on Saturday afternoon.

The luck of the draw, made yesterday from a silver bowl by French Ambassador Andre de Laboulaye, found the gangling Vines arrayed against the keen-eyed South American captain, Adriano Zappa, in the opening singles match.

Allison Will Meet Cattaruzza.

In the second singles of the day, Capt. Allison will clash with Hector Cataruzza, who is playing in his first North American Davis Cup matches.

Both Zappa, who opposed the Yankees here two years ago, and Cattaruzza, are dentists, and they are both in their late twenties.

Vines and Allison will reverse opponents in the final day of singles play on Saturday. Tomorrow George Lott, of Chicago, despite a slight finger injury, will team with Johnny Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, in the doubles against a team that probably will consist of Capt. Zappa and Adelmar Echeverria, a husky 24-year-old student from the University of Buenos Aires.

Americans Heavy Favorites.

The American stars have been installed as the top-heavy favorites to win, although some stubborn opposition is expected from the flashy Argentinians. Zappa, small and fast, plays a fine all-around game, and is particularly strong from the back court. Cataruzzo is a terrific volleyer, as he already has displayed marked ability in his thirteen days' of practice here.

Vines, Allison and Van Ryn went through a brief practice yesterday, and demonstrated that they were in the pink of condition. The Californian, famous for his stirring comebacks, volleyed with bullet-like speed and accuracy, and smashed the ball true to its objective.

The Yankee netters are fresh from a sweeping triumph over Canada, achieved last week in Montreal. In the matches there Vines and Allison smashed their way to impressive victories in the singles, and Lott and Ryn were equally as brilliant in their doubles conquests.

Difficulty in becoming acclimated to the livelier ball (it is much livelier than the one employed in Argentina) was expressed yesterday by the three invaders.

Lawrence A. Baker, member of the Davis Cup committee, yesterday stated that he had wired Keith Gledhill, of California, to join Vines in an exhibition doubles match tomorrow at Chevy Chase. Gledhill will sail with Vines on June 10 to play as his doubles partner in several European tournaments.

An international group was on hand when the draw was made. In addition to Ambassador de Laboulaye, there were in attendance Ambassador Felipe Espil, of Argentina, and Robert Woods Bliss, who recently resigned as Ambassador to Argentina. Dr. Leo S. Rowe, Pan-American Union director, had the group as guests at luncheon.

Seats have been erected to accommodate as many as 2,500 spectators. There has been a brisk demand for tickets, and several thousand are expected to witness the famous American stars and their Argentine opponents in action today, tomorrow and Saturday.

A'S WIN, 7-4; PARK HIT BY LIGHTNING

Bolt Starts Fire as Game With Browns Ends in Sixth.

PHILADELPHIA, May 24 (A.P.).—Lightning combined with thunder and rain to break up the Philadelphia Athletics-St. Louis Browns ball game today with the A's victors, 7 to 4, and then crashed into the right field foul line structure and started a fire in the stand.

The game ended abruptly in the middle of the sixth after a 5-run fifth-inning rally gave the A's their winning runs, marking a clean sweep in the three-game series with the Browns and boosting the Philadelphia winning streak to six straight.

Lightning Splinters Runway.

Fans had scampered for cover from the right field stand when the downpour stopped the contest. A few minutes later, a bolt of lightning struck the corrugated iron runway which serves as a ramp to the fence on which the foul line is painted, and splintered it. The flames began almost immediately, but were almost as quickly extinguished.

One Athletic batter was out in the sixth when the downpour started, and before the end of the half-hour grace, after time was called, more than an inch of water covered the infield.

CUB VICTORY SIXTH FOR WARNEKE

CHICAGO, May 24 (A.P.).—Lonnie Warneke and Gabby Hartnett, the Chicago Cub battery, took full charge of defeating Philadelphia, 5 to 2, today, for the National League champions' only victory in the three-game series.

Warneke, although he worked the last three innings with a wrenched ankle, held the Phillies to eight scattered hits, and contributed a home run and a double to the ten-hit attack on Ed Holley.

The tall right-hander, whose sixth pitching victory of the season it was, scored the Cubs' first run with his homer in the third. After the Phillies had tied it up in the fifth on Hal Lee's triple and a single by Spud Davis, Hartnett came up with two men on in the sixth and provided the necessary scoring with his eighth homer of the season.

While taking his turn at the plate in the sixth, with Bill Jurges on first base, Warneke's spikes caught as he swung. He went down and time was called while he received first aid for a wrenched left ankle. He insisted on continuing, and on the next pitch whaled the ball so far into left center second and scoring Jurges ahead of he had no difficulty in limping to

League Head Warns Nats; Browns Open Here Today

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

IT is just possible that Will Harridge, president of the American League, deserves an assist in Tom Bridges' one-hit pitching against the Nats yesterday, for much of the fight was taken out of Manager Joe Cronin and his charges when their attention was called to a telegram received from Mr. Harridge shortly before game time. This wire, received by Owner Clark Griffith, warned the Nats to confine their battling to baseball and intimated that the league head held them, in general, and Heinie Manush in particular, at fault for much of the "rough stuff" shown in games in which they have figured during the last two seasons.

In Tuesday's game with the Tigers, Manush and Hank Goldberg had words and threatened each other, the Nats accused Carl Fisher of trying to bean Goose Goslin early in the previous game and Fred Marberry of doing the same thing when Manush was at bat in the ninth on Tuesday. Besides, there were some other muttered threats between the members of the rival teams and Umpire in Chief Dineen made a report of the Tuesday's doing to league headquarters.

So before yesterday's contest, the Nats were warned at their regular meeting that Mr. Harridge did not like the way they were acting and that they must act like "perfect gentlemen" in all future games or else be likely to find themselves in trouble.

And it is no secret that the Nats are literally burning up. In view of Mr. Harridge's telegram, they feel that they have two strikes already called on them in event of any arguments, accidental spiking, or the like, coming up in future games and that they will be blamed whether or not the other fellow starts the trouble.

Those St. Louis Browns, who, no matter how far down they are in the race, seem to be able to make trouble for the Nationals, show up here this afternoon for the first of a three-game series. "Preacher" Wally Hebert, the young southpaw who defeated the Yankees his last start, is expected to do the alien pitching this afternoon, while "Gen." Alvin Crowder will oppose him.

With so many players who have worn the livery of both clubs in action, it will seem like old home week. Crowder, Goslin, Stewart and Manush have done their stuff with the Browns in days gone by, while Hadley, Reynolds, Coffman and West are graduates from the local team. West, recovering from an injury here, is not expected to be ready to participate in the series, although he has been making rapid progress the last two or three days.

Third Baseman Ossie Bluge still is kept on the bench and likely will be out for a couple of days more.

LO! BRIDGES

Rice Is Safe on Error and Harris Walks; Fail to Advance.

Weaver Gives 10 Hits; Greenberg, Owen Lead Attack.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH, (Sports Editor of The Post).

A NO-HIT game exploded in the hopeful face of young Tom Bridges yesterday and disappeared into Southern skies on the wings of a pitch that Joe Kuhel whacked over the right field fence in the eighth inning for the Nats' only run and only hit of the afternoon.

On the very threshold of his entry into the hall of fame reserved for pitchers, young Bridges found the door slammed rudely against his dead-pan countenance by Kuhel's clout after 7 1-3 innings of hitless ball that saw only one Washingtonian reach base. Bridges lost his no-hit bid, but Detroit won the ball game, 3 to 1.

It's getting to be a habit with Bridges, this one-hit stuff, that has thrice deprived him of a niche in pitchers' Valhalla. Last year he had progressed as far as two outs in the ninth with a perfect performance when Dave Harris inserted a pinch single to cheat him of the honor. Earlier this season Sam West bobbed up with the Browns' lone hit off Bridges in a game at St. Louis.

Bridges Strikes Out Eight.

He struck out eight yesterday, slipping his third strike over on five of his victims. He had a fast curve that put him ahead of the batters all day and the only man to reach base on him in the first seven innings was Sam Rice, who dumped a tricky bunt with plenty of backspin in front of the pitcher's box in the fourth that Bridges fumbled.

Bridges slipped called third strikes past Cronin and Kuhel in the fifth and then retired the side on strikeouts in the sixth. Even when Kuhel ruined his no-hit bid in the eighth there was no change in the serious mien of the young University of Tennessee graduate.

Dave Harris, his nemesis of 1932, pinch-hit in the ninth and was passed when Bridges found difficulty in handling the wet ball and thus the third and last Nat to reach base during the game was on, but Bridges found no difficulty in slipping the third strike past Rice a moment later and Manush guaranteed him at least a one-hit game by grounding to Greenberg.

Weaver Has Edge as to Diplomas.

It was a duel of college graduates. Monte Weaver, carrying degrees from both Emory and Henry and the University of Virginia into the game against Bridges' lone diploma from Tennessee U., was raked by the Tigers for two runs in the second inning that, developments proved, were sufficient to win and give Detroit the edge in the three-game series.

Hank Greenberg, the batting foe of the series, launched the onslaught against Weaver with a single through Travis and scored when Owen tripled

Dodgers Bow, 6-5, To Pirates in 10th

Pittsburgh, May 24 (A.P.).—The Pittsburgh Pirates, after coming from behind three times to tie the score, but over the winning run in the tenth inning, to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6 to 5, today.

Adam Comorosky, batting for Chagnon, drove out a single that sent Tony Piet, who had doubled, across the plate with the deciding run. Lopes and Jordan accounted for all of the Dodgers' runs, the former with a home run in the second with two mates on base and the latter with singles in the sixth and eighth innings. Vaughan also hit a homer for the Pirates.

Swift and Shaute were the starting pitchers, but neither finished.

TRAFFIC JUDGE BEATS STAR PLATERS IN BOWIE FEATURE

$169 and $99 Prices Paid In Upsets

Owen Martinez and Hut Take First, Second Races.

Everfair, Prometheus, Lodorus, Ladino Are Winners.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

RUNNING through a hailstorm and over a track that resembled a canal, Traffic Judge, owned by R. P. Watts, this city, slopped his way home ahead of a field which included five other high-class platers at Bowie yesterday. Beaten a length and a half came Open Hearth, from the Labrot interests, with Idealist third and four lengths away.

Idealist hopped to the front when Starter Milton sent them away, with Traffic Judge and Open Hearth close up. On the turn into the back stretch, Open Hearth had moved into second position, while Jimmy Smith gave Traffic Judge a breather. Idealist was still winging away on top as the field reached the far turn, but Open Hearth went to the front and Smith began to work on Traffic Judge in earnest.

The ultimate winner went to the outside and came around Open Hearth and was soon in front never to be headed. Smith was easing up during the final furlong.

Owen Martinez Pays $169 Mutuel.

Traffic Judge was the second favorite to win up to this point on a program that brought two sets of boxcar figures. In the first race, Owen Martinez paid $169 and in the second Hut rewarded with a $99.80 pay-off. Ladino paid $25.80 in the fourth, after the rain came up.

Owen Martinez hasn't been able to get out of his own way heretofore, but found enough speed in the opener to defeat the favored Labrot entry and pay a $169 mutuel. At that, the E. K. Bryson colt just lasted to win a nose decision from The Bailiff, one of the Labrot pair, which was backed down to 60 cents on the dollar. Third money went to the second half of the entry, Campagna.

Just to show that the long price in the first race was not an accident, The Hut stepped 6 furlongs in front of some 3-year-old maidens to pay a $99.80 mutuel. Big Toney was second at a $21.80 pay-off, and the more fashionable Too Late was third. A tip bounded in from the pine-covered hills, bounced across the track, and spattered against the grandstand and clubhouse, with the result that so-called wise money was piled in on one Dolly. The horse, however, broke in a tangle, was last going down the backstretch, and had trouble keeping in the race.

Lodorus, Favorite, Winner.

The prices came down to earth in the third race when Lodorus, backed into favoritism, ran a smashing race to defeat a field of eight juveniles. If Ida, prominent from the start, was second, ahead of Chatterdoo. Thus the favorite players got a break. The pay-off was at a $5 mutuel. It was a pretty race, with Lodorus pulled back off the pace set by If Ida, High and Mighty showed a burst of speed that carried him to the front on the far turn, but If Ida soon regained the lead. In the stretch Steffen turned Lodorus loose and the combination cut down If Ida to win by a length and a half.

The elements contrived to bring in another long shot in the fourth race. O. Blank, who has a habit of claiming horses and winning with them, sent Ladino to the post for the first time under his colors and saw Haines ride to victory and a $25.80 mutuel. Now, Ladino is a superior mudder. Although the clouds were low and black, there was no rain until the horses approached the barrier. During the wait at the post the water arrived in buckets full and Ladino romped in the going. In keeping with the long-shot parade, Uncle Donald, second, paid $29. Ilchester was third.

R. P. Watts made it a double for the day when Everfair defeated a cheap field. Prometheus came from far back to take the final.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: BOWIE RACE TRACK.

The Labrot and Bradley Stables are running a close race for the 1933 beaten favorite championship. I don't believe this track will try a late spring meeting next year. Bowie is missing its usual crack at the fresh racing money in this section and also is missing the tons of comeback money that came in when the track virtually had the national field to itself early in April. Now with courses in all sections operating, Bowie is out of the limelight. Two winners for the boy yesterday. BILL.

FIRST RACE—JUBAL ran a pair of beautiful races up state and has recent trials to indicate that he is still sharp. HOOLIGAN, a Whitney representative, has lightning works to recommend him. I like them in the order listed. LIBERTY OAK for the show.

SECOND RACE—SUBLEVADO closed like an express train in his first effort of the season. This veteran seems to be back in top form. Giving him a chance to beat ULUNIU, one that stands out as a class proposition. WISE MONEY is the sleeper here.

THIRD RACE—INSTIGATOR is consistent and honest and deserves a top ranking among these. I believe that ALLANAH will take the second money. CHIC BOY for the show. THE GEN is last on the list and will be dangerous if he sees action.

FOURTH RACE—Going to give ST. NICK a chance to run up to some of his fast trials. Said to be on edge and ready to win at the first asking. MECAT picks up weight but should be second. LAKITE for the show end.

FIFTH RACE—CUTIE FACE will appreciate the off track and should lead these to the wire. KAKAPO drops down the class ladder and is the one to fear. SNOBFUL moves up on the slower course and figures to give the top pair a battle.

SIXTH RACE—STONE MARTIN has been carefully prepared for this kind of a race. Paired in the entries with AEGIS but I like STONE MARTIN. DUNFERN is here for a killing but may miss. PERVID for the show end.

SEVENTH RACE—MAINSHEET gets my call in this but will have to beat BUB MCFARLAND. CHERITON may miss Workman.

BOWIE, MARYLAND, CHART, MAY 24, 1933.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—OWEN MARTINEZ, $169.00, $24.40, $6.80; THE BAILIFF (S. W. Labrot entry), $2.20, $2.20; CAMPAGNA (S. W. Labrot entry), $2.20.

OWEN MARTINEZ, away forwardly and kept close to the leaders, came through on the inside of INDIANOLE when entering the home stretch, responded to stiff pressure and then wore THE BAILIFF down in the final strides. THE BAILIFF, forced to race on the outside and handling his weight well, shook off INDIANOLE to assume a brief lead and then held on stoutly. CAMPAGNA dropped back when leaving the back stretch, but came again during the final drive. DONTARA could not improve his position under stout handling. GLISK lacked speed away from the barrier. INDIANOLE was rushed off his feet to take early command and then flattened out badly when put to a drive. ELEANOR BLUE went wide and raced green.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For maiden 3-year-olds. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:06. Off at 3:13. Winner, L. E. Keiffer's ch. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—HUT, $99.80, $38.20, $17.80; BIG TONEY, $21.80, $13.20; TOO LATE, $4.40.

HUT, slow to get settled in her stride, weaved her way into a contending position in the final half mile, came through on the inside of the faltering leaders when straightened into the home stretch, and finished fast to win going away. BIG TONEY, a keen factor for the entire trip, raced ETERNAL MAID into defeat, but weakened nearing the finish. TOO LATE, worked his way up gradually, and then finished strong. TOO GAL on the outside all the way, gained determinedly during the stretch run. ETERNAL MAID set a good early pace, but weakened when reaching the home stretch. STARRY could not reach the leaders. SHENVALEE had early speed. GOLLY broke in a tangle and lacked speed. ECCO stopped.

THIRD RACE—Five furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For 2-year-olds. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:45. Off at 3:50½. Winner, O. Blank's b. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—LODORUS, $5.00, $3.20, $2.60; IF IDA, $4.40, $3.60; CHATTERDOO, $6.60.

LODORUS, outrun after the initial furlong, responded strongly when placed to punishment, came determinedly during the stretch run and wearing the leaders down inside the final furlong, was gradually drawing clear. IF IDA, stoutly ridden the entire trip, had a lot taken out of her racing HIGH AND MIGHTY into defeat, but continued smartly until the end. CHATTERDOO followed close to the leaders early, but finished resolutely approaching the finish. ORETOLADE saved ground at the stretch turn but failed to respond when placed to punishment. TOYTIME was squeezed back leaving the back stretch. HIGH AND MIGHTY had high speed in the first half mile.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—LADINO, $25.80, $15.00, $5.80; UNCLE DONALD, $29.00, $13.80; ILCHESTER, $5.20.

LADINO, outrun in the first five furlongs, swung to the outside of the leaders when entering the home stretch, closed resolutely and took command in the last sixteenth mile. UNCLE DONALD, going with a rush, came with a strong bid on the outside in pursuit of ENGLISH KNIGHT in the early racing, held on willing during the final drive. ENGLISH KNIGHT displayed high early speed to move into a safe lead, but he tired fast during the last quarter mile. BELOW COST saved ground all the way. PORTER'S DREAM raced far back in the first five furlongs. She closed a good gap, but can do better.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. The Maj. J. C. Higgins. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:48. Off at 4:46. Two-dollar mutuels paid—TRAFFIC JUDGE, $5.60, $3.00, $2.60; OPEN HEARTH, $4.60, $3.60; IDEALIST, $3.80.

TRAFFIC JUDGE, taken under steadying restraint while racing close to the leaders, went to the inside when put to a drive, and going to the front in the closing furlong, was under pressure at the end. OPEN HEARTH, going in his best form and close up early, shook off IDEALIST, but could not resist the winner's effort. IDEALIST, hurried to the front and saving ground, weakened in the late stages. HOMEWORK, eased back after the break and allowed to drop far out of contention, closed a big gap. NED O, poorly handled and badly messed about, was blocked when attempting to move through on the inside midway of the back stretch, and was then knocked to his knees when trying to get up on the inside again leaving the back stretch. BANDERLOG lacked speed for the entire trip.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:15. Off at 5:19. Winner, R. P. Watts' ch. f. (3), by Fair Play—Lisette. Trained by J. L. Walls. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:50 3-5, 1:17, 1:43 4-5, 1:51.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—EVERFAIR, $13.80, $7.40, $5.60; GRAND HOPES, $9.40, $6.00; FLUFFY LEE, $6.40.

EVERFAIR, sent into a prominent position and saving ground all the way, wore AELLA down when approaching the home stretch, withstood a drive gamely and outstayed GRAND HOPES. Latter dropped back midway of the turn and then came again under punishment to finish stoutly. FLUFFY LEE, badly handled and messed about badly in the first six furlongs after losing a great deal of ground at the first turn, swung wide entering the home stretch, then finished courageously. She would have been a stronger factor with more intelligent handling. RUNNING PLAY reached contention but tired. GRAMARYE raced poorly. AELLA stopped badly.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:45. Off at 5:49½. Winner, Mrs. W. R. Two-dollar mutuels paid—PROMETHEUS, $4.20, $4.40, $4.80; DARK AYR, $18.60, $10.60; REDIVIVUS, $20.00.

PROMETHEUS, ridden in confident fashion, was allowed to remain far out of contention while under stiff restraint, moved up fast in the last three furlongs, and coming through on the inside of the leaders at the stretch turn, drew out easily. DARK AYR, going in his best form, raced REDIVIVUS into submission, but was no match for the winner. REDIVIVUS had good speed while being rated and held on well after losing command. SPANISH went evenly all the way. AXENBY was done after five furlongs. RUANE showed a very dull effort.

Barry Faces Belanger Tuesday

Good Card Arranged for Portner's Arena by Frankie Mann.

AN OLD favorite, Donald (Red) Barry, who is to meet Tony Galento, of Newark, on the Schmeling-Baer card at Yankee Stadium on June 8, returns to familiar scenes next Tuesday night at Portner's Arena to battle Charley Belanger, Canadian light-heavyweight champion, in the feature eight-rounder of the weekly ratic card.

Barry, who is hailed as one of the most promising young heavyweights in the game, comes back determined to prove that his defeat at the hands of Les Kennedy a few months ago is no obstacle in his climb to national honors.

Whenever Barry's backers and handlers look back on his loss to Kennedy, they always point to the District boxer's decisive victory over Arthur Huttick, rugged German-American light-heavyweight, who gave Kennedy a terrific lacing two months ago at Portner's.

Barry Is Reported Improved.

Barry, who is managed and handled by Mushky Jackson, well known New York trainer, is reported to be a vastly improved boxer. The red-haired fighter recently beat Unknown Winston in Holyoke, and is training feverishly at Stillman's gymnasium in preparation for the match with Belanger.

This may be Barry's last appearance in this vicinity in some time, since his manager plans to take him on a barnstorming tour that will find him boxing in various European towns.

Belanger has been in the light-heavyweight spotlight for a number of years. He has twice beaten Lou Scozza, conqueror of Maxie Rosenbloom; knocked out Jimmy Slattery and decisioned Jack McCarty, George Manley, Joe Sekyra, Billy Jones, Leo Lomski and numerous other topnotch fighters in his class.

A good supporting card has been arranged by Matchmaker Frankie Mann. In the eight-round semifinal, Herman Weiner, Baltimore heavyweight, will meet Bob Tow, big Birmingham battler, who is a full-fledged bus driver. Cary Wright will face Harry Kersey in a six-rounder, while Tommy Horn, of Baltimore, will take on Young Guinzone, Filipino fighter, in a four-rounder. Barefoot Green, Fredericksburg sensation, returns to the ring against an opponent yet to be named.

Reds Hold to Lead To Defeat Giants

Cincinnati, May 24 (A.P.).—Getting away to a three-run lead off George Uhle in the early innings, the Cincinnati Reds today defeated the New York Giants, 3 to 1, behind the steady pitching of Bob Smith.

The Reds scored one run in the first inning on John Moore's triple and Hafey's sharp single to right. A single and a double, together with three successive walks, produced two more runs in the third and sent Uhle to the showers.

That was all the Reds scored, but it was enough, with Smith keeping the Giants' seven blows well scattered except in the seventh, when singles by Mancuso and Davis, coupled with Adams' fumble of Manager Terry's grounder, gave the Giants their only run.

MID-ATLANTIC PROS DRAW STAR COMPANY IN U. S. OPEN

Bob Barnett, Gann Among First Off

Shorey to Play With Gamber, Michigan Star.

Ginther, of Newark, Will Tee Off With Gil Cunningham.

THE five Middle Atlantic pros who qualified for the National open to be played at the North Shore Golf Club, Glen View, Ill., on June 8 and 9, are paired with outstanding golfers, according to the pairings and starting times released last night by the United States Golf Association.

Bob Barnett, red-haired Chevy Chase pro, paired with Red Gann, long-hitting Chattanooga golfer, gets off to an unusually early start. They are to begin the grind at 8:35 in the morning and resume play at 11:45 the next day.

Barnett and Gann are topped in starting time only by Frank Walsh, of Morton Grove, Ill., and Mortie Dutra, brother of the famous P. G. A. professional, who get the honor of teeing off first at 8:30.

Mel Shorey Faces Gamber.

Mel Shorey, diminutive East Potomac tutor, who tied with Barnett; Gilbert Cunningham, Burning Tree assistant, and Ralph Beach, of Suburban, for top honors with 144 in the divisional trials at Manor, will play with C. W. Gamber, Michigan pro, at 9:20 and 12:35.

Cunningham and Edward Ginther, of Newark, Del., will tee off at 2:40 and 11:30.

Beach, pro at the Suburban Country Club, is paired with Tom Creavy, of Albany, N. Y., former P. G. A. titleholder, at 9:50 and 1, while Hyatt, the veteran Carolinian, whose 147 gave him fifth place in the trials, tours the rugged layout in company with Herman Barron, crack Port Chester (N. Y.) pro, at 11:35 and 2:45.

There are 151 contestants in the famous classic that will find Gene Sarazen, stocky Italian shotmaker, defending the crown he won in such spectacular fashion last year at Fresh Meadow. Sarazen is paired with Wiffy Cox, Brooklyn pro, at 10 and 1:10.

Horton Smith, winner of the National Capital open at Kenwood, plays with Francis Scheider, of Dallas, Tex., at 9:30 and 12:40.

NATS' ONLY HIT OFF BRIDGES IS HOMER

Owen made a general nuisance of himself all afternoon, doubling to right in the seventh for the second of his three hits that led to the Tigers' third run. After two were out, Bridges, himself, bounced a clean single into right to score Owen. The Tigers made some more motions in the eighth against Weaver which came to naught when Stone was caught at the plate on Greenberg's bounce to Travis, shortly after Weaver had picked Walker off first base.

Nats Not Hopelessly Beaten.

Even in the face of Bridges' super pitching the Nats were not hopelessly beaten. They were quickly subdued in the fourth, after Rice reached first on Bridges' error, when Greenberg started and finished a double play on Goslin's hot shot, but after Kuhel had narrowed the score to 3-1, Cronin sent Harris in to hit for Weaver in the ninth.

Harris didn't get a good ball from Bridges and walked, but the rally died abornin' when Rice and Manush failed to advance him. Bridges strode off the hill with his one-hit game for a well-deserved shower.

GUDE HEADS COMMITTEE.

Granville Gude, noted amateur oarsman, yesterday was named chairman of the entertainment committee in charge of special features in connection with the Congressional baseball game at Griffith Stadium, Saturday, June 10. In announcing the appointment of Mr. Gude, Joseph F. Tumulty and Edward F. Colladay, cochairman of the citizens' committee, stated that he and his committee would take charge of furnishing special entertainment at the game.

Central Netmen Win From G. U. Frosh, 4-3

Central High's tennis team nosed out Georgetown University freshmen, 4 to 3, yesterday, winning three singles and one doubles match.

Yeomans, Root and Harrard captured the singles matches for Central.

Central, conqueror of Western and Tech, meets Roosevelt High at Rock Creek this afternoon.

Results:

SINGLES—Jacobs (G. U.), defeated Crabill, 6—3, 6—3; Yeomans (C.), defeated Echenrode, 3—6, 6—3, 6—4; Lao (G. U.), defeated Rosenberg, 6—2, 6—3; Root (C.), defeated Wolf, 6—0, 6—0; Harrad (C.), defeated Pansel, 6—4, 8—6.

DOUBLES—Jacobs-Echenrode (G. U.), defeated Crabill-Yeomans, 6—3, 3—6, 7—5; Rosenberg-Harrad (C.), defeated Connolly-Shebare, 2—6, 6—4, 6—4.

Columbia Women Defeated at Golf

Baltimore, Md., May 24.—Although a Middle Atlantic champion was in its line-up, the Columbia Country Club, of Washington, fell in a team match before the Elkridge Hunt Club today, 15½ to 8½, by the Nassau system.

Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes was the sectional crown holder and she defeated Mrs. Boyd Morrow, Maryland State and Gibson Island title holder, 2½ to ½. But the match was exceedingly close, Mrs. Morrow having an 89 medal score and Mrs. Haynes 90. Both were out in 45 and Mrs. Haynes was 1 up at the turn. Going to the seventeenth, Mrs. Morrow was 1 up. Her approaches, however, on both the seventeenth and eighteenth lost her these holes to give Mrs. Haynes the match.

Another interesting contest was the one in which Mrs. D. C. Wharton Smith, Elkridge, was down at the turn to Mrs. J. R. De Sarges, but the match was all even going to the eighteenth, which Mrs. Smith won five strokes to six. Line-up:

Elkridge—Mrs. F. B. Morrow, 1½; Mrs. W. C. Peterson, 2½; Mrs. W. R. Hurst, jr., ½; Mrs. F. B. Mower, 3; Miss Edith McHenry, 1; Mrs. D. C. W. Smith, 2; Mrs. C. Boyce, Mrs. G. T. Havens, 3.

Columbia—Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, 2½; Mrs. J. W. Bellar, 1½; Mrs. M. C. Quintey, 2½; Mrs. N. Little, 0; Mrs. K. Cornwell, 2; Mrs. J. R. De Sarges, 1; Mrs. C. K. Slater, 0; Mrs. R. Stabler, 0.

JOE SAVOLDI WINS.

New York, May 25 (A.P.).—"Jumping Joe" Savoldi, 202, of Three Oaks, Mich., tossed Paul Boesch, 202, of New York, with a body hold in 23:45 of the main bout of the weekly wrestling show at Ridgwood Grove tonight.

CROWDER TO FACE BROWNS IN OPENER

stands in left to drag down Fox's looper in the third.

Greenberg, the big Detroit first-sacker, reminds of Dale Alexander. He can hit, but he can not field. His five safeties in the three games here drove in five runs and figured in the making of several others.

Umpire Kolls made three decisions at first on Hayworth in the fifth. The visiting catcher hit a grounder to Cronin, whose throw to Kuhel was high. The runner was first called out, then called safe, and then called out. Being in a majority, the "outs" finally had it.

In the fifth, with the count three and two, Cronin could not get his bat out of the way of what would have been a fourth ball. Then he watched a third strike whistle over the plate for his second straight strike-out.

Fox coaxed the first pass of the game, getting it from Weaver with two gone in the seventh.

In the home half of the "lucky" frame, Dave Harris ceremoniously brought three bats from the locker-room and dumped them on the pile in front of the dugout. It was his pinch-single in the ninth last season that robbed Bridges of a no-hit game and he simply was serving warning. He was finally called on in the ninth and Bridges walked him. It was the only walk Bridges gave.

Fans were so discouraged at the natives' failure to hit that they considered the Nats in a rally when Bridges' first two offerings to Cronin in the eighth were balls. But the excitement died down when the next two deliveries were strikes.

Stone had his first chance afield when he took Travis' looper to end the eighth. Goslin, in right for the Nats, had none, but he was kept busy at times chasing the ball on alien hits.

Rippy Meets Downey for Golf Title

Bowers, Brooks, Connelly, Marks Are Defeated.

CLAUDE RIPPY, 19-year-old Shelby (N. C.) player, will battle the veteran, John Downey, at 10:30 o'clock this morning for the East Potomac spring golf championship.

This was determined yesterday at the public links course, when Rippy, the medalist, and his sturdy adversary in the finals, eliminated their second round and semifinals opponents, but not without a struggle.

Rippy bowled over Johnny Connelly, diminutive Rock Creek open titleholder, in his morning match, 4 and 3, after holding a 2 up lead at the turn. In the afternoon the lanky Tarheel defeated Duncan Brooks, Bob Lewis' conqueror, by 4 and 3. Rippy had Brooks three down going to the tenth.

Downey Beats Marks By 1 Up.

Downey, who met with unexpectedly strong opposition in his opening match, had a much tougher time downing his opponents than did Rippy. Bob Marks carried Downey to the eighteenth green, and the latter eked out a 1 up victory. Opposing Harold Bowers, Downey triumphed by the same count, although Bowers laid him six stymies. Bowers went to the semifinals by beating Ralph Bennie, also by 1 up.

Most of the second round and semifinals matches that were played in the other flights were hotly contested. H. R. Allan entered the finals by beating A. Oliveri, 5 and 3, in the second flight.

Results of matches:

FIRST FLIGHT.

Second round—Claude Rippy beat John Connelly, 4 and 3; Duncan Brooks beat Bob Lewis, 1 up, 19 holes; Harold Bowers beat Ralph Bennie, 1 up; John Downey beat Robert Marks, 1 up.
Semifinals—Rippy beat Brooks, 4 and 3; Downey beat Bowers, 1 up.

SECOND FLIGHT.

Second round—C. B. Ficco beat Frank Beavers, 1 up; P. J. Kosak beat Pat Axtel, 1 up; H. R. Allan beat Joe Kicker, 1 up; A. Oliveri beat D. K. Bent, 3 and 2.
Semifinals—Allan beat Oliveri, 5 and 3.

THIRD FLIGHT.

Second round—A. S. French beat R. McCann, 4 and 3; Eddie Ford beat S. C. Wimsatt, 2 and 1; Arthur Wilson beat Louis Macrina, 7 and 6; Wesley Jameson beat Donald Carruthers, 1 up.

FOURTH FLIGHT.

Second round—H. B. Swarthout beat H. L. Radcliffe, 2 and 1; R. Cross beat P. B Patterson, 1 up; E. M. Bean beat P. J. Mueller, 1 up; O. Holland beat Gorman Phillips, 3 and 2.
Semifinals—Bean beat Holland, 3 and 2.

FIFTH FLIGHT.

Second round—F. R. Chamison beat W. Eaton, 2 and 1; F. B. Phillips beat Glenn Dorsey, 6 and 5; Harry Fry, bye.

HARE WINS SHAH CUP.

Ben Hare, of the Lafayette Team, won the play-off from 37 other bowlers for the Shah Cup last night at Convention Hall. He shot 103, 132, 150—385, and had a 3-pin handicap for 388.

Leo Speer, of Barristers, was the runner-up with 111, 124, 115—350—12—362.

F. Purdy, of New Jerusalem, was third with 132, 115, 97—344—12—356.

TWO BOYS DROWNED AT WAR COLLEGE AS RESCUER IS DISABLED

Long but Futile Effort Is Made to Revive Sons of Army Sergeants.

Just as the sunset gun boomed at the Army War College yesterday, rescue squad workers gave up their attempt to revive Donald Tudor, 11, and his cousin, Archie Turner, 8, both drowned in the Potomac.

The boys, whose fathers are sergeants at the War College, lost their lives despite the strenuous efforts of Sergt. William Hummell, of the Army Band, to get them from the water.

They were playing on the dock when the Turner boy fell into the water. His cousin jumped in to try to save him while a third boy, Paul Gibson, son of Lieut. Col. P. W. Gibson, ran screaming for help.

Hummell heard the cries, he said, and ran to the dock. He threw a life-preserver to the pair, struggling in each other's grasp about 20 feet from the dock, and then ran down steps leading to the water to swim out to them.

Rescuer Is Disabled.

He fell into the water, striking his head on the side of the dock and was dazed. By this time the children had disappeared. Sergt. Hummell was unable to swim due to the blow on his head and his cries for help brought Corpl. Mahlon F. Lepperd, who dived in and pulled him out.

By this time calls had been made for the police and the rescue squad. About 20 minutes after the children went down, their bodies were recovered and resuscitation work with oxygen begun.

The firemen worked on the bodies for two hours, but could not revive the spark of life. The children were pronounced dead by the staff surgeon, Maj. Edgar F. Haynes, and the bodies removed to the Morgue. It is expected that the coroner will issue a certificate of accidental death.

One Boy Good Swimmer.

The Tudor boy was an excellent swimmer. Apparently he was unable to cope with the struggles of the younger boy.

Sergt. John Tudor and Sergt. James Turner, the fathers, were not at the post when the accident happened. Sergt. Turner was recently transferred here from Honolulu. Sergt. Tudor is a technical sergeant at headquarters here.

Officials at the post said that an informal investigation would be made into the circumstances of the deaths. According to the rules, they said, children under 14 were not allowed on the dock.

The dock is patrolled every 30 minutes, and it is thought that the children came to the dock between the rounds of the guard, who has several other points to patrol.

Boy Is Drowned in Pit; Potomac Claims Another

George Manley, 10, colored, 1244 Fifth street northwest, was drowned late yesterday in the clay pit of the Hudson Brick Co. on Bladensburg road, where he was swimming. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Gallinger Hospital.

James Mathews, 12, colored, 1002 New Jersey avenue southeast, drowned yesterday in the Potomac River at the foot of L street southwest. He dived into the river from the bank and never came up. The body was recovered by harbor police and taken to the District morgue.

Phone Company Property Divided

The Public Utilities Commission's engineering staff has almost completed the job of separating the interstate and intrastate property of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., it was said yesterday, and the commission's long-awaited reply to the telephone company in the pending rate litigation probably will be filed late next month.

Meanwhile, the commission, along with a number of State commissions, will be given another hearing on requests for changes in telephone account classifications before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The hearing is scheduled for June 14.

The commission ordered a 10 per cent telephone rate cut last fall, following a prolonged hearing, but the order was held up by an injunction issued by the District Supreme Court. The telephone company is under bond, however, to make refunds to all customers if it ultimately loses its appeal.

Auto Breaks Boy's Leg.

Francis Reagan, 12, 605 Eighth street northeast, suffered a fracture of his right leg yesterday when struck by the automobile of James T. Loveless, 9 Ninth street northeast, on Ninth street, between H and I streets northeast. He was treated at Casualty Hospital. Witnesses said the boy stepped from behind a parked car.

WAGE CUT CARRIED TO HOUSE MEMBERS

Alleged Arbitrary Action of Subcontractor on Buildings Brings Out Protests.

Protesting alleged arbitrary action of a plastering subcontractor on the Postoffice Department Building and the new Agriculture Department extension units, Charles F. O'Brien, of Clarendon, Va., a member of the Journeymen Plasterers Union, yesterday filed complaints with members of the House.

The subcontractor was charged by Mr. O'Brien with posting a notice that wage scales would be $1.25 an hour, after accepting a contract with an understanding that plasterers would be paid $1.75 an hour.

The union officials said the $1.75 scale was prescribed by the District Commissioners under the Bacon-Davis act. He charged the reduction was made without permission either of the Treasury Department or the Department of Labor, adding that the saving would mean additional profits for the contractor, without benefiting the Government.

Fight With Police Lands Jack Dempsey in Jail

Jack Dempsey was locked up at the First Precinct station last night on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was picked up on Missouri avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets northwest, where he is alleged to have exhibited fighting proclivities with a liquor bottle. When taken into custody, however, he tried to prove to the two arresting policemen that he could also use his fists.

He gave his age as 21, but said he had no fixed address. He weighs only 130 pounds, as compared to the size of the former holder of the heavyweight championship.

Dirty Theft

Thieves Hauling Away Top Soil of "Poor Gardens" at War College.

When they classify thieves in accordance with their thefts, those connected with this theft undoubtedly are going to be either near the top or the tail of the list, depending on how the classification is arranged.

Fourth Precinct police received a report yesterday that some one was stealing the top soil from the "poor gardens" near the War College. The complaint was made by an official of the Associated Charities, which sponsors the gardens for needy persons without garden space.

29 Zone Changes To Be Considered

Twenty-nine applications for changes in zoning will be considered at a public hearing by the District Zoning Commission June 7, at 10 a. m. in the District Building boardroom. Two minor amendments relating to automobile repair shops and parking lots are also scheduled for consideration.

Among the applications is a proposal to construct a group of one-story shops, with front parking space, on the east side of Connecticut avenue between Morrison and McKinley streets northwest. The grouping would be similar to that on Connecticut avenue near Ordway street.

The zoning on the opposite side of Connecticut avenue for several blocks is commercial, but the east side is residential.

School Board Convenes Today on Budget Slash

The Board of Education will meet as a committee of the whole at 3 p. m. today to give further consideration to the plan for operating the teacher and librarian force on a budget reduction of $90,000.

The plan to be studied will be the report drawn up and agreed upon at a closed meeting last week. A significant feature of the proposed policy will be the retention of all regular teachers in good standing despite the reduced appropriation.

THOUSANDS FLOCK TO ARLINGTON FIRE

Salvage Dump Spectacularly Burns; Five Companies Win Stiff Battle.

Flames leaped high in the air and billows of black smoke filled the sky in the gathering darkness across the Potomac River late yesterday in a spectacular fire seen plainly from downtown Washington. Sharps said it was the Arlington County dump, and right they were. But that did not deter thousands of motorists who flocked to Military road, near Arlington National Cemetery, and stayed to gaze until a sudden downpour of rain drove them to cover.

While five volunteer fire companies battled for several hours in an attempt to keep the raging flames from spreading, Washingtonians and Virginians flocked from miles around to witness the spectacular fire. Traffic was at a standstill on Memorial Bridge and into Virginia along Military road. Hundreds lined river drives through Potomac Park to watch the flames.

The dump, located a stone's throw from the famous Lee Mansion, burns only on rare occasions. The majority of dumped goods are salvaged and sold. Only a small portion is fired.

Watchman Sounds Alarm.

Haywood Robinson, colored night watchman, first discovered a small blaze at one end of the grounds. While he fought to subdue it, the main storage section ignited in some unknown manner. He immediately summoned fire apparatus.

The flames, meanwhile, gained great headway and before firemen arrived were raging beyond control.

Several minutes were consumed in laying hose and obtaining water. Hardly were lines brought into action when one of the hose burst under pressure. Members of the Arlington Volunteer Fire Department sounded a second alarm, bringing engines from East Arlington, Jefferson District, Clarendon and Ballston.

Fanned by High Wind.

As darkness fell the flames could be seen for miles distant. Fanned by a high wind, it was feared for a time that flying sparks might reach the Lee Mansion. The sudden rain, however, aided firemen in bringing the blaze under control.

Operated by J. H. Houser, the dump is used as a storage ground for refuse saved to sell. It was estimated that more than 20,000 old automobile tires constituted part of the collection.

The loss, unestimated late last night, is covered by insurance, it was learned.

ORATOR AT BAPTISTS' SESSION FORECASTS NEW ERA PREACHING

Young Minister Bespeaks Radio and Television Uses for Religion.

Preaching will be revolutionized by science within the next ten years "and mighty messages from half a dozen flaming prophets of God will be reproduced by sight and sound at every crossroad in America" the Rev. Bernard C. Clausen, fiery young Baptist minister of Syracuse, N. Y., predicted in the convention sermon last night at the Northern Baptist Convention.

Speaking from the stage of the Washington Auditorium to an audience of 5,000, Dr. Clausen took exception to criticism of President Roosevelt on the matter of beer.

"I tell you my friends," he declared, "when you say the President is wrong on beer and right on peace you do so at your own risk. President Roosevelt has flung across the world a blazing slogan and if it is not accepted on the lips of every Christian church it is to their shame."

Urges Air Waves' Use.

This assertion drew considerable applause—as much as when the Southern Baptist Convention went on record condemning the President for his work on behalf of the restoration of beer.

Dr. Clausen, a slender figure with bushy reddish hair, a musician in physique, paved a new road for Baptists to follow. He advocated the utilization of radio and television in the preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Pointing with mordant contempt to the commercial uses put to writings across the sky by airplanes and the broadcasting of the human voice from the air, he described the aid these facilities could give in the interest of religion.

He revealed in a brief interview after his address that his uppermost interest at present is the realization of a central church group to conduct a vast broadcasting business of church work.

Denunciation of War.

Dr. Clausen took a satiric jab at nonbelievers in science during his address when he moved away from the microphone and declared that those in the audience who would voice the most vociferous objections because they could not hear are those who have no use for science.

The sermon was marked by a bitter denunciation of war. First making it clear that he knows something about war, having served on a submarine chaser during the World War, Dr. Clausen declared that if an ultimatum went forth from the convention excusing every Baptist man from serving in war there would never be another war in America.

"No waving of flags or blowing of trumpets will stir me from the determination never to go to war again," he declared.

The evening service was opened with prayer by the Rev. J. F. Vichert, of Rochester, N. Y. A Scripture passage was read by the Rev. Charles L. Seasholes, of Dayton, Ohio. Prayer and benediction were by the Rev. William G. Spencer.

Roosevelt Leader Needed.

In the keynote address of the convention yesterday morning Dr. C. Oscar Johnson, president of the Northern Baptist Convention, declared that the church needs a leader like President Roosevelt. He said that "the time has come for Baptists to attack—on their knees."

Speaking at the afternoon session, the Rev. Daniel F. Rittenhouse, of Pasadena, Calif., advised pastors to speak the language of the people. It is necessary for preachers to have some message on the social questions of the day, he declared.

The Rev. L. B. Moseley, of Madison, Wis., also speaking in the afternoon, asserted that "we need church people who will do what Christ said, and not merely sing songs in his honor."

Other speakers at the afternoon session included the Rev. Hugh A. Heath, of Boston, and Miss Ethel Ryan, of the Hopi missions, Arizona.

Suspect in $60,000 Theft Still Missing

The whereabouts of K. Jack Hines, who is wanted in Los Angeles, Calif., on alleged theft charges, and who was not to be found yesterday when W. D. Seay, an investigator from California, came here Tuesday to question him, remained unknown to Police Court authorities.

Hines, who was originally held under a $15,000 bond, was eventually released on a $2,000 bond by Judge Gus A. Schuldt, in Police Court. He is said to have informed his bondsman that he was planning last week to go back to California.

In the meantime, Mr. Seay is still here, awaiting word from California as to Hines' whereabouts. He plans to stay here until definite word is sent him that the man is there or is not there. Hines is wanted on several charges of "grand theft," involving an amount approximating $60,000.

MAN FREE IN KILLING OF CAFE PROPRIETOR

Alexopolous Is Acquitted by Jury After 45 Minutes of Deliberation.

Nick Alexopolous, 47, yesterday was acquitted of the charge of slaying Christos Haralampidis, elderly lunchroom proprietor, of 511 Ninth street northwest.

A jury in the court of Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue deliberated 45 minutes before returning a verdict that freed Alexopolous. By order of Justice O'Donoghue, the man was freed from custody. He had been in close confinement in the District jail for several months.

Through his attorneys, James A. O'Shea, Alfred Goldstein and Soterios Nicholson, Alexopolous took the stand in his own defense and denied that he had slain Haralampidis in a second floor room at the Ninth street address four years ago.

The slain man was found dead. He had been beaten to death with a brick, and Alexopolous was suspected by police because of his absence from the city. However, he accounted for his movements on the night of the slaying, and explained his absence from Washington by detailing his movements throughout the Eastern part of the country in search of work.

Knights Templar Hold Rites Tonight

Divine services for the observance of Ascension Day will be held under auspices of the Grand Commandery of the District Knights Templar tonight at 8 o'clock at the National City Christian Church.

The six commanderies will assemble at 7 p. m. at Thirteenth and H streets northwest and at 7:30 p. m. will march—in full regalia—to the Church.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Harvey H. Harmon, pastor of the church. The Rev. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives, will offer a prayer. An organ and choral program of sacred music will be heard.

Stockdale to Give Wilde Reading.

Dr. Allen A. Stockdale, pastor of the First Congregational Church, will give a dramatic reading of Oscar Wilde's "The Happy Prince," set to music by Liza Lehmann, tomorrow evening at a meeting of the Takoma Park Women's Club. Paul DeLong Gable will accompany him.

G. O. P. HOLDOVERS NOW IN CONTROL OF EMPLOYE SLASHING

President's Delay in Naming Democrats Is Causing Much Discontent.

By J. BERNARD McDONNELL.

Delay of President Roosevelt in naming good and deserving Democrats to various executive posts has resulted in the setting up of a series of Republican-controlled committees to exercise the wielding of the ax.

The President has not been unmindful of the situation. He is anxious to get around to selecting District Commissioners, district attorney and the filling of other District posts, but the significance of the effect of the delay is to be found in every Government department and bureau, including the very important Civil Service Commission.

It may be that the refusal of the administration to let patronage matters disturb its course will react in an unexpected direction. Under the various economy porposals various committees have been set up to work out reductions in expenses and personnel.

Republicans Protected.

Except for the newly-appointed heads, who haven't had time to learn what it is all about, the various departments and bureaus still are being run by Republicans and Hooverites. When they come to cutting down or making changes it is reasonable to suppose they are going to take care of their own and there is beginning to grow up in Washington a swelling cry against the Presidential delay.

None criticize the President for his delay in taking up such questions, but many question his wisdom in launching reorganizations of departments and bureaus under a regime primarily Republican, despite the Democratic persuasion of the nominal heads of the divisions.

There isn't any criticism of the delay in action except that there is immediate pressure for reorganization. It is contended that the reorganization must, under existing circumstances, be carried out by committees predominantly Republican or Hooverite. Democrats are beginning to insist the President should name his men or women, all down the line, or else hold up reorganization and personnel reduction plans until such time as he has had time to name his candidates.

The uncertainty and the battle is not limited to jobs in Washington. It extends throughout the country. Mrs. Roosevelt's tea at the White House for members of the inaugural committee, on Tuesday, did not heal any local political wounds, and the local situation remains just about the same.

Cry Against Helvering.

The battle against Guy T. Helvering, nominated as commissioner of internal revenue, has given the administration a sample of what it is up against because of some its unexpected and unpopular appointments. Delay in the Senate action on the Helvering appointment may result in the naming of collectors and other subordinates pending final settlement of the scrap.

The District political organizations never have claimed the job of public printer as a part of their patronage, but there has been a warm battle about that post. Various candidates have thought they have been assured of the job but it was said, in a high quarters yesterday, that none of those whose names have been mentioned publicly would be selected for Mr. Carter's post.

Returning to the Internal Revenue Bureau, it is believed that J. Enos Ray, of nearby Maryland, may be chosen as collector of the port of Baltimore. Mr. Ray, who lives in Prince Georges County, just beyond the District line, is the quiet, polite, but apparently effective chairman of the State Democratic organization.

The President has promised action soon of local appointments, but local leaders have urged upon him no need for haste. It is expected, however, the President will act within a week.

William Keller Gone; Wife Asks Police Hunt

Mrs. Edna Keller, 3704 Macomb street northwest, yesterday appealed to the press and police to help her find her husband, William, who she said disappeared from home Sunday without a word of explanation and has not been seen since.

Mrs. Keller said her husband was gone when she and their two daughters, Margaret, 10, and Eleanor, 8, returned home from Sunday school. She could offer no reason for his disappearance. She said he had a regular job paying him $45 a week and had no particular financial worries.

$102 Robbery of Store Charged in Indictment

Hampton Chappel Reese was indicted yesterday on a charge of housebreaking and larceny in connection with the theft of $102 from the Cannon Shoe Co., May 5.

The man is accused of having obtained the keys to the office and the combination on the safe from Michiffe Quinby, manager of the store, with whom he lived. The police information was that the keys and combination were taken from Quinby's personal effects.

Estate of $332,000 Is Probated Here

Mrs. Mary T. Pflaster, owner of a large stock farm in Loudoun County, Va., left an estate valued at $332,000, it was disclosed in the District Supreme Court yesterday when her will was filed for probate. Mrs. Pflaster died May 3.

The will directed Attorney Michael M. Doyle to hold the entire estate in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Pflaster's husband, George F. Pflaster. Upon his death the estate goes to a sister-in-law, Alice Martin Turner, of St. Louis, Mo.

Personal property valued at $8,300 and real estate valued at $324,000 made up the estate. Included in the real estate are the premises at 1314 F street, 1900 K street, both northwest; land near Bluemont, Va., and the stock farm on which there are 30 blooded horses.
